Mrs. Earl Jarvis Jr.,
Mrs. Claude Barkley
Killed Near Adrian

Funeral arrangements for two area women who were killed in a late morning automobile accident near Adrian were not complete Saturday evening.

Mrs. Claude L. Barkley, 60, wife of the retired Kent County clerk, and Mrs. Earl (Constance) Jarvis Jr., 36, whose husband is a Central High School teacher, were on their way to a bridge tournament in Toledo, Ohio, when the mishap occurred Saturday, relatives said.

Mrs. Barkley, a native of Collin County, Tex., married Barkley in 1933 after the death of his first wife. They moved to Ionia in 1960 after his retirement as clerk and lived in a house trailer there which they also used for extensive travelling through the United States.

MRS. CLAUDE BARKLEY

Mrs. Jarvis, of 326 Hobart St. SE, was a lifelong resident of Grand Rapids. She graduated from Creston High School and attended Western Michigan University. She was a member of Central Reformed Church.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, David and John, at home; her parents, Stanley Albers, former teacher at Grand Rapids Junior College, and Mrs. Albers, of Grand Rapids, and a sister, Mrs. William (Faith) Martin of Miami, Fla.

Mrs. (Laura Hunter) Barkley had lived here since 1953. She was a member of Fountain Street Church and of the Women's City Club.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude B. Hunter; two sisters, Mrs. Mrs. Herbert Hargis and Mrs. B. L. Goggans, all of Austin, Tex., except her husband; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Edward Philipson of Sunbury, Pa., and a stepson, Capt. George F. Barkley of the U.S. Army in Honolulu, Hawaii. Her body is at Metcalf Funeral Home but arrangements are incomplete.

Services for Mrs. Jarvis will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Jonkhoff Funeral Home. The place of burial has not been determined.

My Dear Cousin Laura:-

Cousin Ruth

was mistaken about me writing a history of The Saxe. I only wrote a chapter to be put into a history of Possinment families in Williamson Co who had land grants.

For this I traced my Father's line back to Samuel and Alice. I couldn't find the date of Zachariah's birth or death. I was told, that more than likely the records were destroyed when the Richmond Court House was burned. This Zachariah Saxe son of William, lived in Americo Co Va

Dear Sir,
I have the pleasure to inform you that the same has been forwarded to you and so killed in the Revolutionary war. His wife died soon after his death leaving seven children. They were Elizabeth, James, Alexander, John, William, Zachariah & Solie. These children were brought to North Carolina by their maternal Grandmother.

One went to Texas in early life one to Georgia, two William & James coming to Tenn. You see from this there are two generations with the name of Zachariah which makes it somewhat confusing. The last Zachariah was Mrs. The Hances husband.

The Snydes Sneyds, Sneyd, & Sneyde are all one & the same family. They came from England and are descendants of Alfred the Great King of England. This information was got from Mr Worley Genealogist of London England.

The Hardeman & Sweets when traced back several generations come from the same line. I was tracing back through the Sneed-Perkins line and some one else traced back through the Hardeman line both came from the same family of Perkins.

Thomas Hardeman was born in Albionville Co Va - 1-6-1758 and died in Davidson Co Tenn - 6-14-1833.

He lived near Nashville during the Revolution. Constant Hardeman was the son of Thomas Hardeman & Mary Perkins. Susan Perkins Hardeman was the daughter of Constant Hardeman & Sallie Maorr. Susan Perkins Hardeman was the wife of Constantine Perkins

Sand and the mother of Robert Leah Sand.

I have quite a bit of material on The Partners line also some dots you might like to get. I will be glad to help you all I can this summer. I shall look forward to seeing you later on.

Sincerely yours

(Mrs J. H.) Mary Sand Jones

P.S. You might bring your chart
There are some names we will change.

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in several lines and appears to be a list or a set of notes. The handwriting is cursive and somewhat faded.

On 21st chert you sent me your mention that the William Sneed who came to Va. in 1635- was the father of Zachariah - and that he was living in Henrico co in 1740 - Have you stopped to think how old that would make William Sneed be in Eng and who came to Va in 1635-.

I have always thought there is a missing link there. I believe the father of Zachariah was named William - Our tradition says as at any rate - but I do not think he could have been this William who came over in 1635- No Sneed genealogists that I have ever compared notes with has had positive proof of his line back to emigrant Samuel, wife, Alice and son William - Have you this proof?

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of functions of a complex variable. The problem is to find the function $f(z)$ which is analytic in the interior of the unit circle and which takes the value 1 at the point $z = 1$. The problem is solved by the method of conformal mapping. The function $f(z)$ is found to be $f(z) = \frac{1+z}{2}$.
The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed study of the properties of the function $f(z)$. It is shown that the function is analytic in the interior of the unit circle and that it takes the value 1 at the point $z = 1$. The function is also shown to be the only function which satisfies these conditions. The third part of the paper is devoted to a study of the behavior of the function $f(z)$ as z approaches the boundary of the unit circle. It is shown that the function approaches the value 1 as z approaches the point $z = 1$ from the interior of the unit circle. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a study of the behavior of the function $f(z)$ as z approaches the boundary of the unit circle from the exterior. It is shown that the function approaches the value 0 as z approaches the point $z = 1$ from the exterior of the unit circle.

In the list of children of Zachariah and you did not list Robert. I am sure James had a brother Robert because I have a letter written by Robert in Hawaii co. to his brother James who was then living in Williams son co.
Tenn.

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in approximately 10 vertical columns, with some characters appearing to be in a non-Latin script, possibly Chinese or Japanese. The ink is faint and the overall quality is poor due to the age and condition of the document.

Dear Miss Hunter:-

I am more than glad to have your letter for I am always glad to find another Sneed genealogist. I am the grand-daughter of William Senevole Sneed, who was a younger brother of Constantine Perkin Sneed.

From the article you send me
I think you must have about the same material that I have.

I have never heard the story of our Sneeds having fought in the British Army in the Revolution. There is a tradition that Zachariah Sneed was a Revolutionary soldier but I have never been able to establish that.

I have some old family letters one or two written by James Sneed.

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is illegible due to extreme blurriness and fading. It appears to be organized into several lines, possibly forming a list or a series of entries.

one written by Leamstantine Sneed, to his father James Sneed who was your g-g-grand father and several others. These letters are great treasures. One was written by Robert Sneed to his brother James, who had moved to Tenn in 1800. The wife of James Sneed was named Bathine H. Perkins - not Leatharine as stated on your chart. I have a few stray items and household store matters from Bathine's account book. I mean the original.

Another correction or at least so my records state Martha Nurse's father was David. I have a good deal of Perkins letters more on the Perkins than on the Sneeds. I am not a Hardeman descendant the following chart comprises what notes have come into my hands on the Hardemans.

Harden { different spelling
 Hardling { same name
 I have never been sure which is correct.

I suppose you know that Lemington Perkins Breed was married in 1812.

I am always glad to share whatever I have with other genealogists. And glad to add to my information whenever I can - so I should like very much to add the descendants of

Robert Seelye Inuit to my data.

When summer comes you had better plan a trip to Kentucky, look over all my notes, read all the old family letters which I have - these never fail to give me a thrill, and I am sure will interest you.

I presume you have seen "The Emeralds of Hiramman" by Mrs. Hatcher who was a Kirpian Inuit. I had some correspondence with Mrs. Hatcher when she was gathering is not always accurate yet it is a valuable book. A name genealogy which I have never seen has been published.

I have the "Dungles Register" which has in it some Darbys records and some Greaves which I have not been able to connect with any line.

Your chart mentions that Jacobus and Martha Naves Good had four other children besides James.

Dear Relative:

My husband has forwarded your letter of Nov. 23rd and I said, if the Lord lets me live until Sunday, I will write Miss Hunter and also send her the Compton Family Linage which I prepared for you last summer.

I regret to have seemed so slow about sending this historic material. I am very busy, yes, but never-the-less, I have been negligent, I fear.

I wrote you, I believe, that Dr. G. - and I were having our vacation in June? We went for 14 days to Galveston Texas, then when we returned, I had some treatments at the hospital in Pittsburg for 3 days and on July 5th returned to Tapeka to my work and I had been going at a terrific pace ever since - going idly right for my work requires me to travel all over our state. I am the traveling instructor for the Government Project Historical Records survey, which is compiling material ^{on} ~~the~~ county government, to be used as a reference text book in schools and colleges.

I am sending you all the information I have been able to get together on our Compton family history. I cannot get farther back than Basil Compton and his wife Sarah Winn. Really, I do not mean it when I say, I cannot get farther, because, I can and I will do so, later on when I have the time. I have already a lot of information on the Winn family generally, but I cannot tie our Sarah to the line ^{on} which I have information, as yet.

I also will, some day, get Basil Compton's early history. I am hurrying to get to work on our Genealogy, but must make hay while the sun shines" on my wedding this federal position.

Another line I will clear for us, later on is on Elizabeth Morris who married, Henry Fry our ancestor. How did you enjoy the Fry story. Miss Hunter? I am proud

! If, because it is so complete, I have done years and years of work on the Fry and Compton history. The direct line thru my ancestor Isaac Compton's marriage, (and of which you are not a part) is very complete and I became a member of the W. A. R. thru Barbara Smith who married Isaac Compton. We are eligible to be members of the D. A. R. also thru the Fry line which I have sent to you. Would complete Elizabeth Morris' line, we will be eligible. As be members of the Colonial Dames. Have information, then send it us into it, of our earliest ancestor thru Elizabeth Morris, being a Justice of the Peace in a Virginia County. (I forget the name, I have it, tho) and who helped to organize this county in the early 1600's.

I regret to have your information that Cousin John Fry was ill last summer. I do hope he recovered - I wish I could get at a letter to him. He is a wonderfully fine man. I visited in their home Thanksgiving Day, 1930.
 Yes, this cousin in Nashville Tenn. Mrs.

Ben Zellner wrote me most excitedly, about the Francisco Fry in Texas, who had died leaving a large unclaimed estate, she wanted me to and her whatever information I had on the Frys - or Francis Fry - but I didn't have him in our line.

I am glad you visited Corwin Henry and Willie Morgan - how I wish I could do so -

Please write me, here at Throop Hotel, and let me hear you have received the Compton History, safely. I trust your own family history is written correctly. If I could know you all better, I would gladly have added a more personal tone to it and included information specific to your family. You can exchange upon the history, I am certain. My ancestor was Isaac Compton brother of your "Ever Compton. You will find my history very complete in the Fry Genealogy.

I make your statement that you will supply some of the Fry history, "when you have time for the Morgans - Ah, yes, too, are a busy person. I am hurrying now, because I have a lot of work to check over from various countries - I usually work all day Sunday is I am here - frequently I don't my work's break on Sunday. Write me soon. Dear Cousin Hunter:-

As you see, it sometimes takes a long time to get around to answering genealogical letters. Not from lack of interest but time.

I thank you for clipping or rather copy ancient Sueds in Tennessee history. It has several errors in it. When I sent copy they were to send proofs to me but failed to do so. Hence errors in copy which I submitted. I am sorry of this because even minor errors often discredit a whole work.

I thank you for list of descendants of Robert Seales Sued which I have added to my record.

Yes, I know Cousin Mary Sued Jones. Some years ago I sent her the material which she sent you, asking her if she could verify it. I never heard from her in regard to it. Part of it agrees with family tradition and is perhaps correct. came up if not. These notes were sent me by Miss Nina Snead of St Louis who was at the time working on a Sneed genealogy. I have lost sight of her so do not know if she has ever come across any other items that would help clear up the situation.

Bible records plus family tradition cause me to think the following correct. William Sneed had son Zachariah Sneed who mid Martha Nance -
They had James, Alexander, John, Zachariah and William. Elizabeth and probably another daughter Dallis.

James Sneed mid ^{in Pa} Bethsabee Perkins moved to Tenn.

William moved to Tenn. married

1st Mary deLoche - 2nd Betsey Kichin - 3rd

Harris - all three in Tenn.

John Sneed went to Georgia -

Alexander remained in Pa. - One tradition says Zachariah also came to Tenn - This not certain. His descendants not known to me.

There is record of deed in Chatham Pittsylvania county April - 16 - 1798.

me to believe that they were one

And it was about this time that James and William came to Tenn.

I have several letters written by your great grandfather Lemastance Bewhins Sneed. In one to his brother Joseph - at that time in Alabama
he tells of "another promising daughter. He have named her she wrote down a few notes on a slip of paper. I now have this slip. You of course will know that she was your great-see me and my all letters and records when you take your vacation this summer. You will enjoy them immensely.

Miss Moody, a Sneed descendant who lives in Austin, Texas, sent me a list of Sneeds in Texas who held title to land from government parcels to 1869. I have not connected Miss Moody's list with ours. She is a descendant of John Sneed, at one time private secretary to Thomas Jefferson, a Rev. Soldier who in later life came to Seward County Kentucky. Some descendants went on to Missouri then into Texas as early as 1848.

Minnie Sneed of Thaco, Texas, granddaughter of Jas. St. Sneed (son of James and Bethannia) and Mary deLoche Sneed (daughter of William Sneed and Mary deLoche) says in the family bible which she has, is stated that Zachariah Sneed married Martha Vance - date not given -

There are many intermarriages among the Sneeds. This a decided Perkins trait. So many intermarriages make it difficult to keep records correct - or to trace a line -

Colonytan Terrace has published a list of "Fingerville Hills to 1800" - In the list 29 Smeels appears - I note William Smeel in 1744. See Northampton County -

William Smeel will 1783 Henrico County - Jacobus Smeel inventory 1783

Pittsylvania County -

I think the above Jacobus quite probably our ancestor.

And it is possible that the above
William (will 1743) was father of Jacobus. A William Smeel was living in Henrico County in 1740.
He could be the one nothing will in 1743 - and as he was old enough to have business in court in 1740 he could be father of Jacobus and grand father of James b. 1764.
A copy of Wm Smeel's will might throw light on the question. Family tradition says James b. 1764 - was the eldest child of his father and that William was youngest.

You will probably enjoy the enclosed clipping - Please return at your convenience -
With all good wishes

Sincerely

Catharine Smeel.

"DON'T LET THESE THINGS DIE"

Robert and Malinda Sneed were bride and groom during the Civil War. Their first born died as the result of the vagaries of the Negro slave girl. Their second arrived while the father was still a soldier in the bedraggled army of the Southland. Their real life together began with the end of the War. Without slaves which had been theirs, it was their lot to erect an edifice called home in the most heart-breaking period in the history of our country. No group of Americans has ever suffered such indignities at the hands of their so-called fellow citizens as did those who followed the sword of Robert E. Lee. The plight of the Negro slaves carried with it an aroma of perfume as compared to the stench which Thaddous Stevens and his co-workers unloosed upon the proud but beaten manhood and womanhood of the South. In this atmosphere, Robert and Malinda fashioned their lives together and erected a home beyond compare. It was not a mansion, but truly, it was a structure in which lots of living took place. Ten grown children survived. Bob and Linda taught them -- they, in turn, taught us. That edifice which they built abounded in human character. From it a Clan had sprung. That Clan is here today. We come not as a masked body, but as a group of proud people, proud of the heritage of being the descendants of Robert and Malinda Sneed. We are proud of the edifice which they built in the minds and hearts of their children and their neighbors. Those tenets have been taught to each of us. The third generation stands with a great responsibility for the perpetuation of those ideals.

THE END OF THE

Today, we stand at the end of another mighty conflict. We live in a land of plenty of material things. But our people are confused. Many are lost. Many are beset by fear. I would that I had the ability to make a personal appeal to every person in this country to "Do not let the things that Robert and Malinda Sneed taught die."

Discipline -- they believed in it. There is no grandchild of this Clan who has not felt the iron hand of that discipline. Most, if not all, have resented it. Many have promised to forego it with their own. Perhaps it was too stern -- yea -- May I say, too brutal at times. But the results were good. When man communes with man, discipline is necessary. Let it take more modern terms, let it be applied with less vigor, perhaps -- but, fellow Sneeds, don't let discipline die.

Sportsmanship -- This was a cardinal principle. We were taught as very small children that when we traded toys with our little brothers, sisters, and playmates, we could not become disappointed with our trade, turn cry baby and rescind the deal which had been made. As we approached school age, and when we were fortunate enough to own the ball, the bat, and the glove, but didn't like the way the umpire called the balls and strikes, we were not permitted to pick up our ball, bat, and glove and break up the ball game by taking them home. In these trying times, when men and women are selling their liberty for the sake of security, don't let the ideals of the sportsmanship we were taught, die!

Integrity -- As we went out into the business world, we were taught that our word was our bond. Laws of Bankruptcy -- infancy -- and the statutes of limitation were enacted for unfortunate and oppressed people, but not for Sneeds. A Sneed child under 21 lived up to his contracts. A just debt was never too old to pay, and it must be paid in the coin of the realm. This was the sincere belief of proud people. -- Never -- my kinsmen, let this integrity die.

Work -- In light of present day theories, you and I were brought up under a weird and queer economic theory. It is so, indeed, here in Austin where we have a few Communists and many fellow travelers. These people just don't understand when I tell them that I was taught that I would have to work for a living. In this doctrine of economy, we have been trained. We were taught that Captain John Smith had the proper idea when he compelled his early settlers to work blisters on their hands. Don't let this economic principle die.

Our Country -- We were taught that all we had a right to exact from our Government was the right to work in order to maintain our families; the right to educate our children; the right to worship as we saw fit; the right to speak our thoughts; and finally we were entitled to the privilege and had the duty of fighting our country's battles in the battlefield and not from a swivel chair in the Pentagon Building in time of war. Beyond these privileges, Texans, and among them the Sneeds, were self-sufficient to meet the responsibilities of living as individuals. Don't let this individual sufficiency die.

Loyalty -- We were taught loyalty to family and friends. Have you been unfortunate enough to be critical of one of the ten while talking to another one of the number? Well, if you haven't, then don't ever do it. Take it from one of experience. It ain't safe! Loyalty to neighbors and friends has always been a Sneed failing or virtue. Old Lazy Neck has nurtured friendships of at least one hundred years. The names of Fitzhugh, Warden, Hunter, Snider, Kerby, Pharr, Morrow, Deal, Spurgeon, England, Armstrong, Batson, Coffey, Bowman, Kluttz, Higginbotham, Hedrick, Richardson, and many others will remain household words so long as the Sneed tribe shall survive. Don't let loyalty to family and friends ever die!

This could go on and on and on. Bob and Linda were truly teachers. God, Church, Home, and many other fundamentals of the ethics of living were their daily lessons. From the hog-wallow land and bois d'arc thickets of Collin County, they fashioned well. Theirs was not wealth and fortune in material things, but wealth in thought, mind, and heart. They established a tribe of God-fearing, country-loving men and women who have made their imprint upon the society of every community in which one of them has lived.

These concepts were sound in 1864. They have been sound every day since. They will be sound 100 years from now, be it in the atomic age or any other age which science may develop.

The ravages of time takes its toll of human beings. We, like our grandparents, must die. But the principles taught by our forebears should never die. They will not, if they are properly cultivated and practiced. The duty and responsibility of preserving them and passing them on rests upon us. Under no circumstances must we

OBITUARY - Margaret Marshall. (Copied from notebook of Annie Marshall Hunter, now in possession of Mrs. V. W. Killough, 313 W. 13th St., Amarillo, Texas)

Departed this life on the 25th of February, 1852, Mrs. Margaret Marshall, who had just entered her 77th year.

The subject of this notice was born in Virginia, on the 18th of Jan. 1776, moved to this State with her friends, when young - professed the religion of Jesus Christ in the year 1800, and joined the White's Creek congregation of the C.P. Church at its organization in 1825, of which she was a steadfast, consistent, and very useful member until her death.

Mother Marshall raised a large family (five sons and seven daughters) all of whom are still living, except one daughter - all members of the church. She had a number of grand children, and nearly all of them that have arisen to a proper age are professors of christianity; the most of whom professed when young. She left two sons, two sons-in-law, and three grandsons, that are useful ministers of the C.P. Church. Of Mother Marshall it may truly be said, she had finished her work, and her Lord took her to himself.

She was calm and dispassionate in all things, possessing great energy both of body and mind; and though she lived nearly four score years, yet she was free from that childishness that so often characterizes the old. She had many relatives and acquaintances - was loved and revered by all. After the death of her husband, and marriage of all her children, save one, she made her home principally at bro. George Gill's, her son-in-law, at whose house, after a protracted and painful illness of eight week and two days, she calmly fell asleep in the arms of Jesus. Though she suffered much and suffered long, she was not heard to murmur.

The impression of her mind while sick was, that the time of her departure was at hand; and often expressed her confidence in God, and her willingness to die, that she might be with Jesus and free from her sufferings; yet manifested at all times, a disposition to wait with patience till her change should come.

Her physician, who is of acknowledged skill, gave good attention, while many friends watched around her bed day and night with anxious concern; yet Death, stern in his purpose, effected his mission - cut the thread of life, and her spirit was borne in triumph to the God who gave it.

Her body was followed by a number of loved and weeping friends to the family graveyard, where it was interred, and will sleep in safety until He who watches over it shall bid it rise. Let those who weep, dry their tears, knowing they shall see her again.

Notes taken by H.H. Hunter from Aunt Nettie Kirkpatrick (Probably about 1925-30)

Grandma Hunter had 13 brothers and sisters. William, Bob, Jno., Jim, David, Gilbert, Sarah, Patsy, Hannah, Marguerite, Frances.

Grandmother's brother William moved to Ky. He had 2 boys and 1 girl. From Ky. his son went to Indiana. The Vice Pres. Marshall is probably a son of one of these boys.

Father's brothers and sisters -
(Marguerite Taylor) (David - Bob Hunter's father) (Sallie - Bob Pybus' mother)
(Kate - Jim and Anna Cook's mother) Hannah died at 7. Jim Hunter, Fannie McPherson. Mildred died at 19. Jno. W., Joe, Nettie Kirkpatrick. Bettie. She and Martha died within 10 days of each other. Bettie went to Nashville to wait on Martha at college. All born in same house in Davidson Co., seven miles from Nashville. Only four lived until Grandma's death.

Grandma lived with Aunt Marg. Taylor till Aunt M. died, then she moved into live with Aunt Nettie.

The Old Beech church was one my father's grandfather and grandmother were charter members of first Cumberland Presbyterian Church ever founded. Father's oldest brother was a Presb. preacher Grandfather Hunter was in the battle of New Orleans - War of 1812. Born in Ireland? or Cheatam Co. Tenn 1795. Right red headed. Died in 1862 near Nashville on Whites Creek in Davidson Co. The Marshall Graveyard. On a rough hard place to get to is the cemetery.

Grandmother. Anna Marshall born in Davidson Co., Tenn. in 1805. Married at 16 yrs. of age. She said she was afraid he would marry someone else when asked why she married young. Died in 1883 - old age - she didn't walk for 27 years. Lived in same chair and chair is still good. As helpless as a baby yet never wanted for attention. To this union was born 13 children, all lived to be grown but one. She died at 7. The only ones now living are Uncle Jim, Davidson Co., Uncle Joe, Nashville, Aunt Nettie Kirkpatrick, Weatherford, Tex., Aunt Fannie McPherson, visited us with Elisha, last heard of in Fannin Co. Ran away and married a saw mill man and lost interest in home folks. To them were born Wilson, George, Elisha, and Buck. Don't know anything of these.

Miss Laura Grace Hunter.

Dear Miss Hunter:

I received your letter, would have written before now, we have all been sick. My eyesight is so bad I haven't been able to read or write for a long time. I have to get my wife to write for me. I am in my 81 year.

You say you are John Wilson Hunter's grand daughter. He was my Mother's brother. My mother's maiden name was Margaret Jane Hunter. She first married Dickson, he died. She married James K. Taylor.

Frank Dickson and Bob Pybus are both dead. Bob Pybus mother was a sister to John Wilson Hunter. I know very little about my grandfather. I do know when my grandmother died and where she was buried.

I will write to George Hunter and see if he has any records before I send your questions.

You said you will spend part of your vacation in Tennessee. We will be glad to see you. My family of three are Luther Taylor and wife, Dora Taylor and son Robert Taylor.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Luther Taylor.

Dearest Laurie:

If you could have gone to Cousin Bob's there with me this afternoon, I'm sure that you would have had a wonderful and most unusual visit. A tall, slender old man with a long white beard and well combed black hair leaned on a cane and opened the door. He shook my hand and welcomed me in as if I were a long lost child. He used very good English and something about him just drew you to him like magic.

He took sick forty years ago and has been a cripple ever since. He has been to town three times in those 40 years, and that was to vote. These are his words which were not and yet put a ache in your heart - "I just sit and dream all day of the days back in Tennessee and our home there in Danaborn while mother was here." He said that he was married 53 years ago but right then sorta closed his eyes and smiled.

If you have ever felt as tho you had opened a story book and walked in for two hours, you would have felt just as I did. This afternoon - He said over and over how sorry and disappointed he was that you didn't come down Christmas. He is so thrilled over this. He says, "I could talk for a week and still not to fall."

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is illegible due to extreme blurriness and low contrast.

New Laurie, it is no easy job to get every thing down because he doesn't list every thing 1-2-5 and I take it down -

I just have to write every thing I can and hope to get it straight afterward - much to my disgust, the outline on the Marshall family was misplaced - I got quite a bit about them, but if you will put it with another outline I will feel easier for you - It is so much easier when there is an outline to follow because I can ask him direct questions. I can't wait to go back to see him.

I am anxious to hear from you and to know if I am getting information that you want.

Laurie,
Frances

Robert Marshall was a 4th Gen. He and 2 Cummings boys left for California in 49.

At his father's death he could not be him - Later the Cummings boys returned and reported him dead - The family always suspected the Cummings boys of killing him.

50 years later a Cummings descendant went to California and discovered that he was staying in the tourist home owned by Robert Marshall - After 55 years in Calif.
Robert Marshall returned to White Oak Tenn.

This Cummings man is interested in history and Cousin George shot. He has some very valuable information. He can be located thru George Hunter in Tennessee. The house near Nashville you know.

If Frank Oliver or Sam Pybus are now living, Cousin Sam Hunter is the oldest descendant living.

There is a Marshall burying ground in Whites Creek where they are all buried. Many dates may be obtained there.

Miss Laura Grace Hunter,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Niece:-

Your letter of recent date received and noted, and I am very sorry that I can't give you more of the information you ask for, than I can, but perhaps I can help you some and direct you to others who will be more capable to assist you that I am.

I am quite sure that you Aunt Virgie McMillen, of 1324 East Morphy St. FtWorth, has more of the family record than any of the rest of we children. Most all of our older records were burned when we had the fire that destroyed our house hold goods when we lived in Childress.

Then for the Hunter records, you write to Cousin Bob Hunter, Bonham, Texas. He is the oldest living Hunter and was reared in Tennessee and knows more Hunter history than any of us, and loves to tell it. I visited with him for a few hours the first part of August and about all he would talk about was the older generations. You will perhaps remember that he has two daughters that were teachers and neither of them have ever married. The older one, Mary lives at home with her father, and Euna, teaches some where in South Texas. But you write direct to Bob Hunter, Bonham, Texas and I am quite sure he will give you more information than you can get from any one else. The if you go to Nashville, you have your Uncle Bush Sneed get you in touch with Cousin George Hunter. George is Uncle Jim Hunter's son, and still lives on the old Hunter place, out from Nashvill. I am quite sure Bush can tell you exactly how to find him.

I will answer what I can of the questions, but you do as I have suggested and I am sure you will find about what you want to know.

Your Aunt Jane and I were very glad to hear from you and wish you much success, not only in this undertaking, but in all your work, and we are very anxious to assist you in your undertaking, and would appreciate knowing just what information you gather. Let us hear from you again.

Your Loving Uncle.

Date and place of their marriage Married at Bonham Texas. Have no record of date.

When did he come to Texas? Get all this record from Cousin Bob at Bonham. For I know he can tell you.

Any other facts about them which might be helpful. If you know of the existence of any documents, such as family bibles, wills, property deeds, etc., which I could use, will you please tell me about them?

Grand Mother Compton. Mother's Mother was Angie Fry and was one of the oldest settlers of Pulaski Tennessee. I have understood that the Comptons built the first mill in that section of Tennessee. Mother only had one brother and he was killed just after the battle of Shiloh. He was a litter barner, and was looking after the wounded and dying and a wounded Yankee shot him and killed him instantly. I once talked with an old soldier. B.B. West of Ellis County Texas. who told me that he was one of the company of four when Uncle John Compton was kill. He also said that he,
the other two men, and God Alone knew what became of that Yankee.

Since writing the above. Jane has found a page of old records that she salvaged out of the ruins of our fire.

Father. John Wilson Hunter. Born in Tennessee. Oct 10th, 1844.
Died in Colleen County Texas. Jan. 7th, 1906.

Mary Frances Compton (Mother) Born in Tennessee Dec. 4th, 1851

Now to get the older relatives, back of this, you write to Cousin Bob Hunter, at Bonham, as I have suggested.

Dear Miss Hunter:

I ask your pardon for not having answered your letter sooner, but am a busy housewife and just haven't taken the time to do so.

No doubt we are related on one side or the other or both of our families. I am not so very well posted on our ancestors but I do know a little something about them.

I was a Marshall myself, a descendant of the family located at Whites Creek and my husband is of the family that you spoke of as being Major under Jackson at the battle of New Orleans. A cousin of ours living here at Whites Creek has a family tree of our branch of Marshalls. Her name is Pattie Hallums. Her grandmother was a Marshall, a sister to my grandfather Marshall.

There is a cemetery here at Whites Creek where several generations have been buried but is not being kept up. The property has gone out of relatives' hands and the kin are not being buried there now at all.

Should you come to Nashville this summer, we would be glad to meet you and can tell you more than can write.

My husband's father's brother raised a large family in Texas and they called him John Wil's Hunter.

We had Cloyd relatives also, however, I don't know any more than I have heard the older relatives tell about them. Its hard to give much information by letter but am glad to let you hear from me, and please do excuse me for being so long in answering your letter.

We are in the country 12 miles out of Nashville and get our mail by way of Goodlettsville as you already have the address.

If I can help you further will be glad to do so.

Truly your cousin,

Dean Marshall Hunter

Dear Sir:

Will you please tell me whether there are any people in or near Whites Creek by the name of Marshall who are descendants of the Marshalls who were pioneers in that locality. If so, I should like very much to get in touch with them in connection with some genealogical research.

I enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply. If you can give me the name of such person or persons, or if you will ask them to reply, I shall appreciate it very much.

Very truly yours,

Thank you for your letter of May 26 offering to do research work for me on Hunter ancestors.

From reading early Tennessee histories I find that there were a number of Hunter families living in Tennessee in the early days. In fact, I know that there were two John Wilson Hunters who moved from Middle Tennessee to Texas about 1870 and who, so far as I know, were not related. Unless I could be sure that the records which you speak of pertain to my line of Hunters, they would be of no value to me.

During my vacation in July, I expect to spend a few days in and around Nashville, obtaining more information from my relatives there. After I have gathered more definite information as a basis on which to work, perhaps I can get you to do some research for me. I am interested, also, in obtaining information on the Marshall line. Major John Wilson Hunter's wife was Anna Marshall of Whites Creek. That is all I know about her now, but I hope to learn more this summer.

If time permits, I shall get in touch with you when I am in Nashville. If not, I shall write you after I return from my vacation and perhaps I can arrange with you to do some research for me on the Hunter and Marshall lines.

Very truly yours,

Laura Grace Hunter

Re: Parents of John Wilson Hunter, Sr., (who was a major in War of 1812)

Dear Miss Hunter:-

Although I am not a genealogist I am a researcher and spend considerable time researching the records in the Davidson County Court House. The Clerk of the County Court gave me your letter of April 24th in re the above subject. I have been our of town and since my return I have only had time to make a very hasty, cursory examination of the records in re this name. My hurried examination disclosed record, (I have only referred to index) of an early Will to a John Hunter, rather of a John Hunter. This is of an early enough date to be John Wilson Hunter, Senior's father - the wife is referred to as "Mary". However, I have not had time to search out and read this will.

My cursory examination, also, disclosed records of a John who was an attorney about 1796-1797. Also, located Revolutionary record of a Captain James Hunter. Some original North Carolina papers (on file Tenn. Archives and Land Office) and any number of early land grants and marriage records to persons by the name of Hunter - various first names.

I can carefully search the records and furnish you copy of this early will together with extracts of these various other records together with extracts of the many early grants for $10.00 (ten dollars). This price will be exceedingly reasonable considering the amount of time it will require for the research and preparing report to forward to you showing result of search.

I shall await your further instruction and assure you if you desire this research made that I shall give your request my prompt attention and that I shall search the records carefully and painstakingly and report to you every record available from the records on file here.

Very truly,

THE KERR FAMILY

The Kerr family back so far as at present is known, originated in Scotland. The family name at this present date, March 20th, 1936, has been traced back to the year 1850. However, this following work has only to do with James Kerr who emigrated to America from Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1784.

* * * * *

James Kerr, the subject of this work, was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1710, and in the year 1738 married - his wife's maiden name is not known to us. To this union was born one child, a daughter. She was named Elizabeth. The wife and mother died leaving this little baby girl of a few days old motherless. In the year 1738, the father, James Kerr, married his second wife. She was a widow and her maiden name was Rowen Spear, a daughter of John Spear, a native of Ireland. John Spear came to America and settled in Pennsylvania during the year 1734, and James Kerr, his wife and little daughter came to America along with them, and settled in Pennsylvania. After about 14 years, James Kerr and his family moved to North Carolina and located on what is known as the head of Ino River in Orange County. However, while in Pennsylvania there were born to James Kerr and Rowen Spear Kerr three sons and three daughters; James, William, and John, the three sons, all served under George Washington in the War for liberty and independence against England. William and John Kerr gave their lives for America's liberty in this war.

Elizabeth Kerr, the only daughter of James Kerr and his first wife, married Andrew Smith on the head of Ino River, Orange County, North Carolina. His oldest daughter by his second wife, Jane, married Eli Lindsay on the head of Ino River, Orange County, North Carolina. His next daughter, Ann, married James Clark, and his next and youngest daughter, Sarah, married Joseph Motherol. All four daughters were married at the head of Ino River, Orange County, North Carolina.

James Kerr of the second generation lived twelve years in Pennsylvania, where he was born, sixty-one years in North Carolina, and nine years near Spring Hill, Tennessee, where he died, being 82 years old at his death.

James Kerr of the second generation was born in Pennsylvania in 1784 and came with his father's family at the age of twelve and located on the head of Ino River, Orange County, North Carolina, this being in the year 1790. (?) In the year 1800, James Kerr married Miss Nancy Mitchell. To this union was born six sons and six daughters, all born on the head of Ino River, Orange County, North Carolina. All these sons and daughters raised large families. Their descendants are today in almost every state of the Union. These sons and daughters and the years of their birth are as follows:

William - 1782
John - 1784
Andrew - 1786
James - 1788

Samuel - 1790
David - 1792
Polly - 1794
Nancy - 1796

John Kerr of the third generation in America was born in Orange County, North Carolina, on the head of the river, in the year 1784. He went with his father's family in the year 1807 to the new country of Tennessee which was at that time a wilderness and came broke. We will now herein chronicle a short description regarding this Kerr family's journey from their old home in North Carolina to their new home in the new country of Tennessee in Henry County, near where the town of Spring Hill is now located. This bit of our family history was related by John Whitfield Kerr of the fourth generation who was a son of John Kerr of the third generation.

"My father, John, often told this narrative relating to the Kerr family's journey through the wilderness to the thin, new country of Tennessee. I remember his saying, 'Our family made this journey in two wagons; these wagons were of the old time make of that day. They had wood axles, the wheels were about 8 feet high and they had what was called lynch pins to hold the wheels on. On this occasion there were six mules attached to each wagon. The wagon bodies were long, deep, extending far out behind and in front, sloping over the rear mules. They were of a canoe shape. These two wagon bodies were loaded to their capacity on this occasion. My father, John, had previously made the trip to the new country in the year 1805, he having gone there with his brother, William, who had married Kate Ross and were going to Tennessee to locate. My father went to Tennessee with them and remained there nearly two years, then came home, and in the year 1807, assisted his father and the rest of the family to load their all on these two wagons and start on their journey to the new home in Tennessee. None of the six boys and two daughters were at this time married except William who, as stated, had located in Tennessee two years previous in the year 1805.'

"In my father's narrative to his family gathered around our fireplace, he said, 'I considered myself to be in those days something of an expert mule team driver; which many young men of old North Carolina in my boyhood days took much honest pride in claiming. On this memorable journey it fell to my lot to drive the team leading the way. On this journey we had many perils, privations, and hardships, and yet at the same time we had pleasures and enjoyments which will be long remembered by us all. There were wild animals in plenty, as also the no less dangerous red men in the forests ever lurking near, waiting a favorable chance to scalp and slay. The roads were bad where there were any, and often there were no roads, and roads had to be cut through the forests.'

We will give only one incident relating to the journey, as narrated by Uncle John Whitfield Kerr who died at Celina, Collin County, Texas, on Feb. 28th, 1925 at the age of 90 years, 8 months, and 26 days. Uncle Whit's quotation from his father, John Kerr, is as follows:

"My father, John, drove one of the teams on this journey and a negro man drove the other; my father always led the way. They had on a certain day just as the sun was nearly down, came to a river, its waters were much swollen from recent rains far up to its source. When they came to it there were steep banks. They thought they had found a place that they could safely risk crossing and all things being ready started to drive in when the negro man driver began to get nervous and shaky and called out to my father, 'Come John, we can't cross dat ribber, the cho wach us all off do face ob de earth.' Father goes back to him and said, 'See here, we got to cross this river and cross it now. The sun is nearly down and there is no place on this side to camp and there is a good camping place on the other side. Now listen, see that whip in your hand?" "Yas, Sir." "Well, when my team gets well away from the bank then you drive in, and you keep your miles heads turned angling up the stream and you lay that whip on the leaders good and hard.

Don't you let them turn down the stream." "Yas, Iars John." They crossed this river as well as many other streams without any mishap. In fact, the whole journey was made without any serious trouble or damage. They didn't have a pillar of Cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night or the ancient Moses to interpret, direct, and encourage them, but they undoubtedly did have a youthful leader and guide through this wilderness to their new home, and we dare say that the eye of the One who doeth all things will be watching over this family journeying through their wanderings just as He watched over the ancient twelve tribes of Israel in their journey through life."

James Kerr of the first generation, born in Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1710, came to Pennsylvania in 1724 and went to North Carolina in the year 1750. He and his wife, Rachel, who was a widow, both died on the head of Imo River, Orange County, North Carolina, and were buried at that place. The dates of their deaths are not known.

James Kerr of the second generation, born in America (Pennsylvania) in the year 1744. He married Nancy Mitchell in North Carolina in the year 1780 and died in Maury County, Tennessee, in the year 1816, and was buried in the old brick Church cemetery located about two or three miles southeast of Spring Hill and lying between the old houses of his sons, David and John, on Fountain Creek, north of Columbia, Tennessee. His wife Nancy Mitchell Kerr died on the _____ day of _____ Yr., near Spring Hill, Tennessee. She was buried beside her husband.

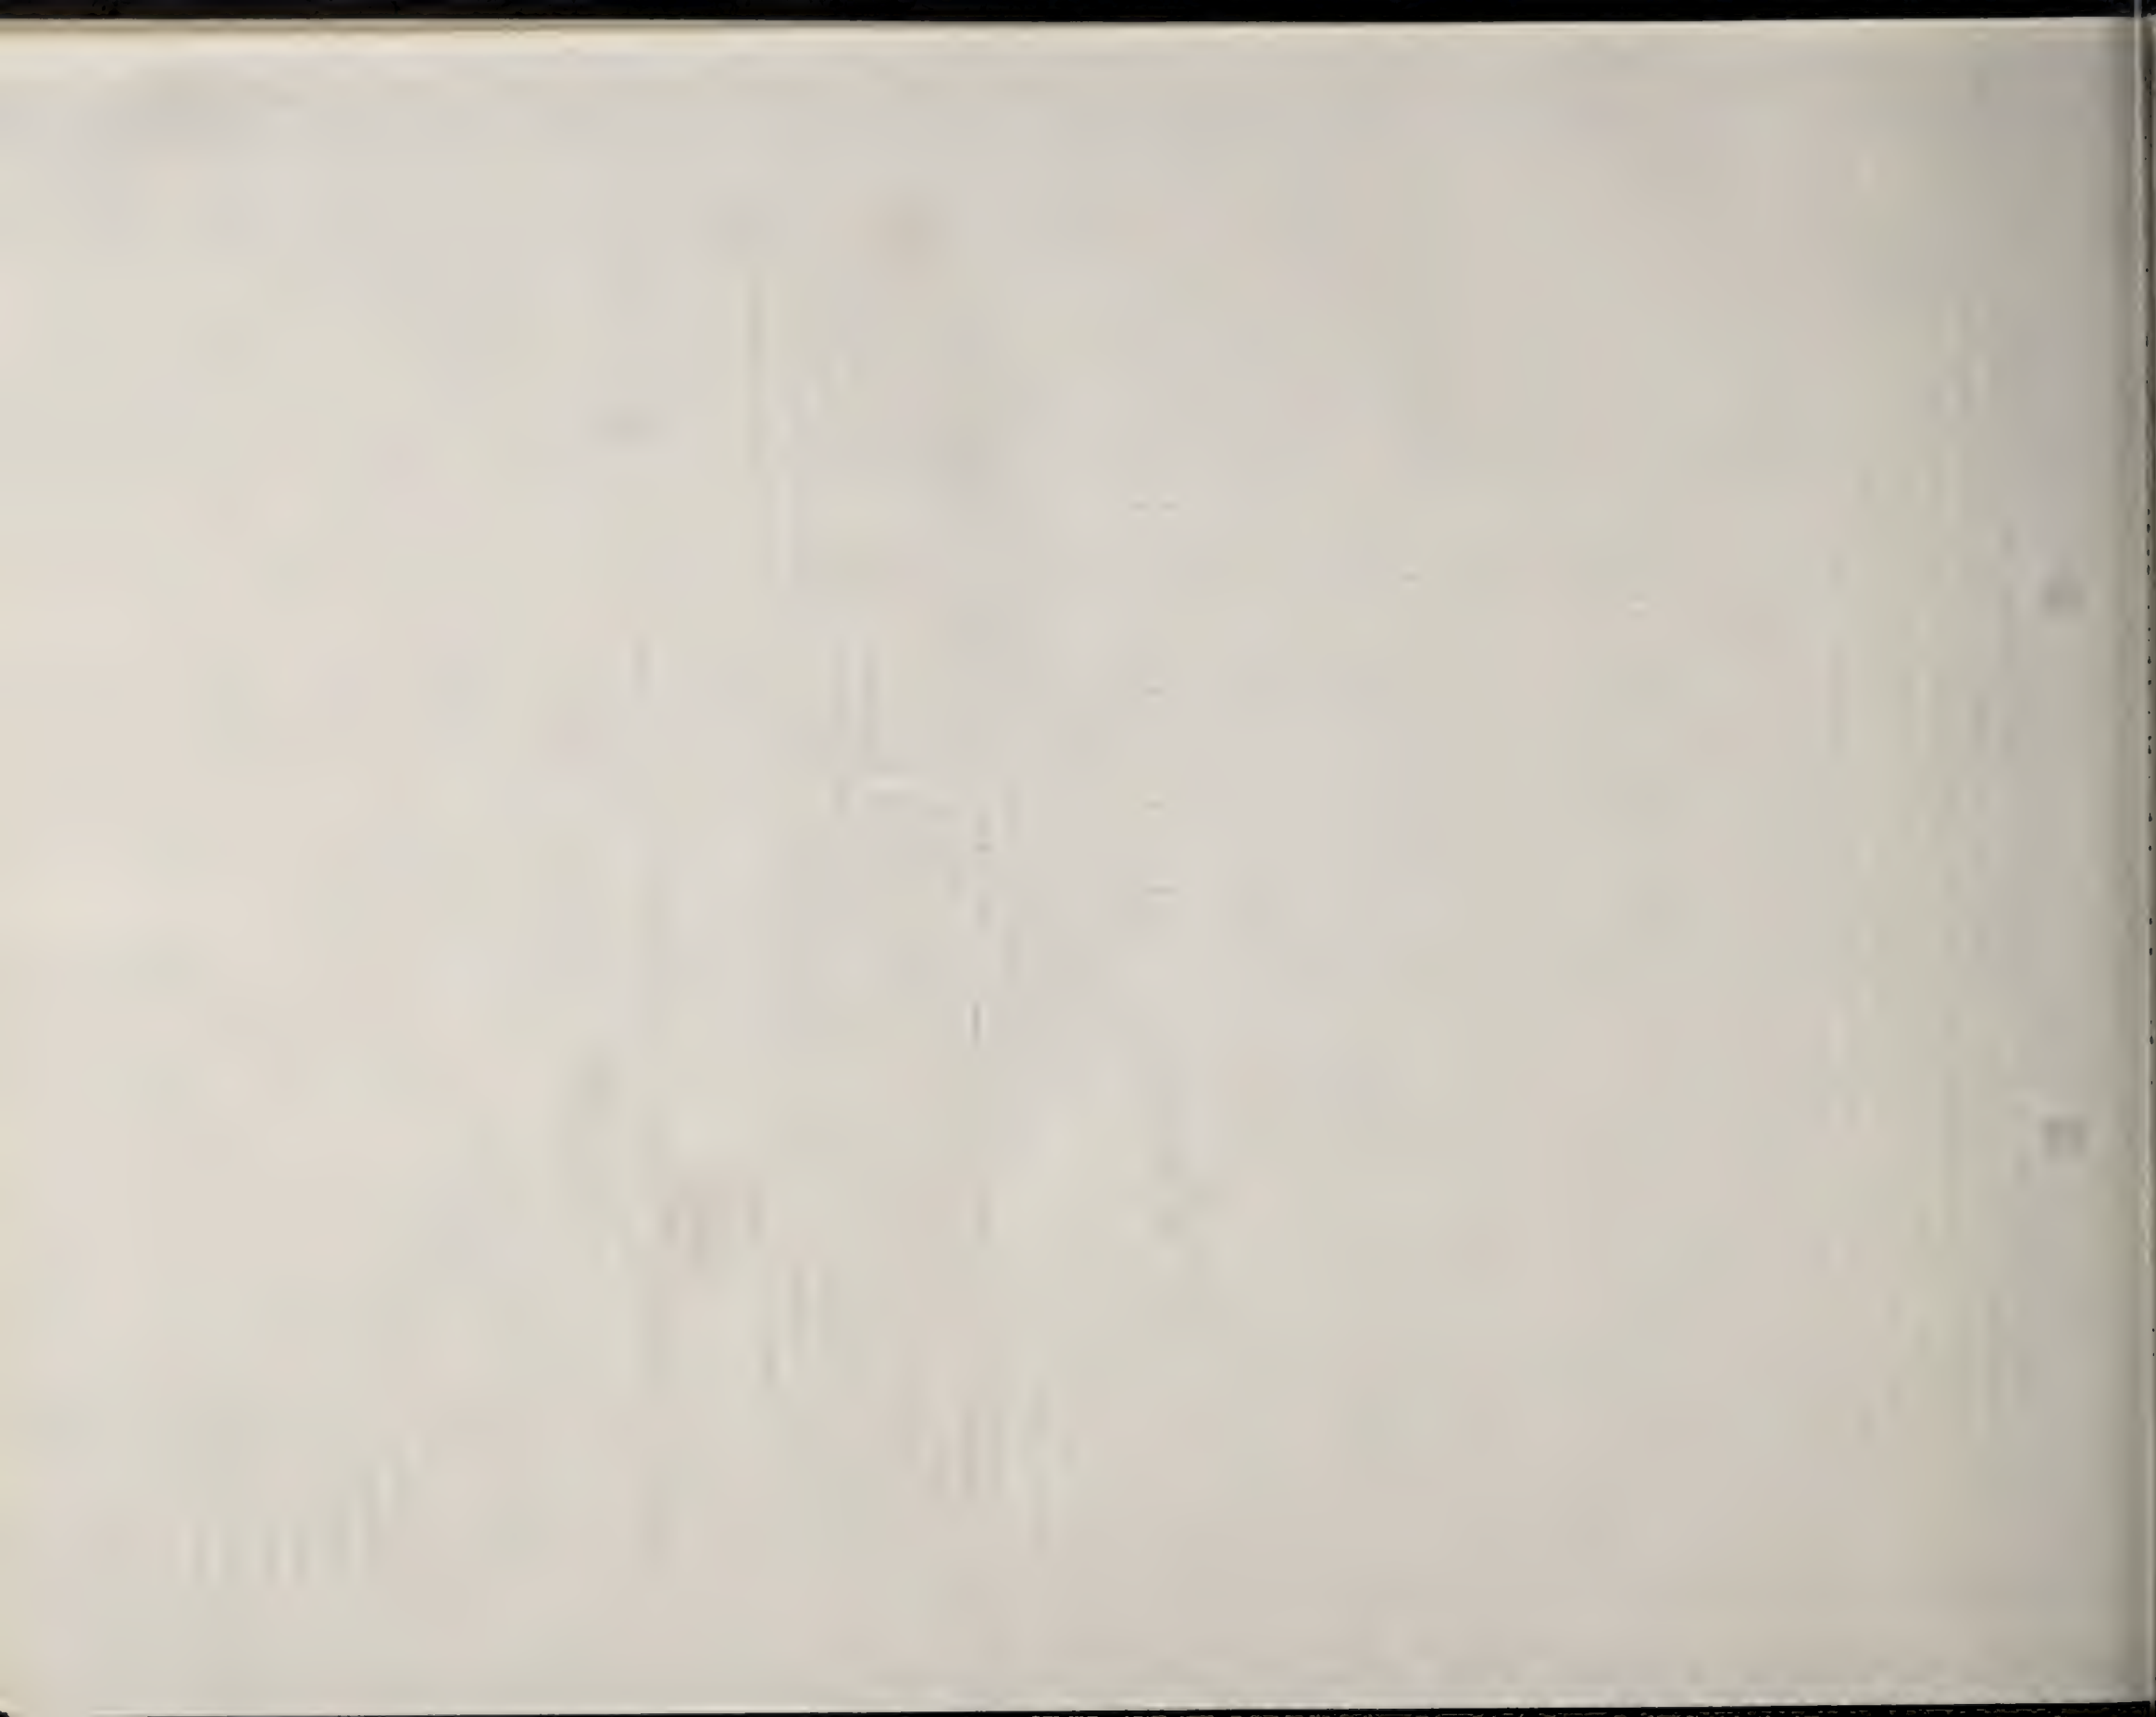

John Kerr of the third generation was born on the head of Imo River, Orange County, North Carolina, in the year 1784. He moved with his father's family to Maury County, Tennessee, in the year 1807. About the year 1810 he was married to Miss Mary Orr in Maury County, Tennessee. They were the parents of the following children:

Greene Williamson
James Orr
Samuel
Malinda Katherine

Nancy Jane
William Brown
Mitchell
John Whitfield

(There were two other children which we have no date of)

After his marriage, John Kerr lived in his home which was located on Fountain Creek, near Columbia, Maury County, Tennessee, and there all his children were born and most of them grew to manhood and womanhood in the old home, married and raised families. (Some of them, we do not know the number, died before reaching maturity.) John Kerr was a prominent citizen in his County and in church affairs; was a leading elder in the Presbyterian faith. He died in his home in the Fountain Creek community in August 1833. He was buried near his home. Soon after his death, his widow, Mary Orr Kerr, accompanied by Marshall Kerr, came to Texas to spend the remainder of her life with her sons. G.W. and J.O. Kerr had come to Texas in 1850 and 1860, respectively. J. W. Kerr located in Texas several years later than his brothers, G.W. and J.O.

Mary Orr Kerr died June 9, 1931, in peace at the residence of her son J. W. Kerr, Collin County, Texas, age 63 years and 4 months. She was the widow of the late John Kerr of Maury County, Tennessee. Her maiden name was Orr. She made a profession of religion in early life and united with the Presbyterian Church, and lived an honored member until death. In her character were blended the graces and virtues that constitute the true christian woman. As such she was faithful in all the relations of life. She was the mother of twelve children, five of whom (four sons and one daughter) survive her. She lived to see her children's children to the third and fourth generation. She bore her last illness with Christian fortitude, relying upon that Savior whom she had served so long. The "earthly tabernacle" was consigned to its last resting place in the cemetery in hope of the resurrection and eternal life, and while there are aching voids and sorrows in the hearts of the bereaved upon the earth, there is joy and gladness among the redeemed of heaven, as they welcome Mother Kerr to the paradise of God. This obituary was written by Rev. W. P. Gloyd, McKinney, Texas. Mary Orr Kerr was buried in the Scott Cemetery seven miles northwest of McKinney, Collin County, Texas.

Greene Williamson Kerr of the fourth generation, first born of John of the third generation, was born in Maury County, Tennessee, in the Fountain Creek Community near Columbia, Tennessee. He was born on the 14th day of November, 1811. Miss Maria Eliza Henderson was born on December 19th, 1812, in Maury County, Tennessee. They were married on June 8, 1835, in Maury County, Tennessee. Kerr, engaged in the nursery industry, being fairly successful along that line and having a natural love for the business. He, together with his brother Americus, moved to Sherman, Texas, in the year 1894 and founded the Commercial Nursery Company of which he was president and manager until 1906 when the company was consolidated with the Texas Nursery Company, the new company taking over the name of the Texas Nursery Company. He assumed the management of the new company as active vice-president. He continued at the head of the corporation until 1920 when he withdrew from active work in the Texas Nursery Company and established the John S. Kerr Company, with which he was actively connected as president and general manager at the time of his death. John S. Kerr was most active in looking after the exhibits of the horticultural products of the south-west at the World's Fair in St. Louis in 1903, and was awarded two medals for his display and appreciation of his services. Kerr's Addition located in the northern part of Sherman was the site of the old Commercial Nursery and Orchards Company. It was brought into the city when that company was discontinued. He was one of the founders and a trustee of the Presbyterian home and school at Itasca, Hill County, Texas. He was a life long member of the Southern Presbyterian Church, and has been an elder in the First Presbyterian Church at McKinney and Sherman for forty four years. John S. Kerr died at his home in Sherman on Sunday, Sept. 27, 1925. His burial took place Monday afternoon in Sherman. John S. Kerr planned and planted San Jacinto Park, destined to be one of the show places as well as one of the recreational points in Texas. In the year 1900, each school child in Sherman was given a tree from the Nursery under John S. Kerr's directions if he would plant it before his home. The many trees which line the streets of Sherman today, Sept. 27, 1925, stand as a perpetual monument to his memory.

Miss Laura Grace Hunter
Nela Park
Cleveland, Ohio

My dear Miss Hunter:

I was pleased to receive your letter and learn that I had such a relative. I suppose I might call you cousin Laura or cousin Grace, though that relation is somewhat remote because your grandmother was my first cousin.

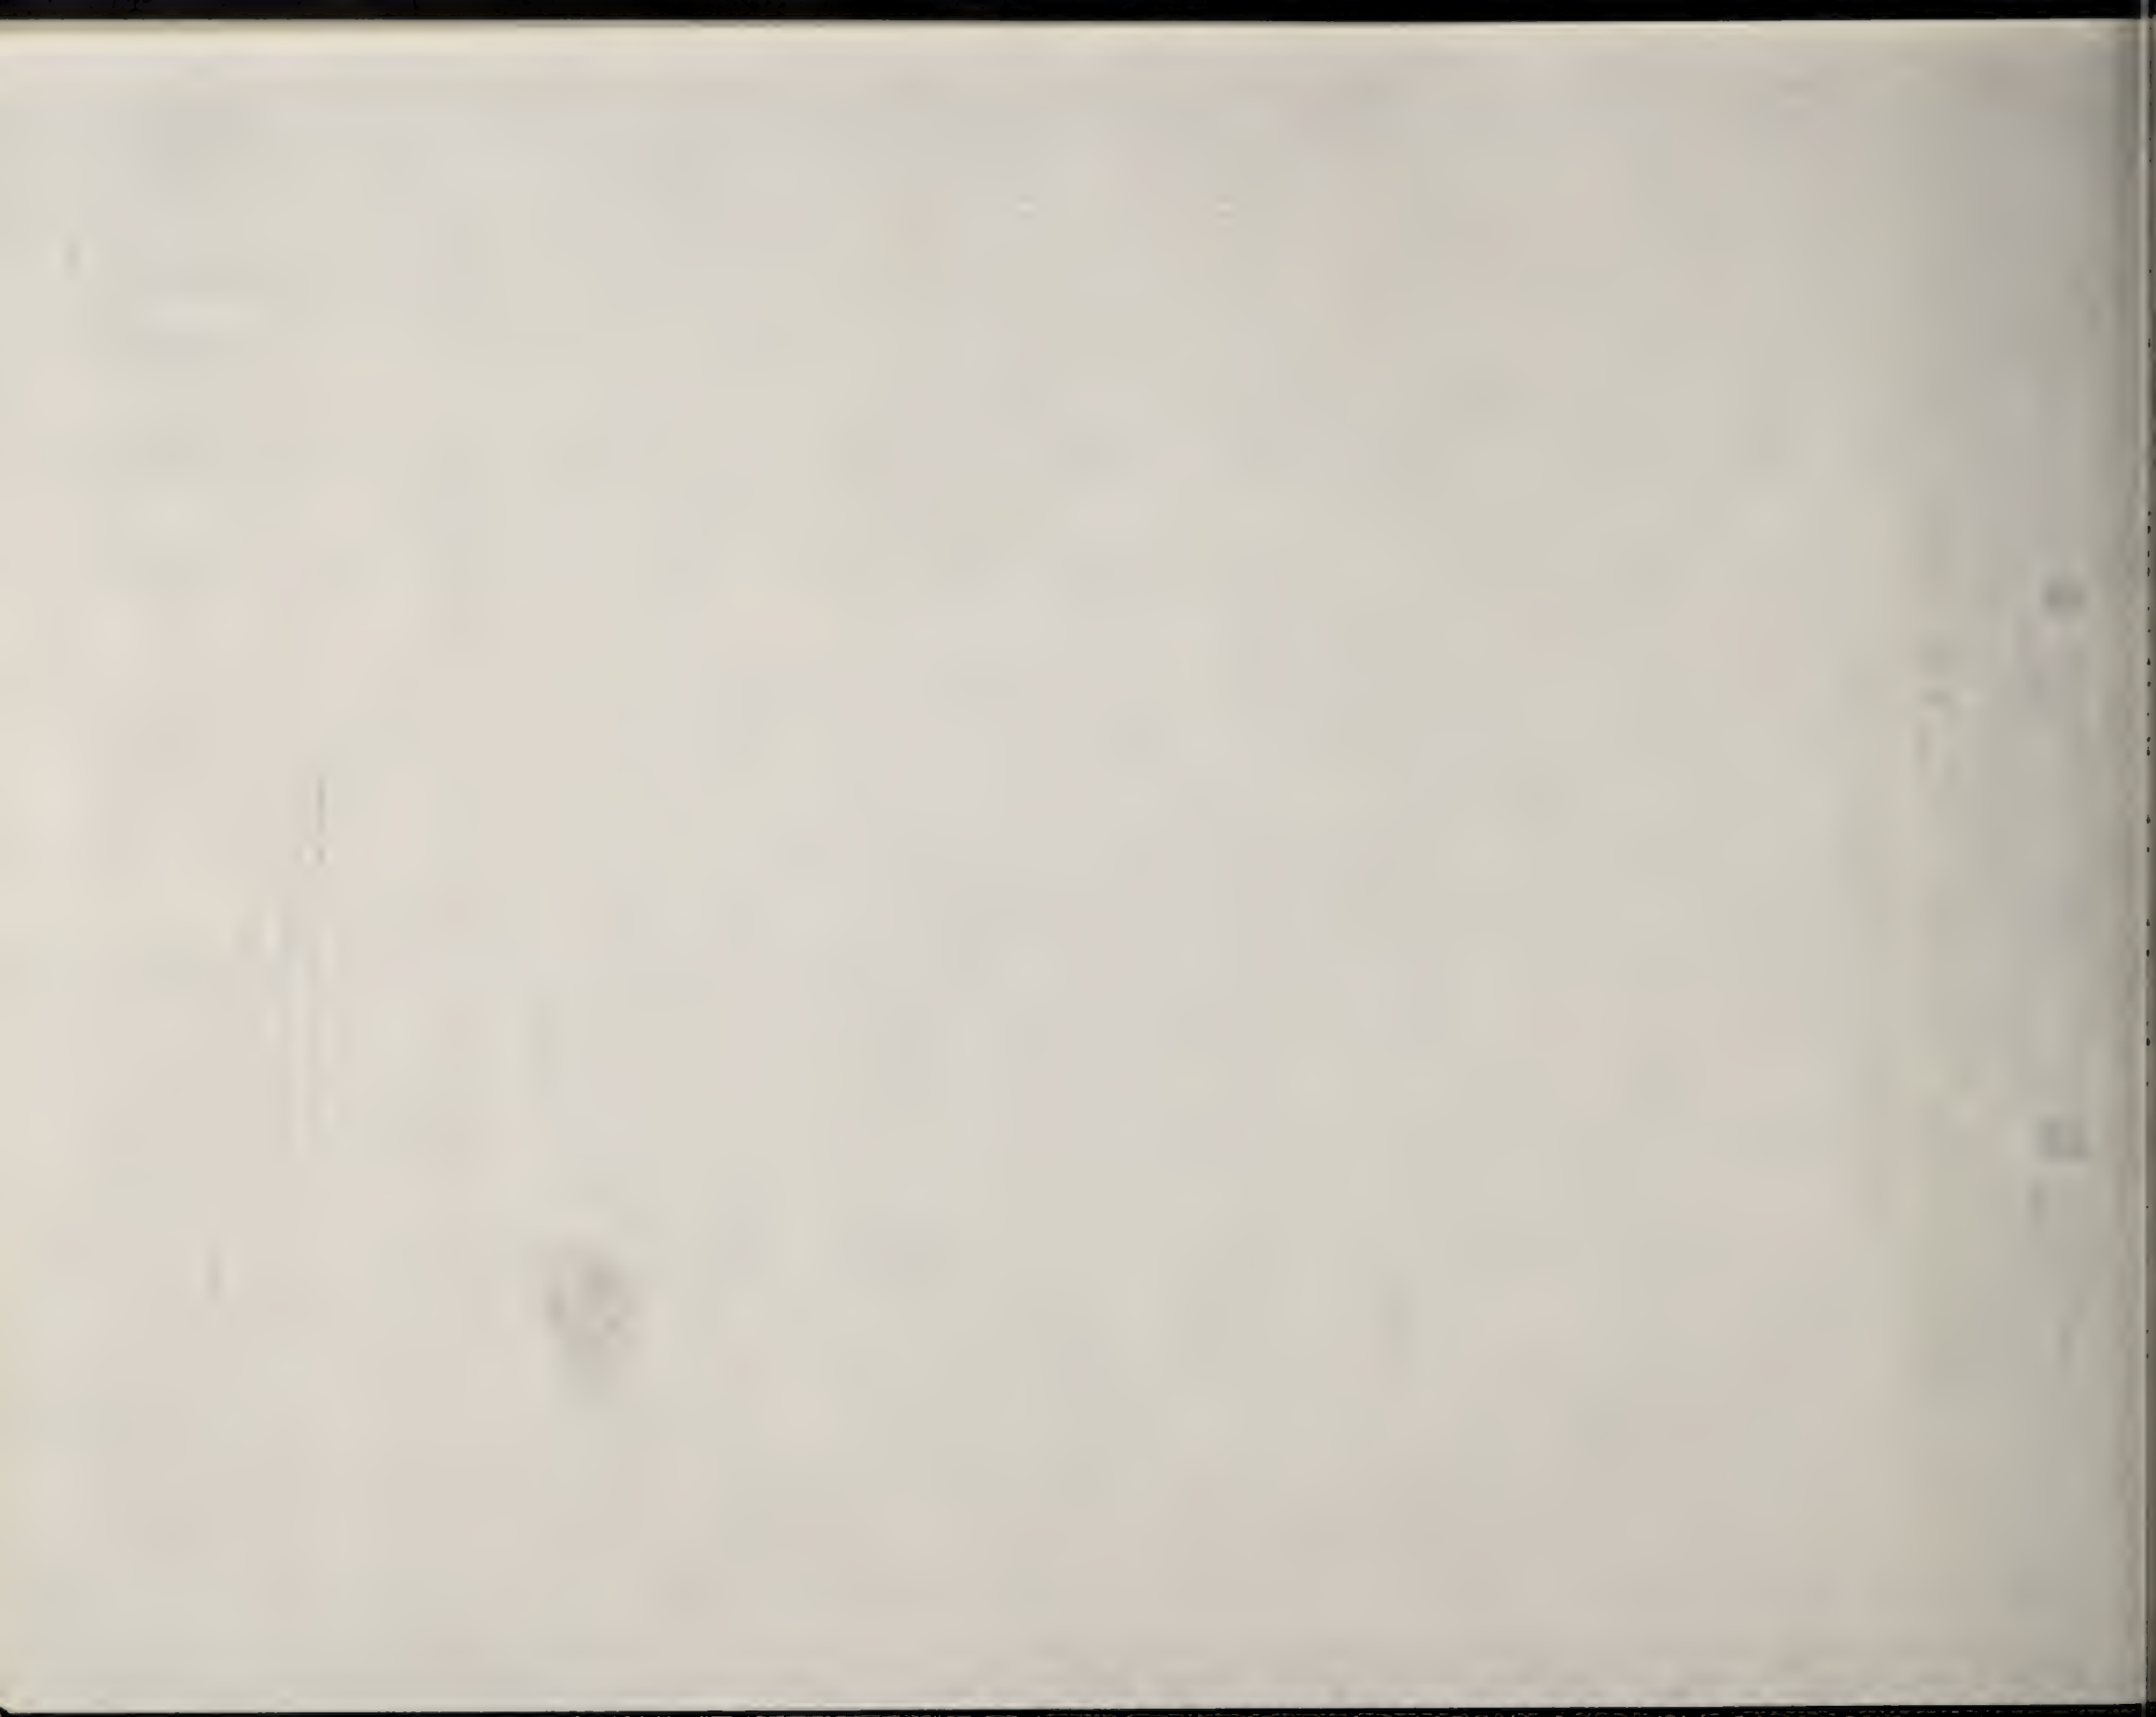

Mrs. Grandle got her information by visiting the places where the ancestry lived and by going over old records, something I have never had the time to do.

My people and a great number of the Frye's came from Tennessee near the same time. In 1857 my father made a trip back to Tennessee for the purpose of bringing to Missouri grandmother Margaret Frye. She died in December 1858, about a year later at our house. I remember her indistinctly though I was only four years old at the time. She left a copy of PCOR WILL'S ALMANAC which I have now in my possession, printed in 1779. It is about three inches long and two inches wide and contains about twenty pages among which are several blanks probably left for the purpose of family records. On one of those pages is this entry:

"Margaret Evans, daughter of Martha and Edward Evans. Born August 26, 1778.

I suppose these young people had not yet been able to acquire a Bible in which to make such entry. That almanac has several other entries some of which I cannot decipher. They might be read by a strong glass. I note one entry is the birth of Hampton Evans.

I remember the time when your great-grandparents and others left for Texas in 1861. There were the Comptons, the Abernathys, the Carltons, the Rogers, the Dickersons and others. I remember distinctly the numerous covered wagons that filled the lot in front of our house as they stayed there that night. They had left their stores, their possessions and their farks and were starting to Texas in that exodus with what they could carry in their covered wagons, no doubt expecting the war to end in a few weeks, when they could return to claim their possessions.

If I recollect rightly Aunt Angie Compton had several daughters, two of whom anyhow had married and had families. One of them married Brady Dickerson and had two sons about my age at the time they left for Texas. The other one married Tom Morgan and they went along at the time.

You say that was about 1861. I have been trying to discover whether it was before or after the Battle of Wilson Creek which was fought on August 10 of that year. I remember the battle but I have been unable to fix the date of the exodus to Texas with reference to the battle. Perhaps you have learned it from some of those Texas relatives.

My youngest son, Turner, lived in Dallas two or three years after his return from the war but he did not take much trouble to hunt up and find out anything about his relatives. I visited him there at one time for a day or two but it seems that very few of the relatives were in or near Dallas at that time. I saw some of them.

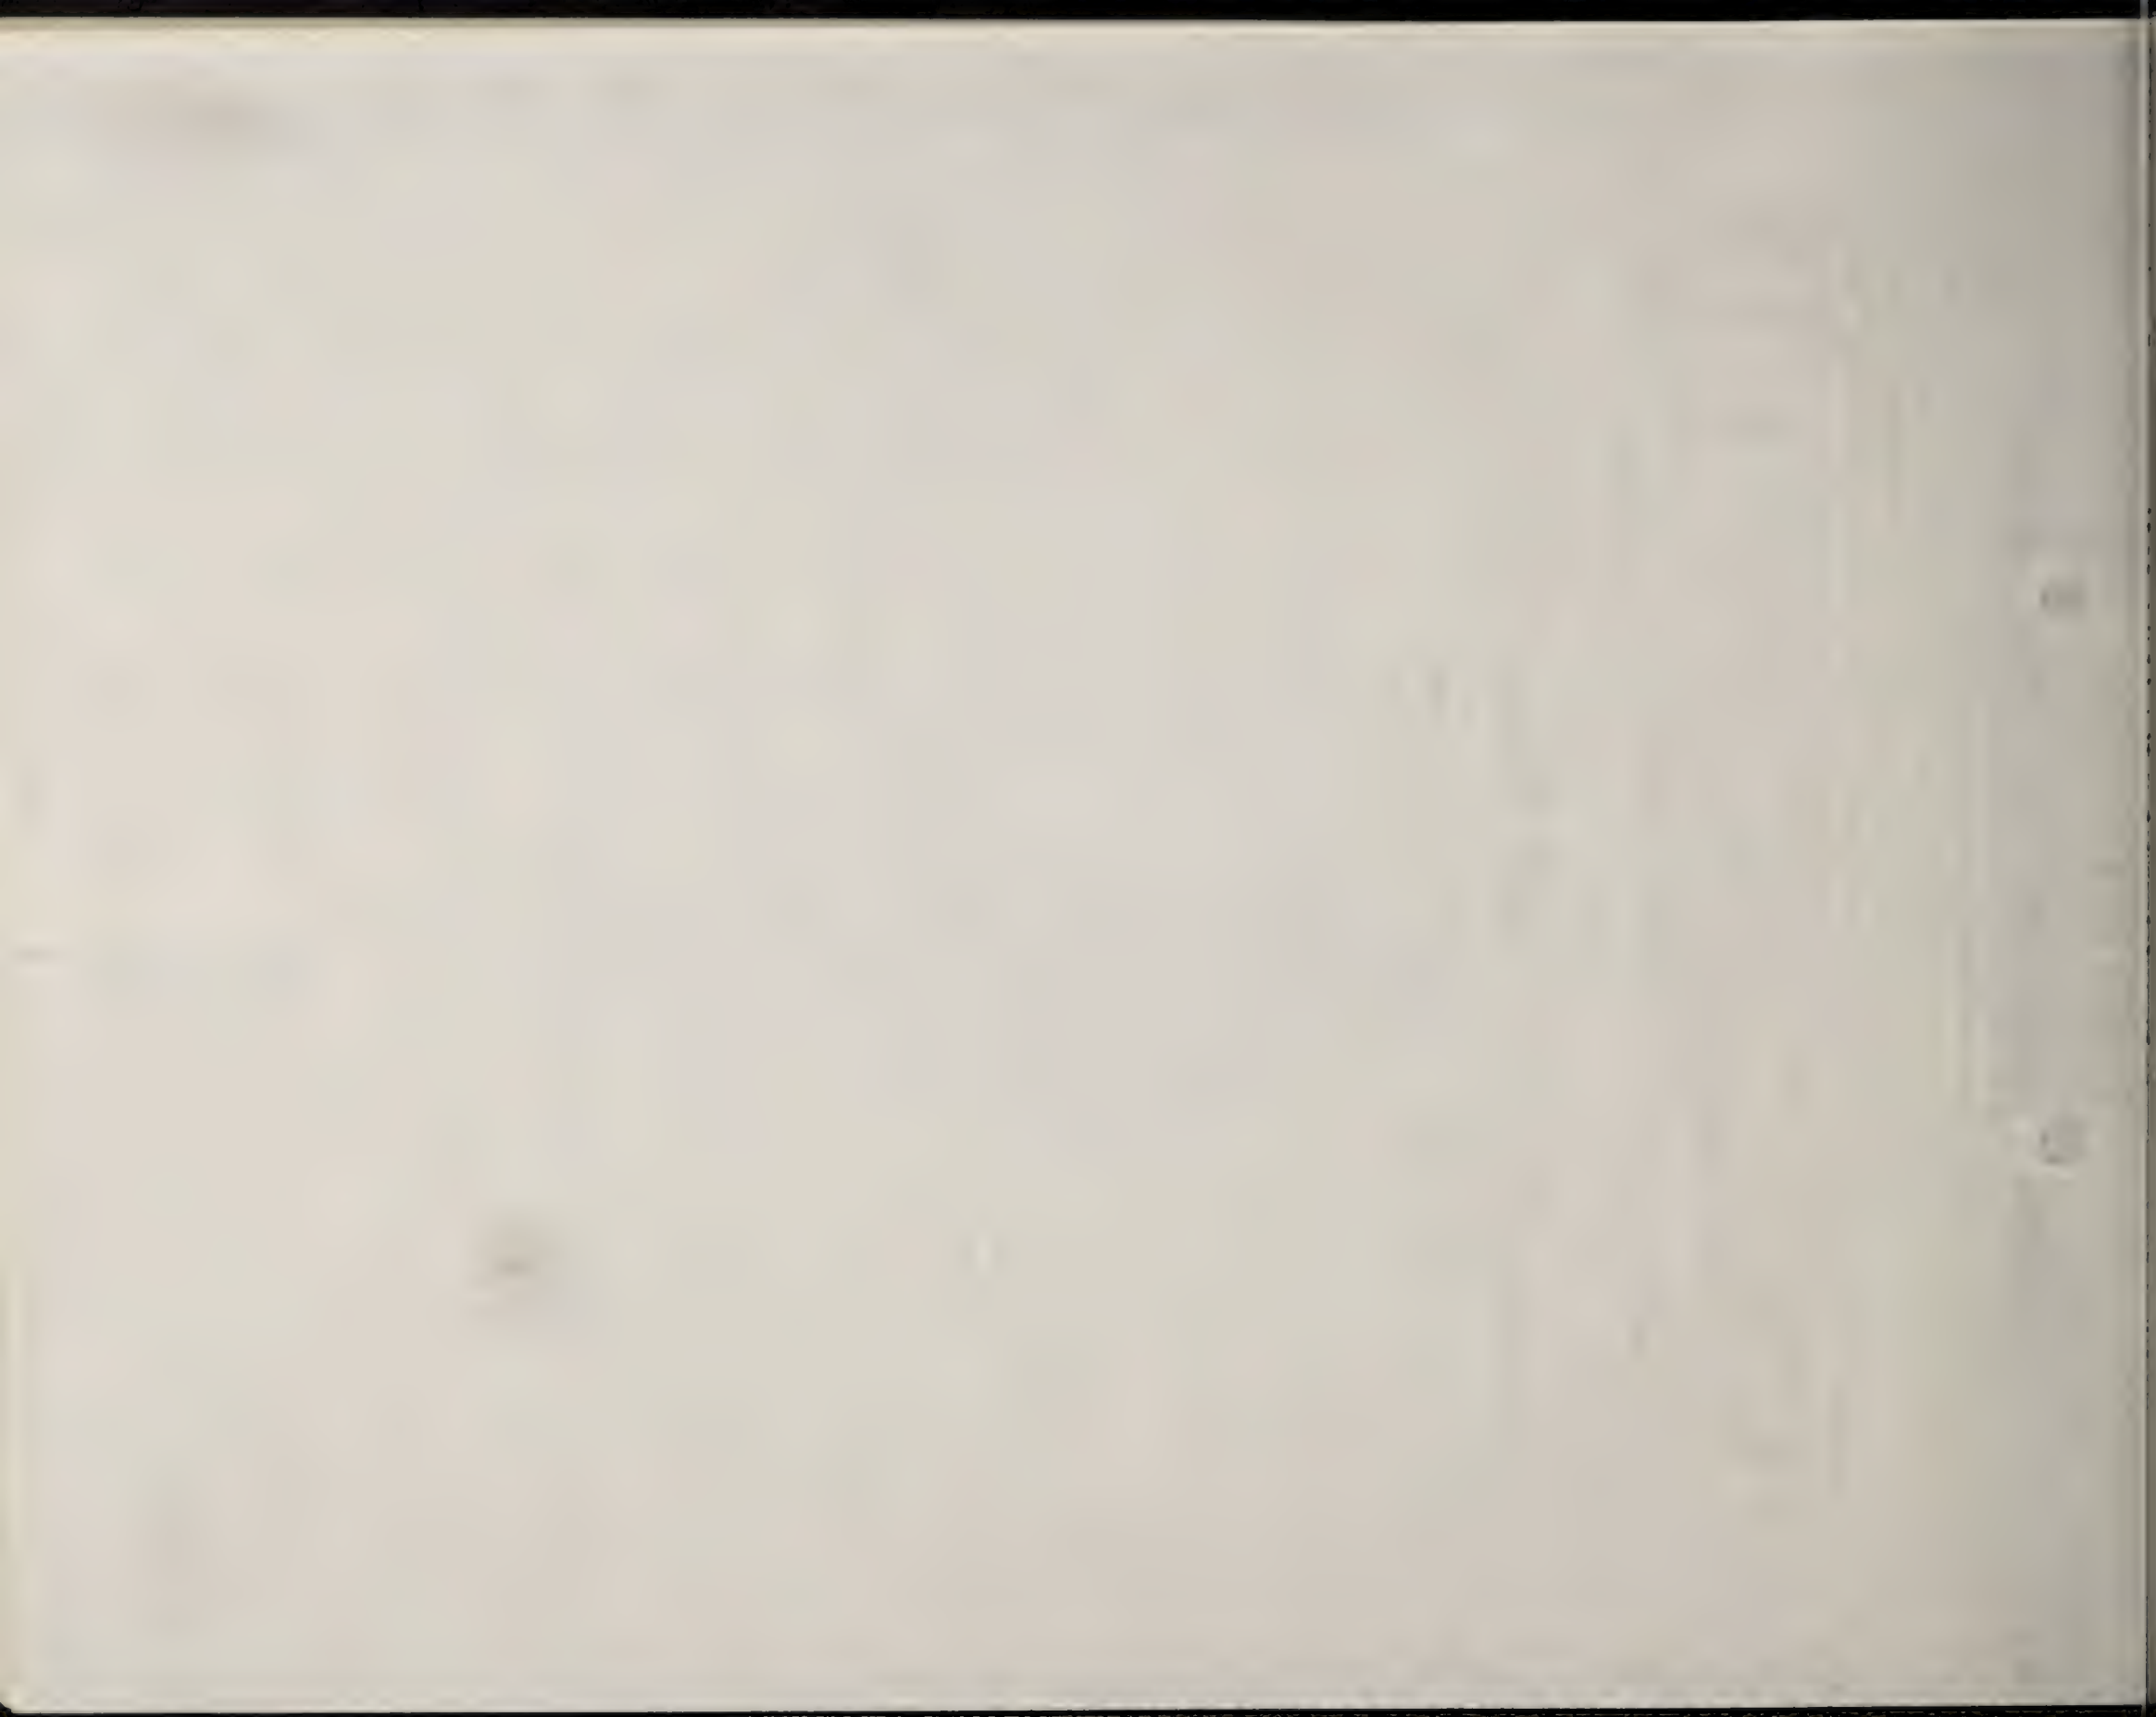

Among the numerous sisters which my mother and Aunt Angie had was one who married Robert Abernathy, who went to Texas at the beginning of the war. His grandson was Jack Abernathy, the wolf catcher who moved to Oklahoma and was made marshal of that state by Theodore Roosevelt when President, when Jack was hunting with him and Roosevelt saw Jack catch with his bare hands a large wolf. Perhaps you have heard of it. I think Jack Abernathy is in Oklahoma now somewhere. I saw him some four years ago when I was there.

I suggest that on your next trip to Texas you come by here and stop with us for a few days. My wife and I would be glad to have you. We are living quite alone. All of our children have married and gone long ago.

Very sincerely yours,

J. T. White

My dear Miss Hunter:

I am sending you as you request the almanac in a small envelope enclosed.

It may interest you to know that my wife and I drove to Boston three years ago and spent one night on the way at Cleveland. We stopped at a large hotel down on the lake front, or at least near the highway where they had large parking space for tourists' cars. I do not remember the name of the hotel. We did not come back that way but came through Canada.

Another incident might interest you. When my son returned from France after the war he got a job in Dallas, Texas. I visited him there two or three days. While there I received an invitation to attend as a guest of a lawyer from Missouri, a meeting of the Texas State Bar Association. During the proceeding the chairman asked all present who had guests to introduce the guests, so I was introduced. All I had to do was to stand up and acknowledge the introduction.

After it was over a young man came to me and told me he supposed he was a relative of mine and that his name was Merritt. His father had gone to Texas at the beginning of the civil war in that hegira that camped at our house before leaving, and had married Jennie Compton. This young man was Jennie Compton's son. Perhaps you remember Jennie Compton as your grandmother's sister. I remember her indistinctly. She was a young lady when they left for Texas and I was only seven years old.

As to this almanac. I took a strong glass to examine some of the dim apparent entries in it. They look like erasures of some of the entries which had been put in another place. You will find on one page there somewhere what looks like a receipt for somebody's poll tax.

It may be that you will find that the Evans or Hampton families came from Rowan County, North Carolina.

That almanac from its appearance has had a good deal of handling but it looks like it might serve several succeeding generations. At least I will try to preserve it as best I can when you return it.

Very sincerely yours,

My dear Miss Hunter:

I find in looking over some old papers which I have accumulated several years ago in looking up the Fry ancestry, a copy of the will of Edward Evans, executed in 1789 in Stokes County, North Carolina.

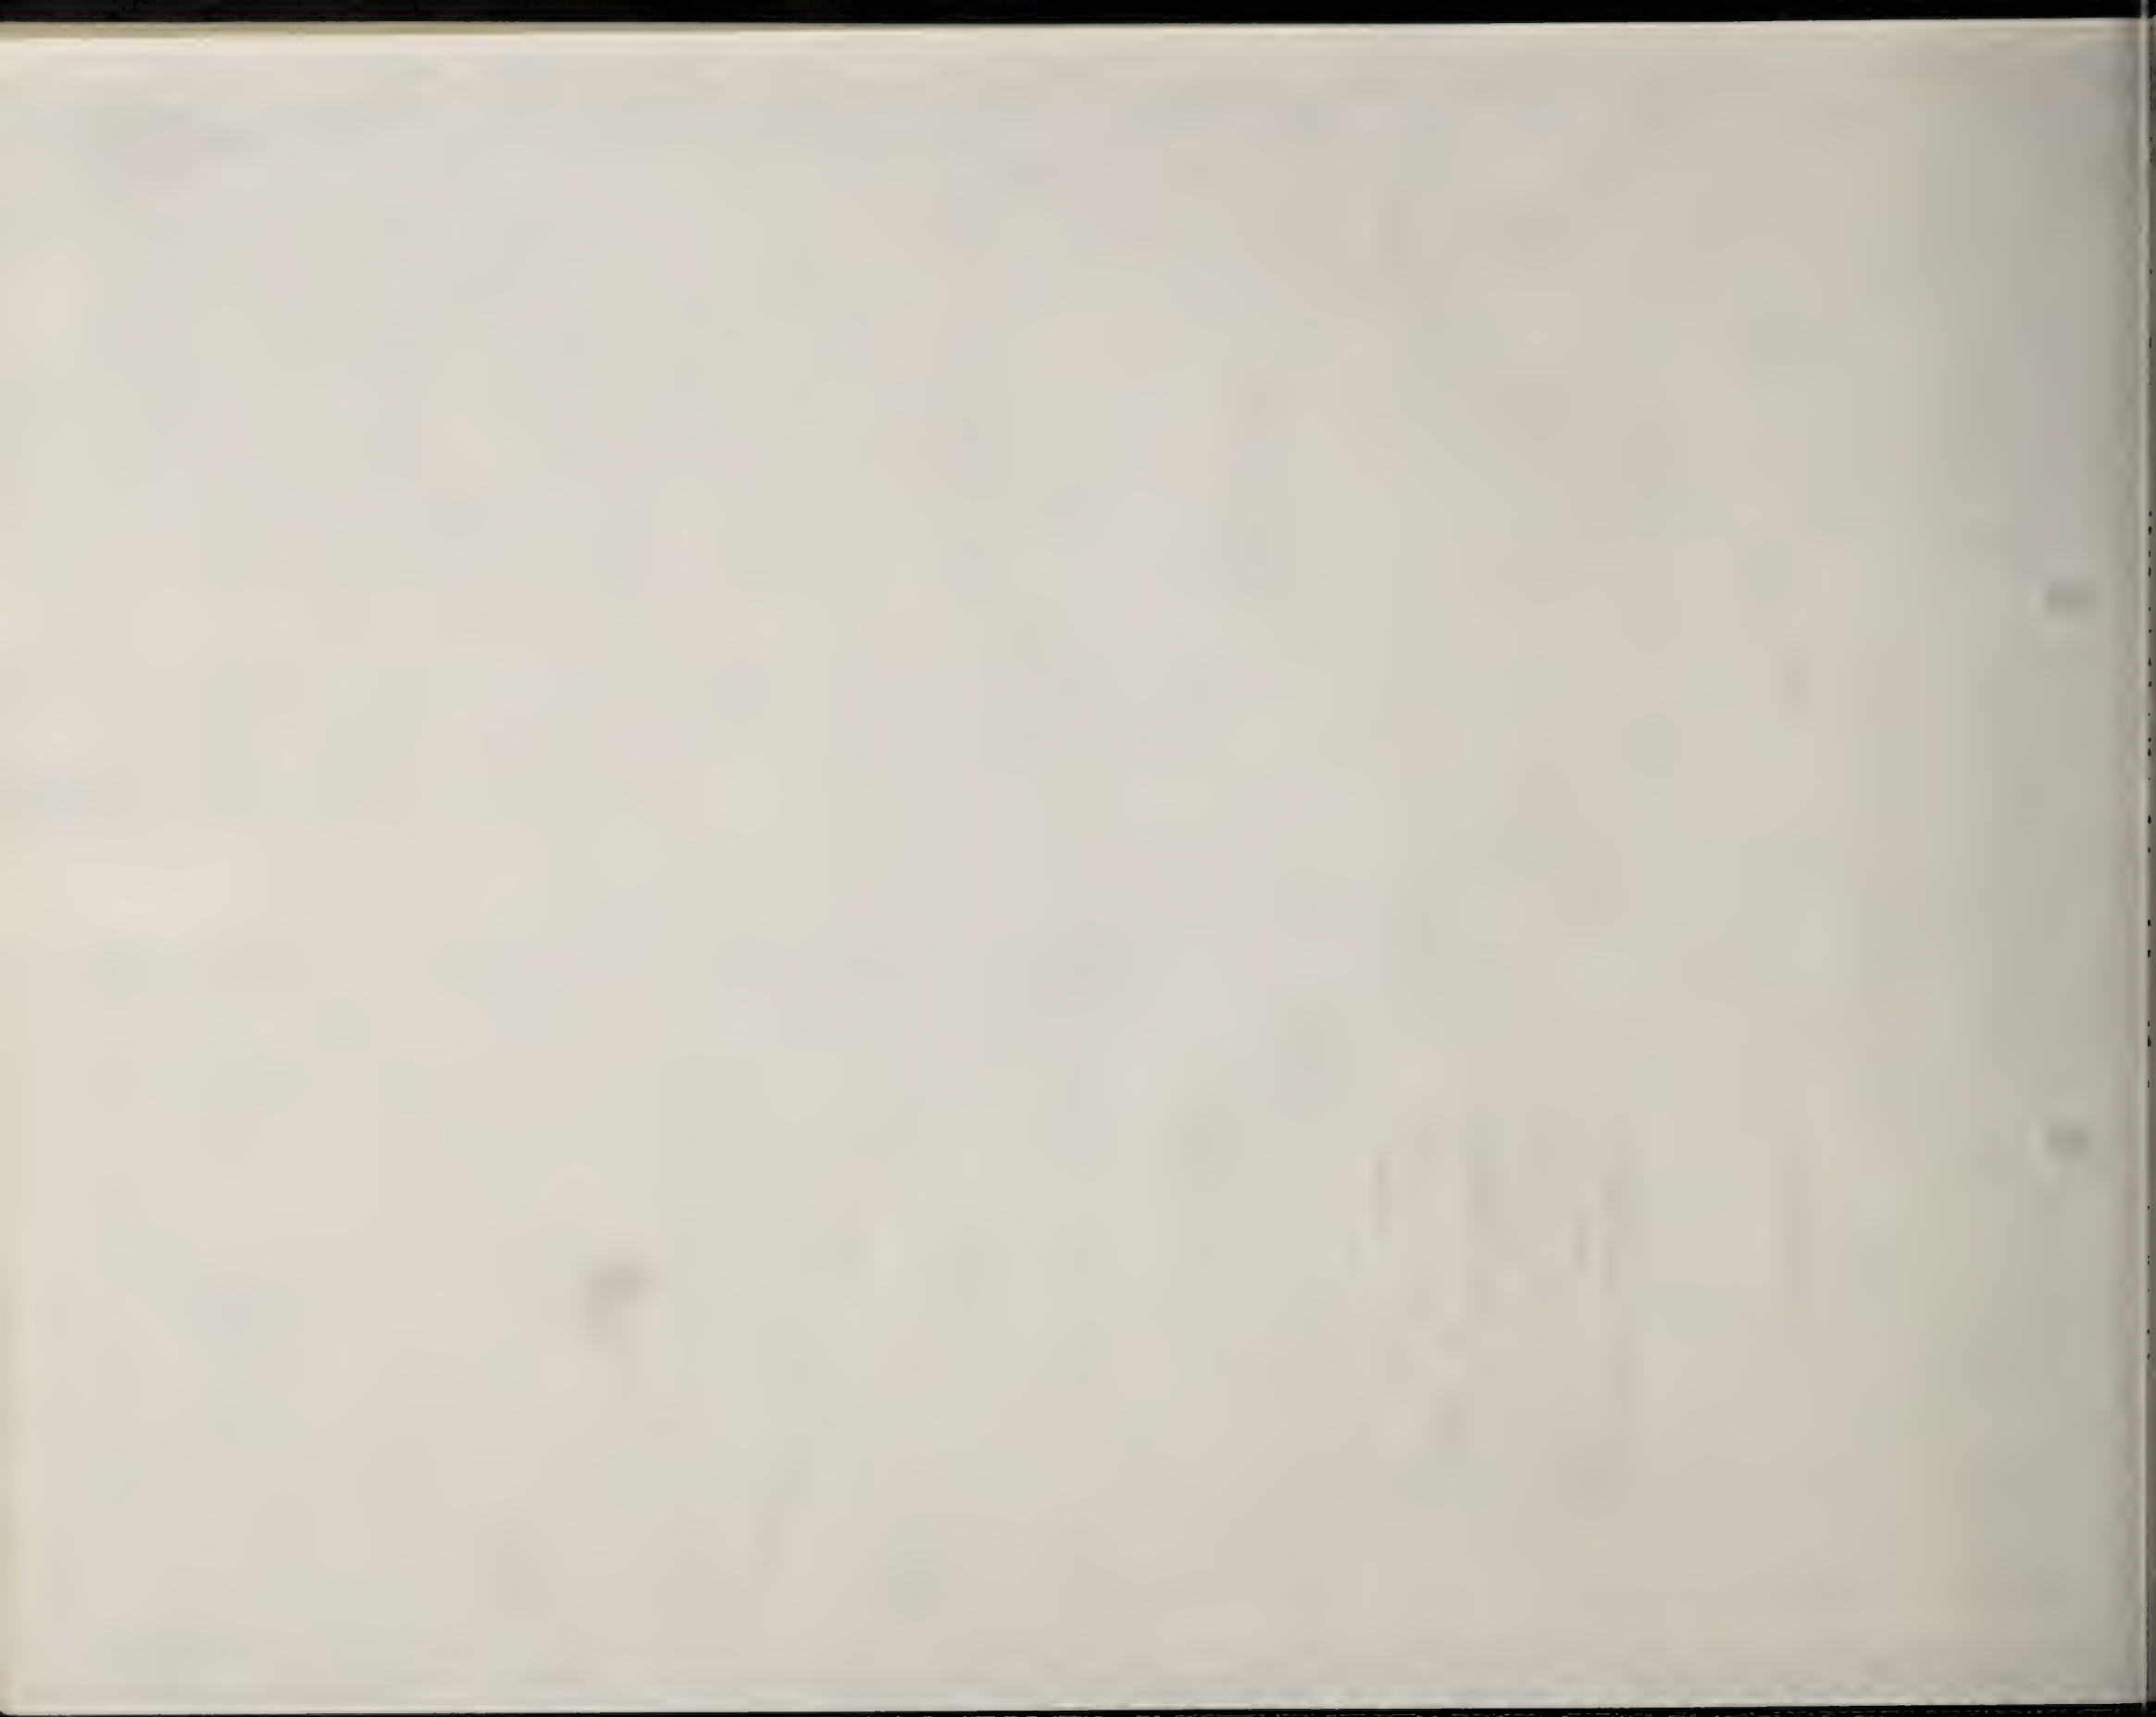

You will notice in the list that Margaret is one of his daughters and she became Margaret Fry whose record you gave.

If you care to go to Stokes County or have the records examined there you may find where Edward Evans came from and also get a line on the Hampton branch.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Relative:

My husband has forwarded your letter of Nov. 23 and I said, if the Lord lets me live until Sunday, I will write Miss Hunter and also send her the Compton Family lineage which I prepared for you last summer.

I regret to have seemed so slow about sending this historic material. I am very busy, yes, but nevertheless, I have been neglectful, I fear.

I wrote you, I believe, that Dr. G. and I were having our vacation in June? We went for 10 days to Galveston, Texas, then when we returned, I had some treatments at the hospital in Pittsburg for 3 days and on July 5th returned to Topeka to my work and I have been going at a terrific pace ever since - going is right for my work requires me to travel all over our State. I am the traveling instructor for the Government Project Historical Records Survey, which is compiling material on county government to be used as a reference text book in schools and colleges.

I am sending you all the information I have been able to get together on our Compton family history. I cannot get farther back than Basil Compton and his wife Sarah Winn. Really, I do not mean it when I say I cannot get farther, because I can and I will do so later on when I have the time. I have already a lot of information on the Winn family generally, but I cannot tie our Sarah to the lines on which I have information, as yet. I also will, some day, get Basil Compton's early history. I am hungry to get to work on our Genealogy but must "make hay while the sun shines" on my holding this Federal position.

Another line I will clear for us, later on, is on Elizabeth Morris who married Henry Fry our ancestor. How did you enjoy the Fry History, Miss Hunter? I am proud of it because it is so complete. I have done years and years of work on the Fry and Compton History. The direct line thru my ancestor Isaac Compton's marriage (and of which you are not a part) is very complete and I became a member of the D.A.R. thru Barbara Smith who married Isaac Compton. We are eligible to be members of the D.A.R. also thru the Fry line which I have sent to you. When I complete Elizabeth Morris' line, we will be eligible to be members of the Colonial Dames. I have information, when I can tie us into it, of our earliest ancestor thru Elizabeth Morrin, being a Justice of the Peace in a Virginia County (I forget the name, I have it tho) and who helped to organize this county in the early 1600's.

I regret to have your information that Cousin John Fry was ill last summer. I do hope he recovered. I wish I could get at a letter to him. He is a wonderfully fine man. I visited in their home Thanksgiving Day 1930.

Yes, this cousin in Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. Glen Zellner, wrote me most excitedly about the Francis Fry in Texas who had died leaving a large unclaimed estate. She wanted me to send her whatever information I had on the Frys - or Francis Fry - but I didn't have him in our line.

I am glad you visited Cousins Henry and Mollie Morgan. How I wish I could do so.

Please write me here at Throop Hotel and let me hear you have received the Compton History safely. I trust your own family history is written correctly. If I could know you all better, I would gladly have added a more personal tone to it and included information specific to your family. You can enlarge upon the history I am certain.

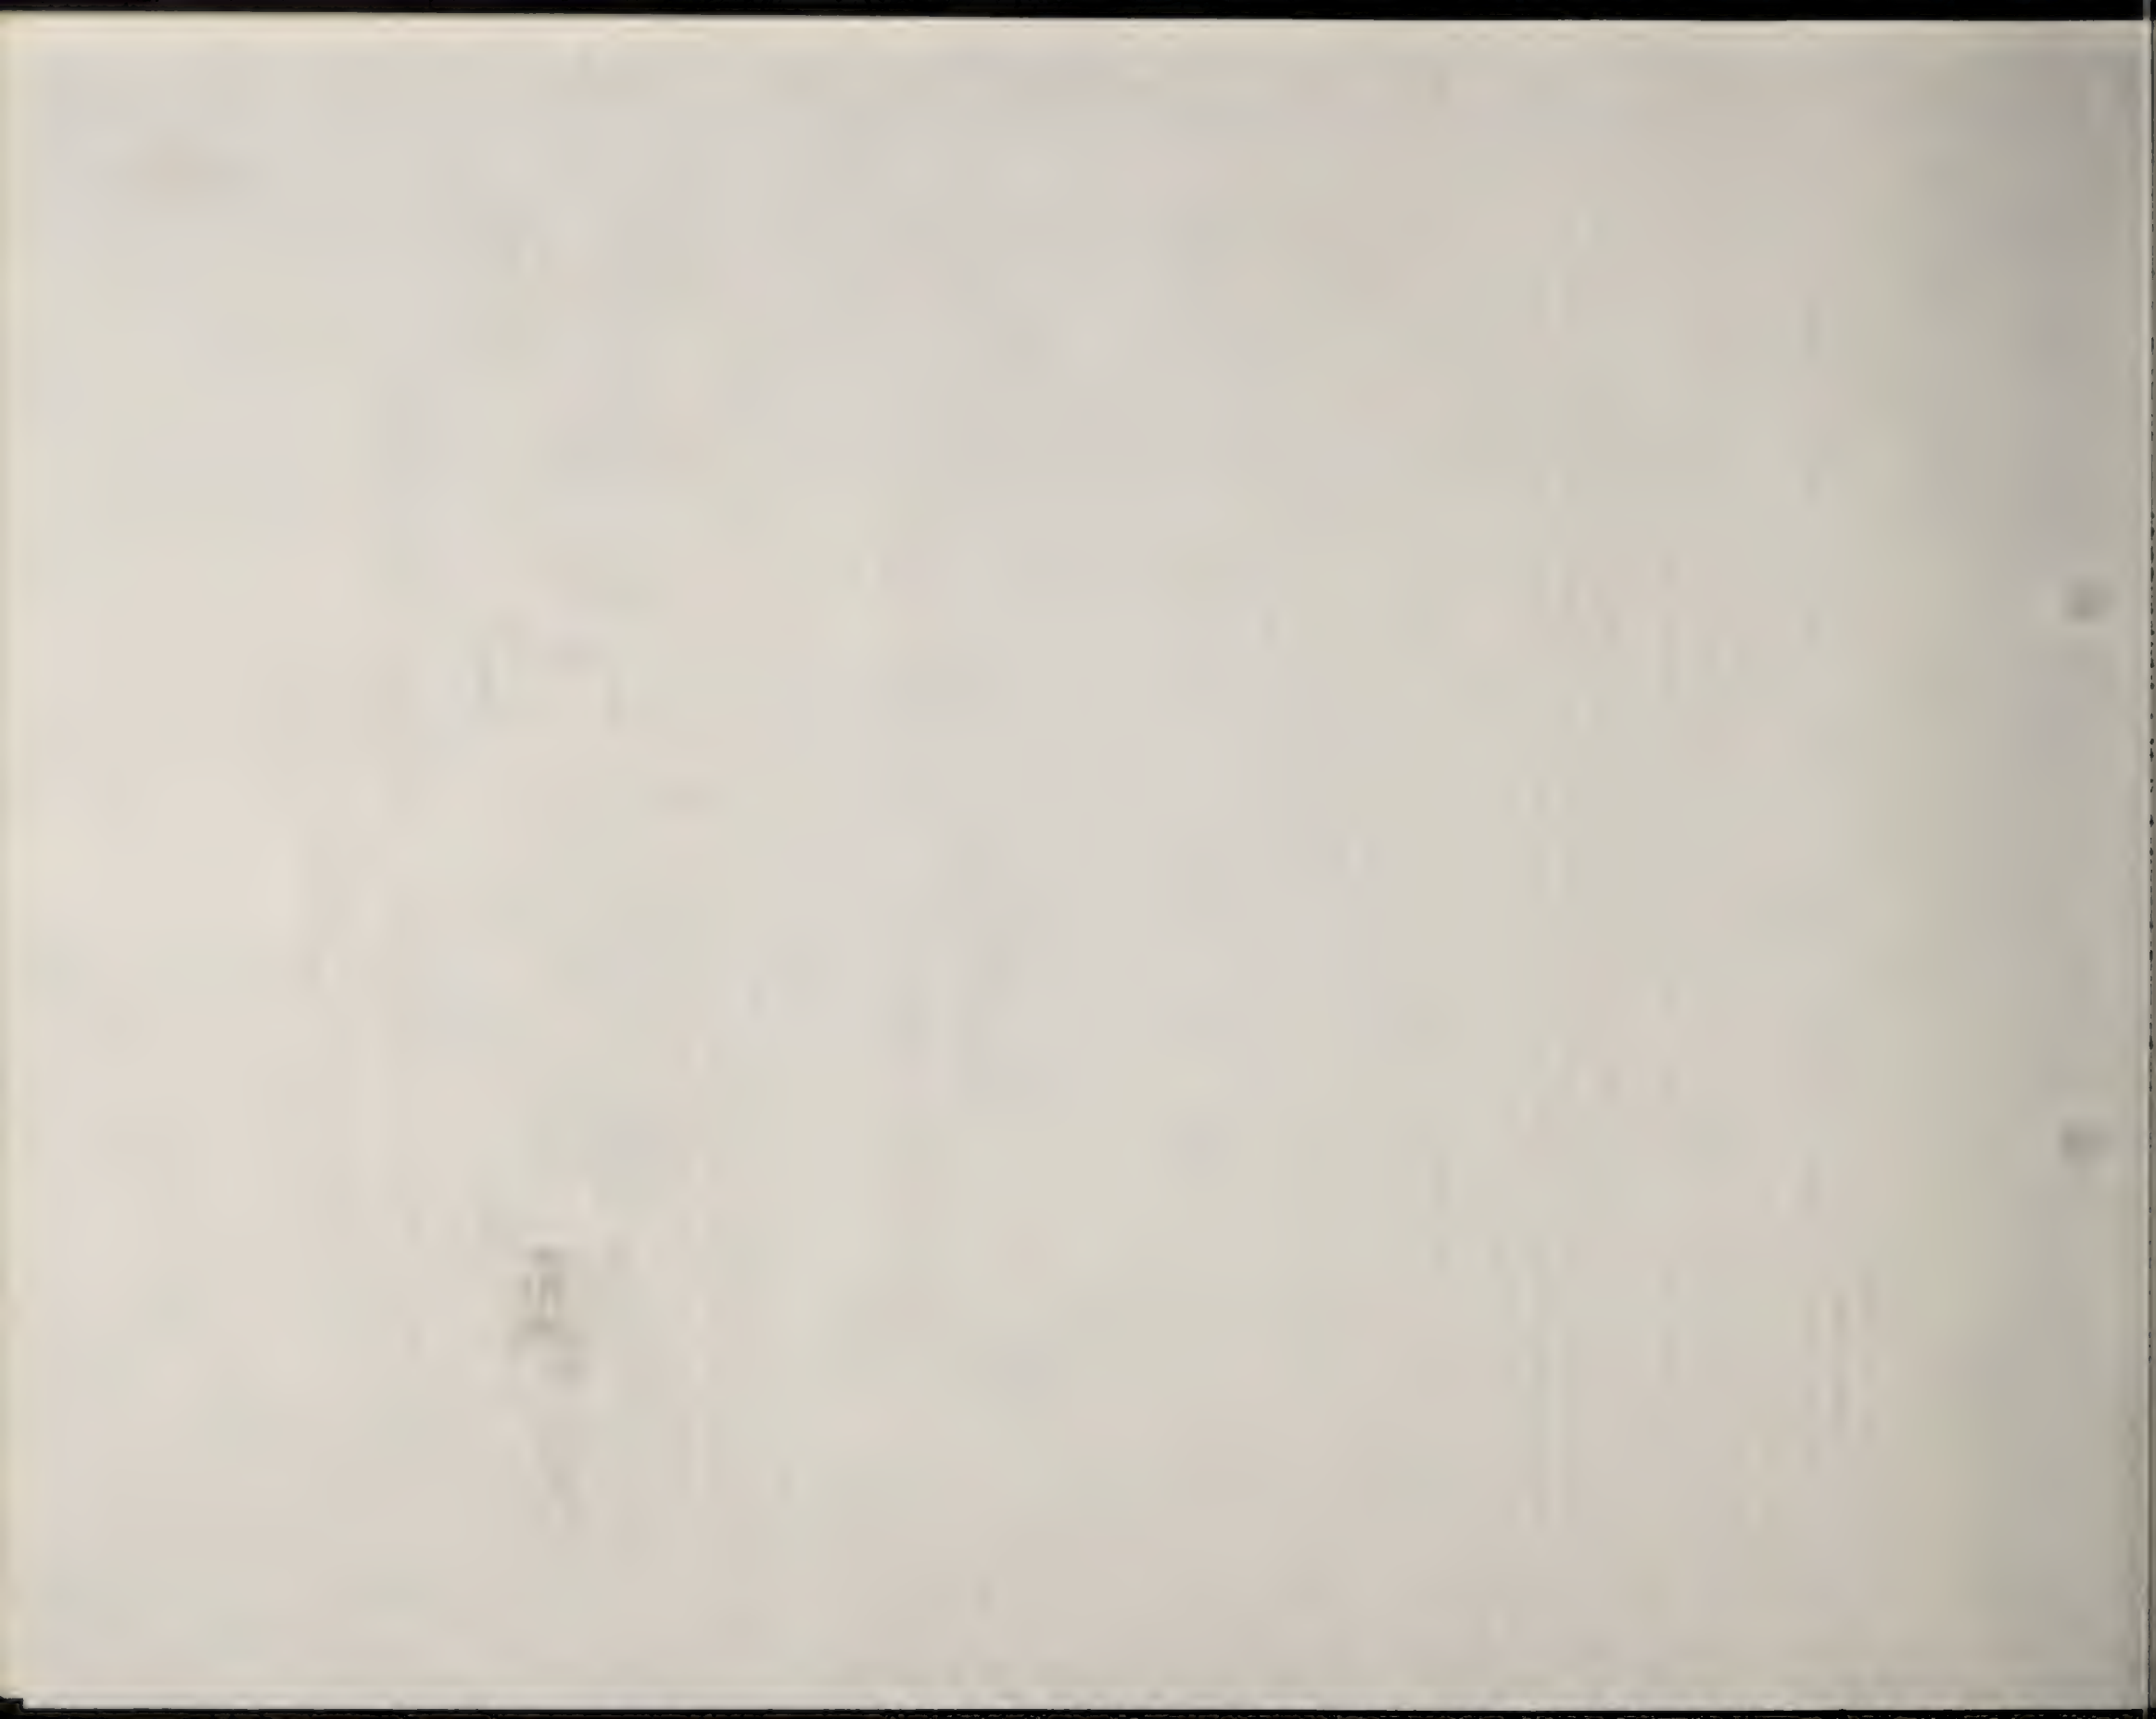

My ancestor was Isaac Compton, brother of your ancestor, Eber Compton. You will find my history very complete in the Fry Genealogy.

I note your statement that you will copy some of the Fry history "when you have time" for the Morgans. Ah! you, too, are a busy person. I am hurrying now because I have a lot of work to check over from various counties. I usually work all day Sunday if I am here. Frequently I start my week's travel on Sunday.

Write me soon.

Sincerely your relative,

Margaret Grendle

Dear relative, Miss Hunter:

Under separate cover, I am sending to you a complete copy of our FIVE (FIVE) Family History, as I have it completed. I have made no attempt to get it into book form as yet, but I hope to do so, some day.

You will find considerable material which has been furnished to me by our distant relative, W.M. Greasy of Wilmington, N.C. He has had the help of Miss Adelaide Fries, Archivist of the Moravian church, in America, and I also have had her assistance. This My History represents a labor of 413 years and I am still working on it. I am now endeavoring to get the Morris Family History, since our Henry Frey married Elizabeth Morris, so a distant Morris relative in Stokes Co. N.C. gives me this information.

While writing the Frey History, I also worked on our Compton Family History. I had heard Aunt Julia say that she remembered that her father said the Compton family came from South Carolina. I had no information as to the locality in S.C. in which they had lived until when in Washington D.C. in 1932 while reading many histories or counties in South Carolina, in the attempt to find mention of Compton families, I found the history of Spartanburg County and in it was the Biography of a Dr. William Poole Compton, and it is stated he had gone with his parents in 1818 to Giles County Tenn, etc. etc. and believe me, I wept tears of joy at finding this reference. I have never been able to definitely decide to which family of Comptons this man belonged altho I have had correspondence with his granddaughters in Spartanburg, Co. S.C. also I have had the genealogist in Spartanburg, who has done so much work for me in locating the court records on the wife of Isaac Compton, who was Barbara Smith, also search the records for some information on this Dr. William Poole Compton. I even decided that Basil Compton's wife Sarah was named Poole before her marriage and that William was their son so I rolled up the Poole line for weeks and weeks-- later on this old lady in Los Angeles Calif. gave me the information that her grandmother Compton's name was Winn before her marriage to Basil Compton. This genealogical work is interesting but it takes worlds of time and some money to follow it up.

Cousin Minnie Colley of Lynnville Tenn. has done so much to help me with old letters from S.C. and the Will of Basil Compton and many many other valuable helps, that I intend to present her with a copy of the Compton-Smith Family history and I hope to get it ready soon for she is not a young person any longer.

I hope you will get to go to see her, also Cousin John Fry in Columbia Tenn.. I have never seen Cousin Minnie Colley and I would love to go to see them all. I have has correspondence with several Compton decedents who live in Giles County Tenn. and each has aided with the Compton family history.

I will be unable to send the Compton Family History at this time and I fear I cannot send it before you leave for your trip. I have it all written out in pencil and I have help to type it for I am not expert at typing, like you are.

Since Dr. Grandle and I came from Galveston Texas, I have been having a strenuous time--I spent several hours in his dental chair for I have been neglecting my teeth and had to stop and have them attended to--then I went to see my doctor--my oldest daughter's husband is a very fine Physician and Surgeon--about ten years ago he operated on me for gall-bladder trouble and I have been having considerable trouble for the last few years, again--He advised that I go out to the hospital and spend a few days and let him give me a thorough checking over so last Friday I went out and returned yesterday (Sunday) and believe me I feel like he has left nothing overlooked; it was pretty painful and I am still feeling weak and "all gone" but it was worth the ordeal to find out my condition is very satisfactory--nothing to cut out, or to worry about. I shall now go on back to Topeka, in the morning to resume my duties with the Historical Records Survey.

You may address me at Throop Hotel, Topeka, Kansas and please let me have at least a card while you are gone. Just as soon as I get the Compton records typed I will send them to you. I shall not be able to send them to you before you return from your trip, so do not look for them. Suppose you write me at Topeka, right away and tell me where you will be located most of the time, and if it is possible for me to send them sooner, I could send them to you at that address.

I hope you will enjoy the next records--I am so very proud of them and very few families have as complete a lineage as we have on our Fry line--I found the ship in which they old Peter Fry and family came over to Penn. when I was in Wash. D.C. I had many facts which W.M. Orsady did not possess, so we have everything each had accumulated to each other. He also sent me his complete line on the Hatterburg who marries Christine Fry daughter of Valentine and Barbara Binkelo Fry--I think the Binkelo Record is so very interesting and it takes our family back farther than the Fry line--you can spend you time reading your family history as you travel to visit your people. Our relation to Hamney Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Appa Henry Eber Morgan have been so much help to me in giving me records of Eber Compton's family, I want you to type them a copy of the Compton line when I send it to you for I have included their records for their own family--will you do this for them?

I hope that you have a happy time at your home and have a safe journey.

Sincerely yours

Margaret Grandle

Mr Dear Relative, Miss Hunter:

I want to acknowledge the receipt of your check for $15.00 payment for FRY-Compton Genealogy, received by me on June 25. I thank you for this check and I will do my best to get the Family History to you before July 9th when you say you expect to leave for Tenn. and Oklahoma.

This will be a big task for me as I do not have the Compton history compiled into regulation form. I have an abundance of fragmentary material and I assure you that I will get it into shape as soon as possible. I have the FRY lineage in good shape and will add your line to mine and be able to send this to you, I feel certain, in plenty of time.

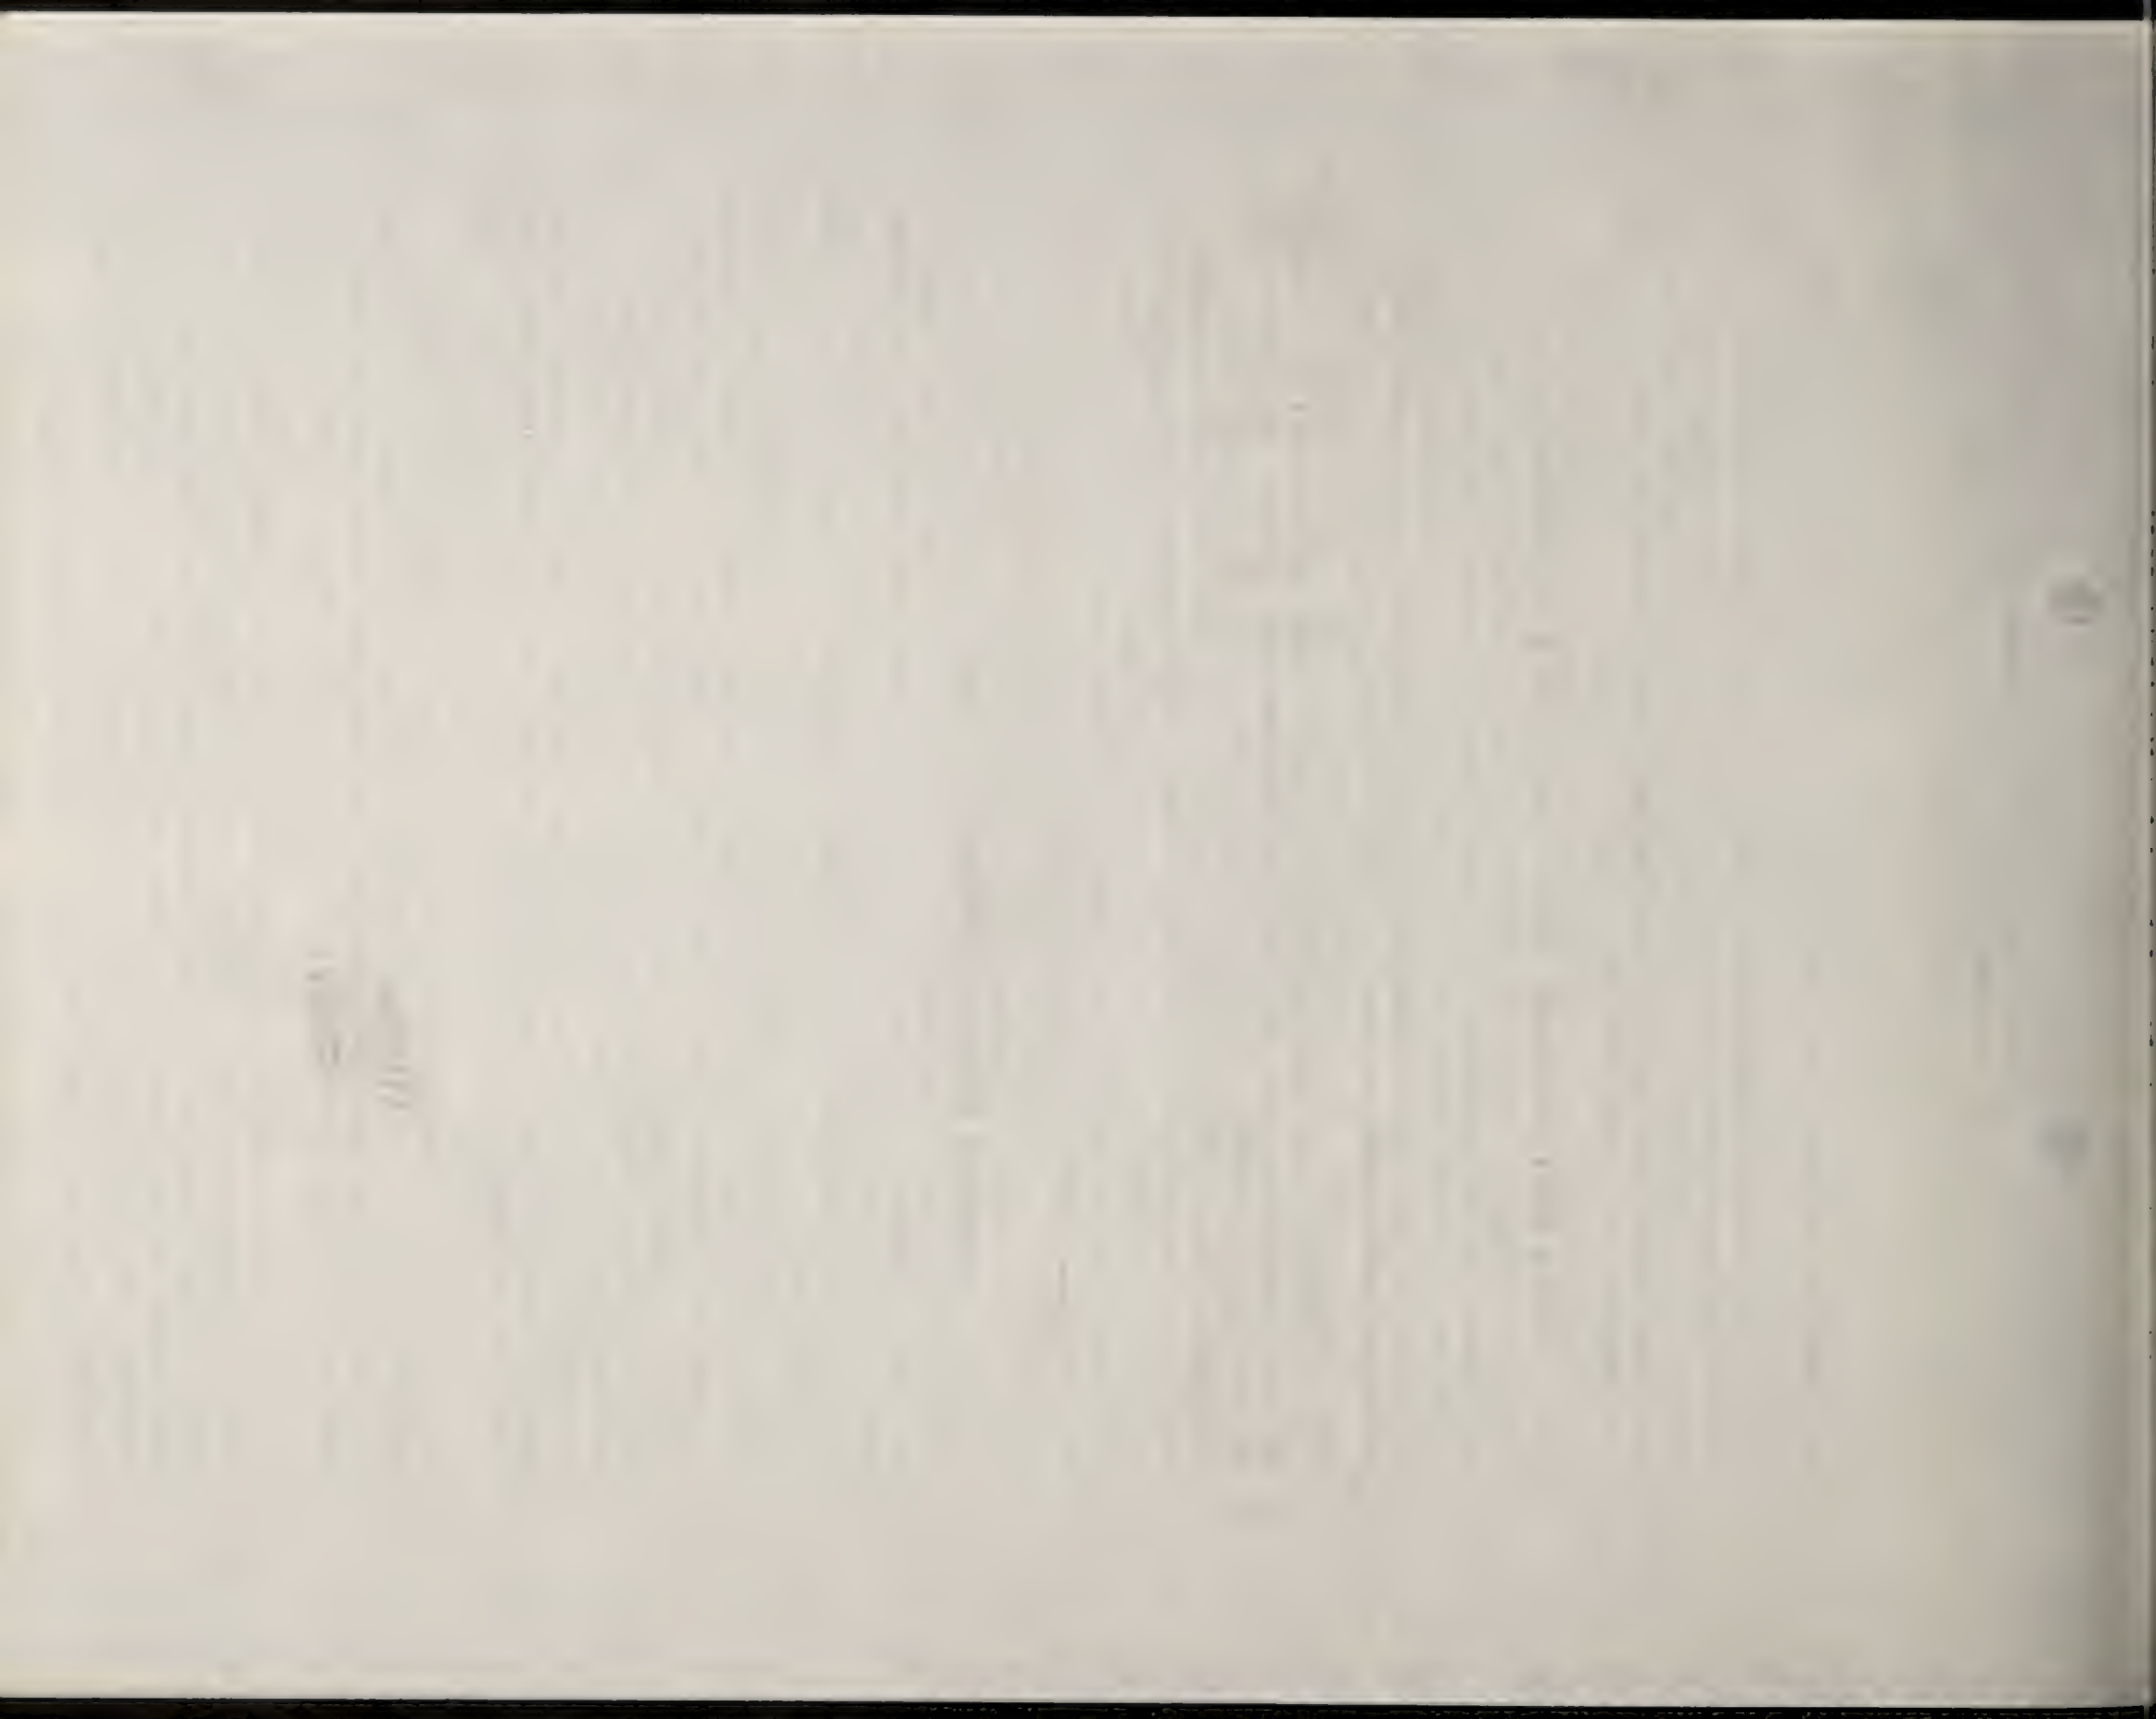

I know you will be happy to read the FRY History, for it is very complete and very nonfictitious. You may become a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution upon this FRY lineage. While the Frys were not soldiers in the Revolutionary War, they were Patriots because they took the oath of allegiance to the Constitution, also they gave good and able assistance to the maintenance of the Continental armies in North Carolina as you will find in this History.

Now, I am a member of the D.A.R. but I did not join on my FRY lineage--I intend, however, to get some additional bars from the FRY line. I have my lineage on my grandfather Compton's mother's line--- she was the wife of Isaac Compton and her name was Barbara Smith--Isaac Compton was a brother to Elzer Compton who married Angelina Fry, daughter of John Fry and Margaret Evans

Your John Fry's wife, Margaret Evans, was the daughter of Edward Evans and Margaret Evans and was born in North Carolina I am sure that you can trace a very fine family from the Evans line. I would like to do this for you some time, or help you to do it. I have not given up hope that we can find the father of our Basil Compton some day or that we can trace the line of our ancestor Sarah Winn, wife of Basil Compton, also. I have done a lot of work on the Winn family line but as yet have not located the line to which Sarah belongs.

I am indeed sorry that you cannot visit us on your return to Ohio, but I feel you are fortunate to have this chance to ride back in the automobile with friends, which as you say, will be a ~~big~~ saving or quite a little sum of money.

I am home on my vacation; I have two weeks and must be back in Topeka by July 5th. My husband and I have just returned from a weeks vacation in Galveston Texas and we had such a fine time eating fresh fish and enjoying the Gulf waves and breeze. Of course the water is no novelty to you as you are on the lake all the time, but it is a great treat for us.

Since receiving your letter, I have been getting my family history materials all out her on the table, preparatory to writing various provisions for you. I have so much information which if you were only her to read it, you would be able to enjoy the more human side of it all. I have received many letters from distant relatives containing such interesting family lines and they always include personal items of things concerning their present families. Some day I hope to have you in our home.

Just today, I received a wonderful letter from a distant relative in North Carolina who is on our Morris line. He is doing work for me on this line. I sent him $5.00 last Feb. and this is the first time I have had a word from him as to whether he received it or not--he never said one word in this letter about receiving that money, either. You will note on a certain page of the Fry history that I have written with my pen that I hope to prove that Elizabeth (widow Moser) maiden name was Morris. Well, this relative in N.C. is certain that Henry Fry (Fry) married Elizabeth Morris. He has a very fine history of the Morris line and we are entitled to be a part of that line, whenever, we can be certain of this marriage.

Cousin John Fry, in Columbia, Tenn. told me when I was there in Nov. 1930 that he had always heard that her name was Morris before she married Henry Fry. I had the history as sent me by the genealogist at Winston-Salem N.C. Miss Adelaide Fries, which gave her as the widow Moser, but this relative in N.C. who sent me this letter today, tells me that he can find no descendant who has any information that she was the widow Moser when she married Henry Fry. I am of the opinion, however, that Miss Fries record is ~~correct~~ correct for it is translated from the death record of valentine Fry and those Moravian people were very strict in keeping their family records.

I hope that you will go to visit our relative, Cousin John Fry in Columbia, Tenn. He is a man about 78 years old and a splendid gentleman. He is of your direct line. Your Grandmother Angelina Fry Compton was a sister to his father William Fry. He may have some of the Evans line or your history. He is very interested in the family history and I have appreciated his help and his friendship more than I can express in words. How I wish that I could go to see him again. If you see him, please give him my love.

I am happy to tell you that my little grandson is improving wonderfully--he walks without a limp but he is not using his arm and hand as freely as he uses his leg. The physician tells us that he will finally recover, he thinks, 100%. We are very thankful for this wonderful recovery.

At the present time, I do not think there is any thing you can do for me in Tenn. concerning our family history but I do appreciate your offer to help me. I want to get the Compton line all together as soon as possible for you, but please, if I am unable to do so, be patient with me and I will get it to you finally. I hope you have a happy time at home.

Sincerely yours,

Wm

Dear Miss Hunter:

I have your letter of April 24 requesting information concerning our Compton family lineage. I am glad to hear from you as it is indeed a satisfaction when I know that other relatives are interested in their early ancestors history. As it happens we have a line of ancestors who deserve all the reverence and attention which we their descendants can pay to them.

I have spent years of time also considerable money in securing facts concerning the family history not only for the Compton line but also for the Fry ancestors. I have only been able to go back on the Compton line to our Great great grandfather. He was Basil Compton and was born probably in Spartanburg Co. South Carolina. 1844/45 the tombstone record where he is buried in the old family graveyard near Lynnville Tenn. gives 12, 1846. Thru our relatives who live near and in Lynnville Tenn. I have secured tombstone records of many of the Comptons and Frys. We have a relative a Mrs. Minnie Coffey, living in Lynnville Tenn. whose lineage is the same line as mine direct. Her grandfather was a brother to my grandfather and they were sons of Isaac Compton and Isaac was a son of Basil and a brother to your great grandfather Peter Compton.

Mrs. Coffey sent me the Will of Basil Compton which I copied and returned to her and in this will he mentions the names of all his children. I will enclose a copy of the Will and if you go to Tenn. as you mention that you are planning to do, be sure to go and see Cousin Minnie Coffey. She is a lady nearing 70 years. I will be glad to arrange your lineage thru Basil Compton, or rather to him for I am not positive about our line of Comptons rather back than Basil our great great grandfather. I have secured facts on Thomas Compton in Spartanburg Co. S.C. and the Genealogist who has done so much work for me in that county is positive he is our ancestor yet we are working on definite facts for this proof.

I do have our complete line of ancestors on the Fry side back to Switzerland. It is a wonderful history and has cost me many trips to Washington in research work at the Congressional Library, the Census Bureau and research work at the Memorial Continental Hall D.A.R. I have also had personal help for which I paid $30.00 at one time for information. I made a trip to Stokes Co. N.C. and secured copies of Wills, deeds, marriages on the Fry lineage. I will send you copies of the information which I have compiled on the Fry family for $15.00. and will also write your Compton line making the connection clear to our ancestor Basil Compton.

The Fry lineage goes back 7 generations for me and for you will include 8 generations. It will go back thru your great-grand mother Angelina Fry and it is as clear and distinct as facts based on history; Wills, deeds, Memorials can determine. It is a marvelous history and you will be proud to have the record--proud that you are a descendant of such courageous, Christian ancestors.

It is true that I have had assistance freely given from many of our relatives, such as Mrs. Henry Morgan, Cousin Minnie Fry, Cousin John Fry of Columbia Tenn. and others but I have had to establish that printed facts the large percent of all the information which they could give. Their information could only go back to limited years and ancestors while I have then used their records and gone just as far back into the history as can be determined.

On our Fry line, I must tell you that your great-grand-father was a brother to my great-grandfather. The biography which you found in the Cleveland Public Library on John W. Fry of Columbia Tenn. is not correct. John W. Fry, who still lives in Columbia is the son of William Fry and he came with his father John Fry at an early age from Stokes County N.C. Your great-grandmother Angelina Fry Compton was the daughter of John Fry who came from N.C. to Tenn. in 1808. William was her brother, but she was born very soon after they arrived in Tenn. in ~~18~~ Sept. 11, 1808 in Williams Co. Tenn.

I note that you mention that likely you could stop and visit me on your way from Amarillo, Texas to Kansas City this summer and I want to assure you that I would be most happy to have you do this. I think it will not be out of your way to come to Pittsburg and our entire family extends to you a most cordial invitation for you to come.

Just now we are in the depths of worry over an accident which happened last Sunday to our little grand-son (our son's second boy). My husband took the two little grand-sons 9 and 8 years old, out to the airport to see some stunts which were to take place and one of the little boys, Edward, 8 years got away from his grand-father and brother and got too close to the propeller of the plane and was struck on the head causing a fractured skull. It is terrible and the left side of his body is paralyzed. We are going back and forth to and from the hospital all the time and my son and wife remain out there practically all the time. My oldest daughter married Dr. Carl Newman a prominent surgeon and physician of this city and he is taking care of Edward. He does not build up our hopes as to his recovery but is encouraged with his condition this morning as he seems stronger and his mind is clear--he is conscious and remembers the trip in to the hospital in the ambulance. This was a terrible shock for the grand-father for he was searching for Edward and was told that he had been injured and taken to the hospital.

I am not an expert with the typewriter as you can see, but I am so worried it is a wonder that I can concentrate sufficiently to write a coherent letter to you. My typewriter is an old one.

I think you will come to Joplin from Amarillo, and it is only 35 miles from Joplin to Pittsburg. We will meet you at Joplin if only you will come that far to see us.

I am holding a government position and my headquarters are in Topeka, Kansas. I have been home however about 10 days as my work took me into Cherokee County, the county just south of this, and also I had work for my own county as I was home when this accident occurred, for which I will always be thankful.

Let me hear from you soon

Sincerely
your relative

The following record for the Hunter family was copied from the family Bible, which belonged to Eber and Angelina Eber Compton, by Mrs Virginia Hunter McMillan 1324 East Murphy St. Fort Worth, Texas, and who is their granddaughter.

She procured this record and sent it to Mrs. Henry Eber Morgan in McKinney, Texas, who then sent the information to me. (Margaret Gracie).

H. Mary Frances Compton, daughter of Eber and Angelina Eber Compton, Granddaughter of Basil and Sarah Winn Compton, was born Dec. 4, 1861 near Springfield, Creek Co., Mo. She moved with her parents some time during the summer of 1861 to Collin Co. Texas. At the courthouse in Springfield, Green Co. Mo. there is a record of a deed recorded in Deed Book "I" page 165, June 18, 1861 signed by Eber Compton and Angelina Compton in which land was deeded to John
E. Compton for the sum of $100.00

This land have been the time when Eber Compton was disposing of some of his property and moving to Texas. That he did not dispose of all his property is a fact verified by the Court records.
In "Hill Book "I" page 494 is recorded the death of Eber Compton, in--Co. Texas and that he died intestate and Elish Headler was appointed July 21, 1868 as administrator for property in Green Co.
Mo.

John E. Compton, was killed in battle near Springfield Mo.
Oct. 5, 1862 and his property may have reverted to Eber Compton, his father.

Mary Frances Compton was 16 yrs. old when her father Eber
Compton died. She was the youngest child of their eight children.
Soon after the death of her father, her mother, Angelina Eber
Compton and her family moved to Bonham, Texas to be near her sister Mollie E. Compton and husband Charles Carlton also that Mary Frances might attend the Carlton College which was founded by Elder Charles Carlton.

Charles Carlton married March 10, 1861 in Springfield Mo.
Mrs. Mollie Eber Abernathy and in 1867 moved to Bonham, Tamm Co.
Texas where he founded Carlton College and for thirty-five years was at its head. He also organized the Christian Church in that city and preached for that congregation up to the time of his death. The "Bonham News" issue of Friday, Feb. 14, 1902 gives a full first page death notice eulogy to the life of "Elder Charles Carlton" also gives his picture. This copy of "Bonham News" was sent to me by Henry Eber Morgan and wife Mollie to whom we are indebted for much of this family history.

Mollie living in Bonham, Texas, Mary Frances Compton married Dec. 20, 1870, John C. Hunter of Maryville, Tenn. They continued to live there until late in the year of 1874, she and her husband and sons, Jesse, Eber, and Robert Marshall, and her mother Angeline Eber Compton, moved back to the old home place in Collin Co. Texas where they made their home until the year 1897. After the death of the mother, Angelina Fry Compton, the old home place was sold and divided among the heirs and John W. Hunter and wife Mary Frances built a new home for their family about a mile away where they lived until the death of the husband and father, John W. Hunter Jan. 7, 1907. In 1910 she moved to a new home in Allen, Texas about three miles west of the old home place where she died Dec. 12, 1916. She and her husband are buried in the Forest Grove Cemetery near her parents. (This information submitted by Mrs. Virginia Hunter McMillan daughter of John W. Hunter and wife Mary Frances Compton Hunter).

"Colonial Records of N.C." by Saunders-Vol. VIII 1769 to 1771 (page 750) St. Pauls', St. John's, Newton and Smyrna Congregations, all are in the present county of Catawba, formerly part of old Lincoln County.

This County of Catawba was largely settled by Germans from Pennsylvania.

The Pioneer of these Immigrants was Henry Weidner (Whitner) who, about 1765 came along to this region to hunt and trap. He lived in peace with the Indians, who still held the soil. He was wont to go back to the civilized world each Spring, carrying his belts etc. on several horses. The patent for his land bears date of 1760. On one of his return trips he brought as a companion of his forest life, a young wife Mary Bell and a youth by the name of Conrad Yoder, the ancestor of a large and esteemed posterity in that county. Weidner in a short time was followed by the Conrads, Reinhardts, Frys, Fordneys Ranchos, Hammurs, Coulters, Fingers, Zimmerman's (Carpenters, now) Ikards, Noyles, Clines, Setzers, etc.

One of the first public duties of these people was to find a place to build a school house and a place of Worship. The Mother Church in Catawba County is St. Pauls—a Union Lutheran and Reformed Church. All the churches in that day in the County of Lincoln were Union Churches. Its foundation dates about 1760.

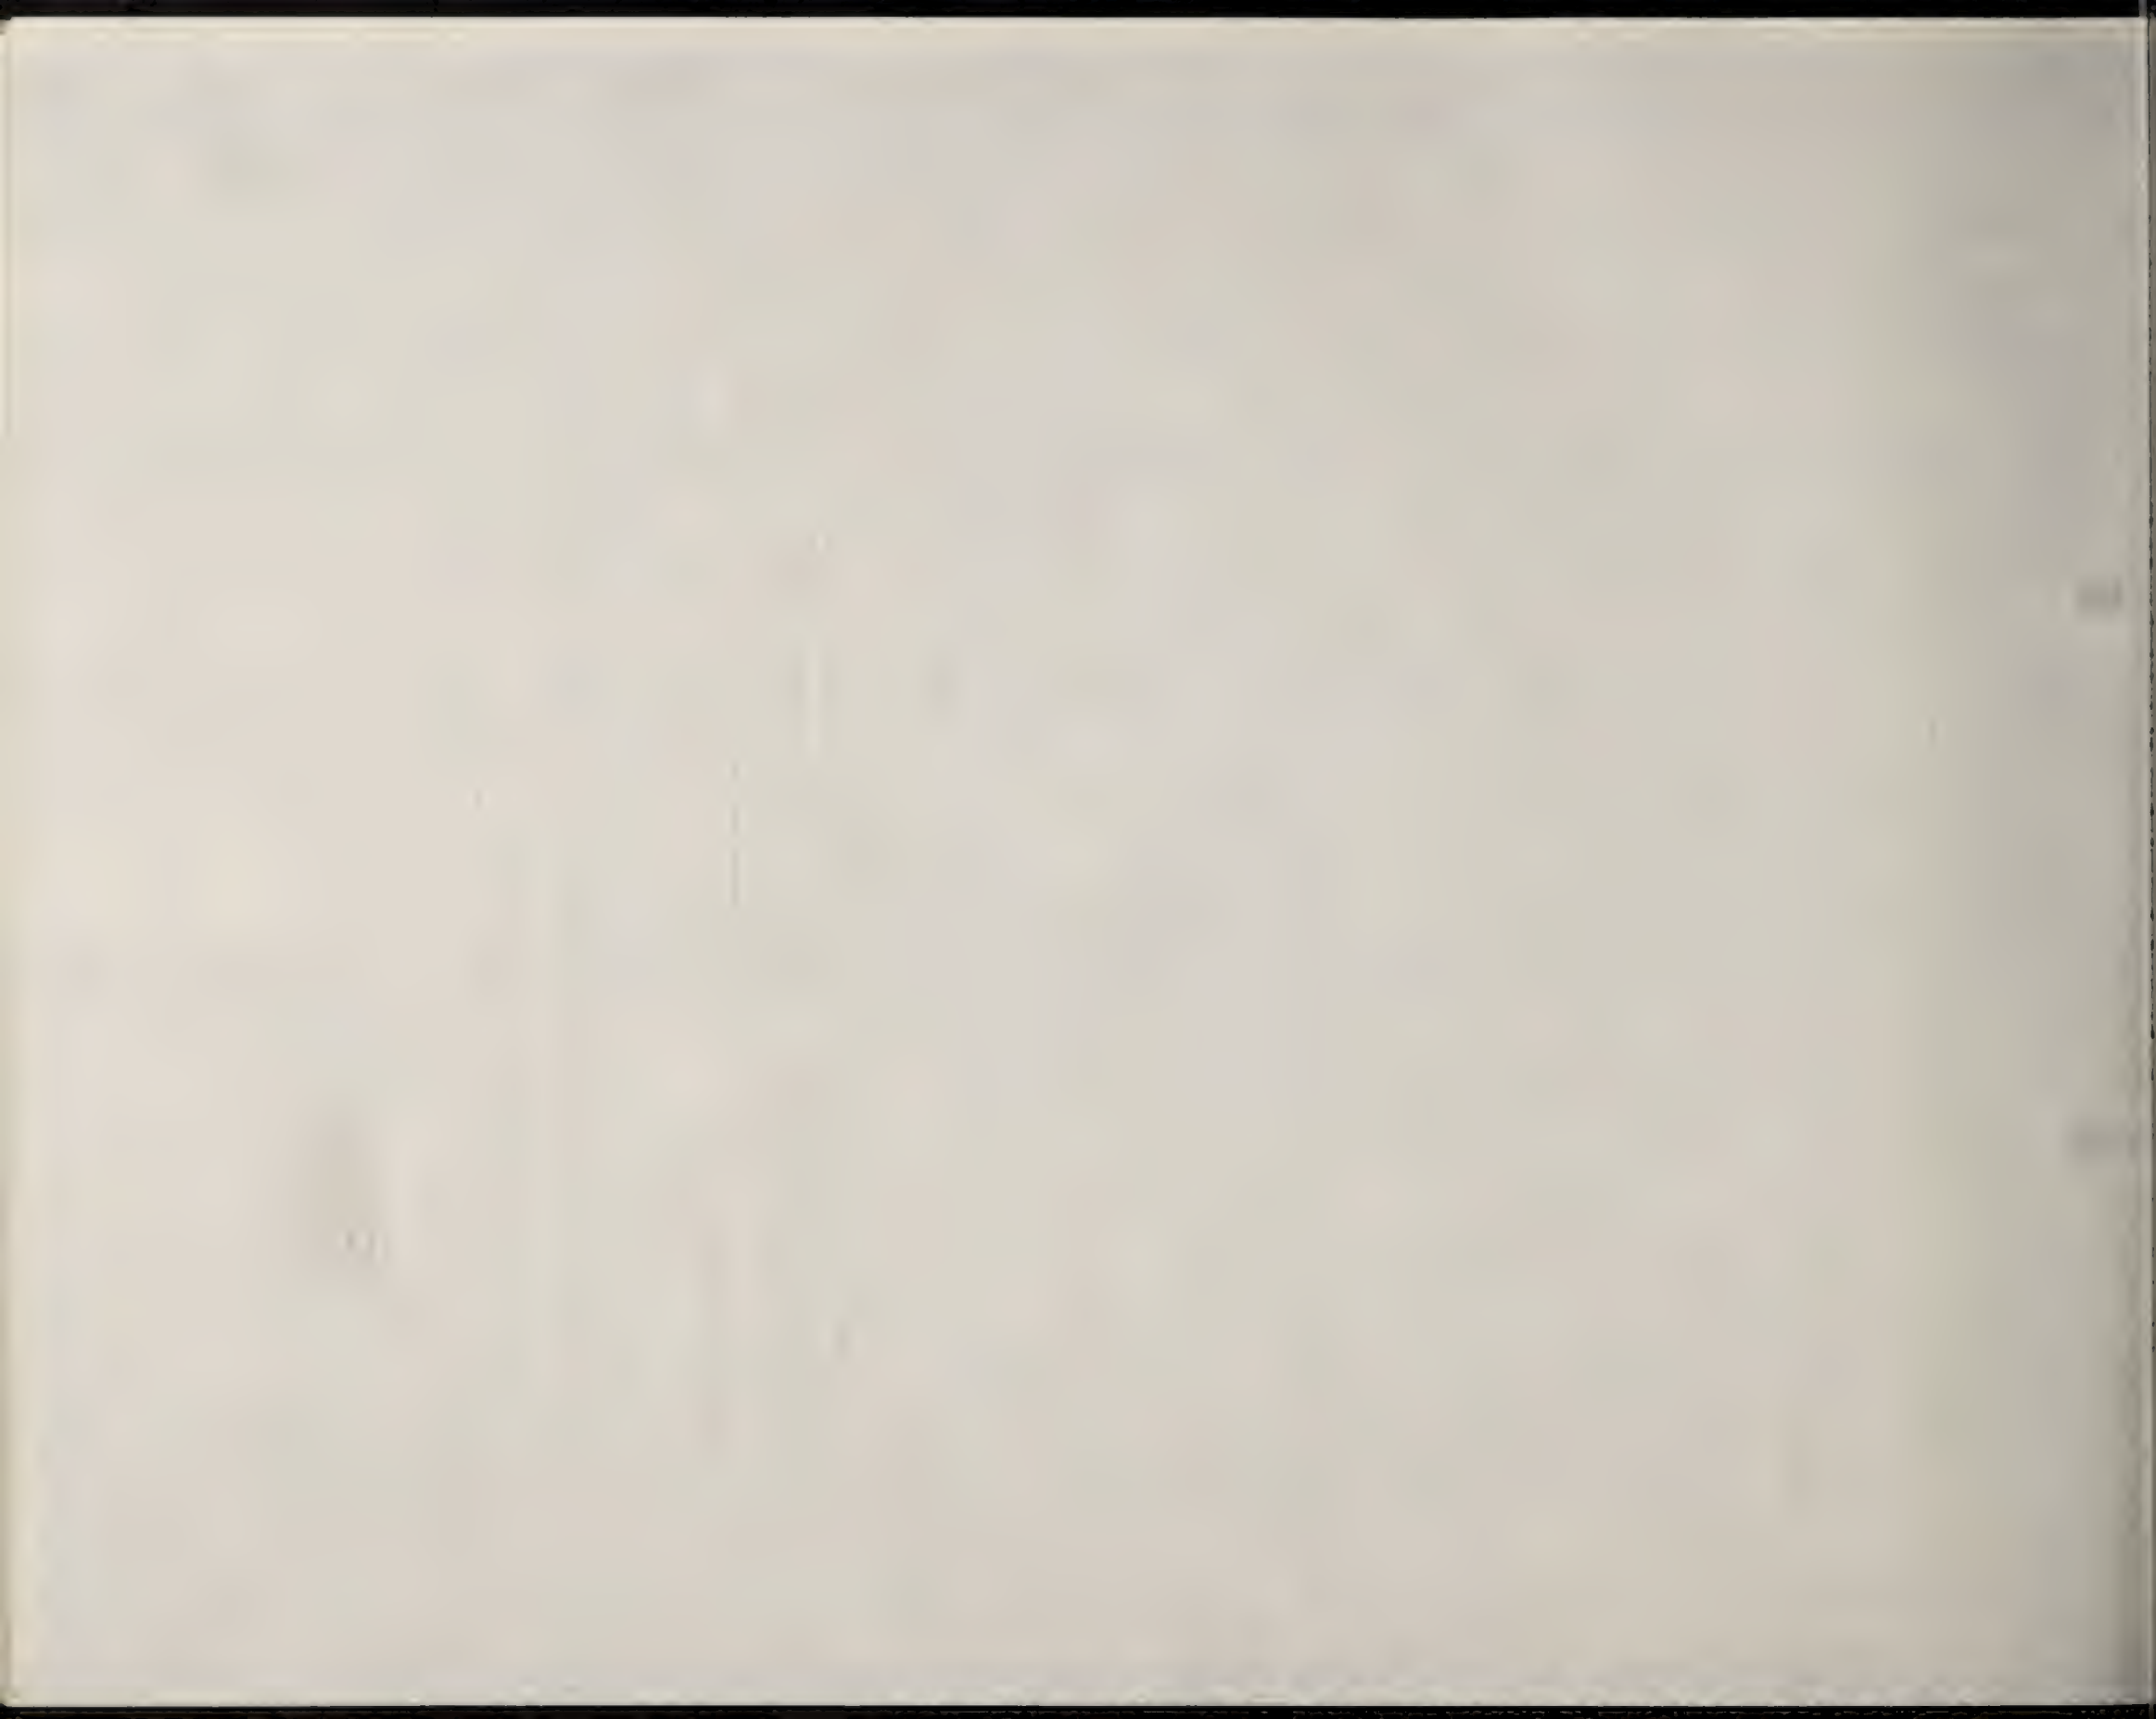

The site was donated by Paul Anthony. It is a few miles west of the town of Newton on the waters of the South Fork of the Catawba River.

This primitive log house remained until 1812 when it gave place to a larger and better building that yet remains. Martin preached here as in all the Reformed Churches of the Dispersion as early as 1759.

In the Church's early days, the Wilfongs, Coulters, Hermans (Belingers) Frys, Roinhardts, Weidners, were members and Officers of the Reformed Church here.

History of Machovia by J. H. Clewell-Page 169.

In the very theatre of the war-(revolution) after the Battle of Guilford Court house, the troops again began to pass thru Machovia large burdens were laid upon the people but they were able to say with the "Good man of Old": "He shall deliver thee in six troubles: yea in seven there shall no evil touch thee." He will in conclusion mention the points in connection with these turbulent times. The first was the care given to the wounded brought to Salem from the battle field of Guilford Court House; they were cared for in the hospital by Jenns and tenderly nursed by the people of the place, when they had left, these men spoke far and wide of true kindness of the Moravians and this, more than anything else won the friendship of the general public.

It will be shown as this record progresses that the Frey family came to America from Alsace in 1734 and settled in Pennsylvania. The earliest mention of the family in North Carolina is found in "Records of Moravians in North Carolina" Vol. I p 270 March 16 1763, copied from Moravian Diaries now on file in the archives of the Moravian Church at Winston-Salem N.C.

"The Chief Justice and his company on their way to Salisbury spent the night at Christian Frey's."

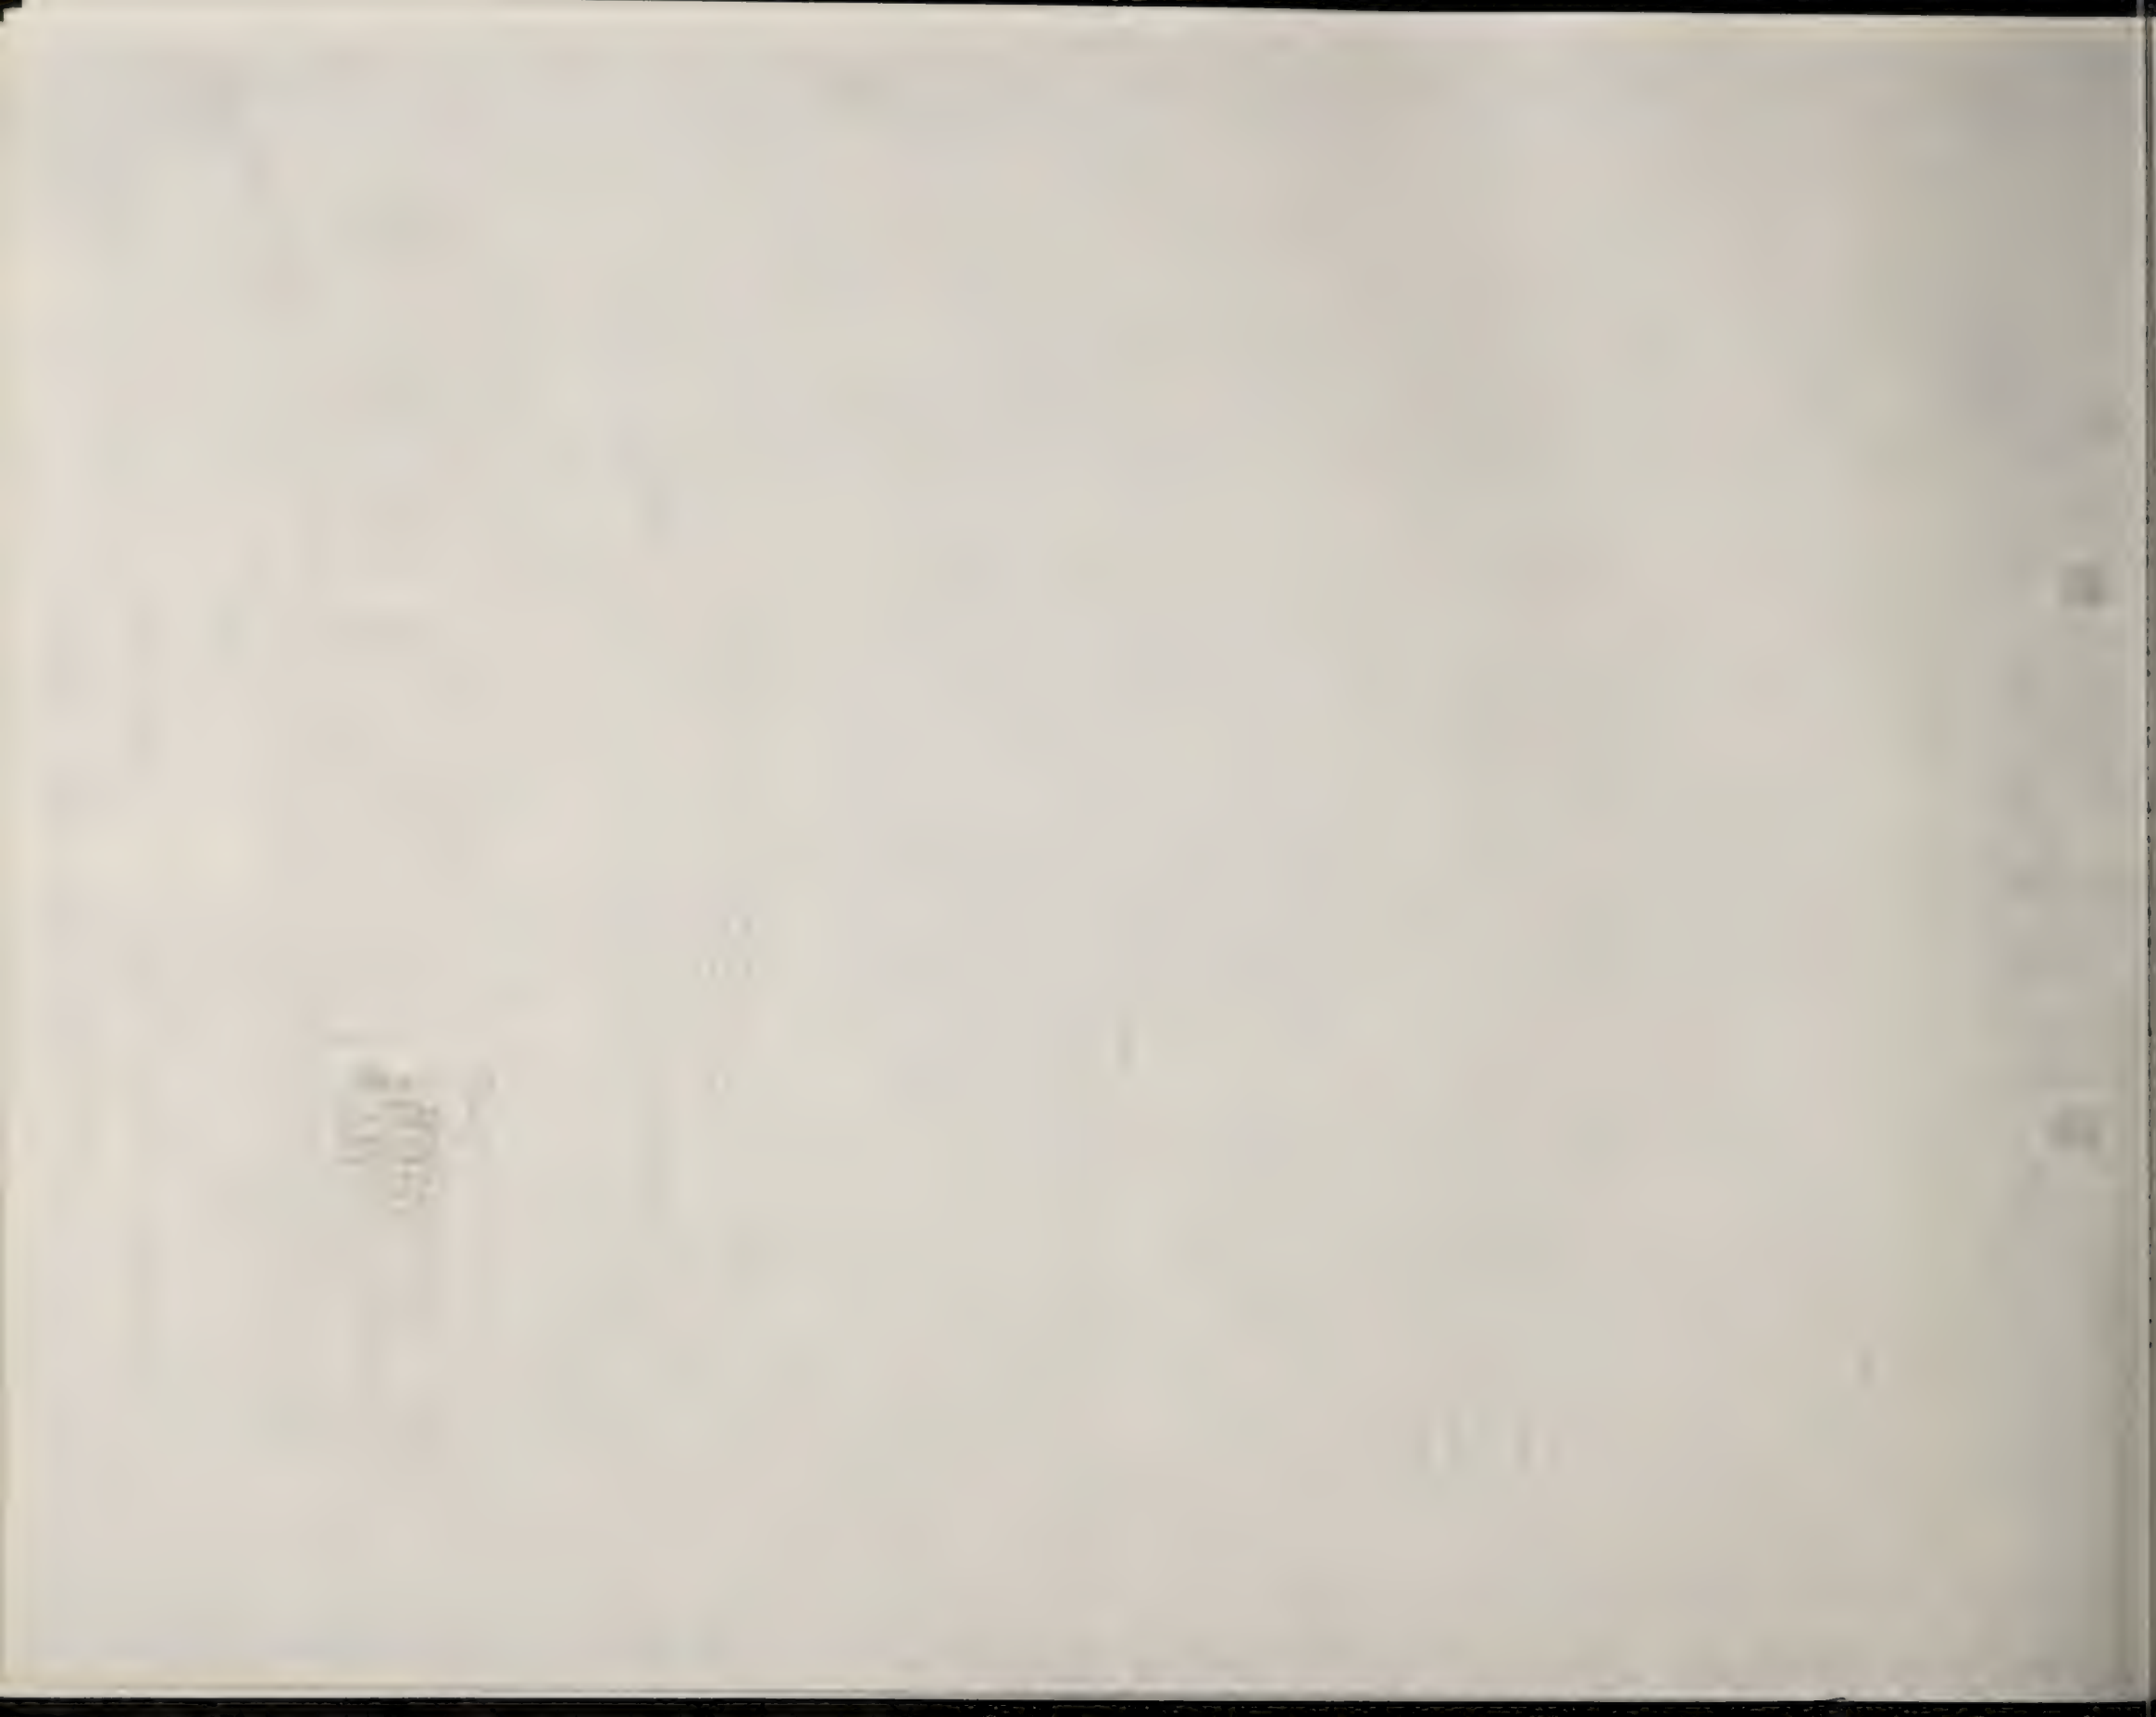

Vol. I p 276. Nov. 8th 1763. "Christian Frey's son was bitten on the leg by a poisonous spider. He swelled quickly, to such an extent that he could not see out of his eyes and suffered terribly, and would certainly have died had not the snake root called Robert vienting been used in time. (This was probably an adopted son, since we find elsewhere that Christian Frey probably had no children of his own-LHC)

Vol. I p 303. June 11, 1765 (Br. Huttwein went to South Fork) (Friedberg WNC) to see the company that arrived yesterday from Pennsylvania: - Christian Frey, his parents, his brothers, George and Valentine Frey, the latter's son in law, Frederick Sockel and their wife and children, some twenty persons in all. Kap, a single man who started with them was drowned in the Potomac."

No attempt has been made to trace Christian Frey's family, but the following is quoted from a letter from Miss Adelaide Fries, genealogist. "My investigation proved that Christian Frey had no children of his own though he and his wife took care of five or more orphan children. There is a memoir among the Moravian records, which has not been translated but Miss Fries says that the most interesting statement in it is 'He loved and was loved by his friends and acquaintances. From the above it will appear that Christian Frey was the first of the family to settle in North Carolina."

In order that the origin of the records quoted herein may be better understood, the following is quoted from a letter written by Miss Fries, Aug. 28, 1931 "When I was in Bethlehem some years ago, I looked over some old Church Books, once belonging to small congregations long since changed or dropped. In one of them I found the early Frey records, going back to Peter, the first immigrant ancestor and copied it thinking I might need it some time" From the above it will be seen that many of the records of the family are really on file in Bethlehem pa.

1 Peter Frey was born Sept 27, 1689 at Wingen Alsace, died May 4, 1766, at Friedberg N.C., and was the first person buried in the Grave yard at that point (I visited his grave on Sept. 21, 1931 and found the stone and record in good preservation WNC). He married Anna Barbara Schaid (This maiden name appears in will of Peter Frey recorded in Rowan County, N.C. Book A, p 53), in 1716 in Wingen Alsace. She was born in Wingen Alsace April 5, 1696 and died at Bethesda N. C. January 9, 1768, and was buried in the Bethesda Grave Yard.

These names and dates are taken from the church Records at Friedberg and Fethanis, now on file in the Moravian Church at Winston-Salem N. C.

Some items of interest concerning, Peter Frey and his wife are quoted below from "Records of Moravians in North Carolina"

Vol. I p 380 Feb'y 17, 1766. "Yesterday Br. Wittwein preached in Adam Spach's house, and later read a sermon to those in the home of Christian Frey, for because of the cold the congregation could not all gather at one place. The older Freys (Peter Sr.) had been married fifty years and have nineteen great grandchildren, sixty seven grandchildren and twelve children.

Vol. I p 380 May 5, 1776. "Christian Frey brought the news that his old father went home last evening about eight o'clock, and Br. Graff was asked to hold the funeral service. Next day Br. Graff went to the home of Peter Frey, and there held the funeral of Peter Frey Sr., he was buried in the Grave Yard which has been staked off on the Wachovia line back of Adam Spach's and the place was consecrated with prayer and address on the text "Except a Grain of wheat fall into the ground it bringeth forth no fruit", John 2nd Chap and 24th. verse. Peter Frey was the first person buried in this grave yard

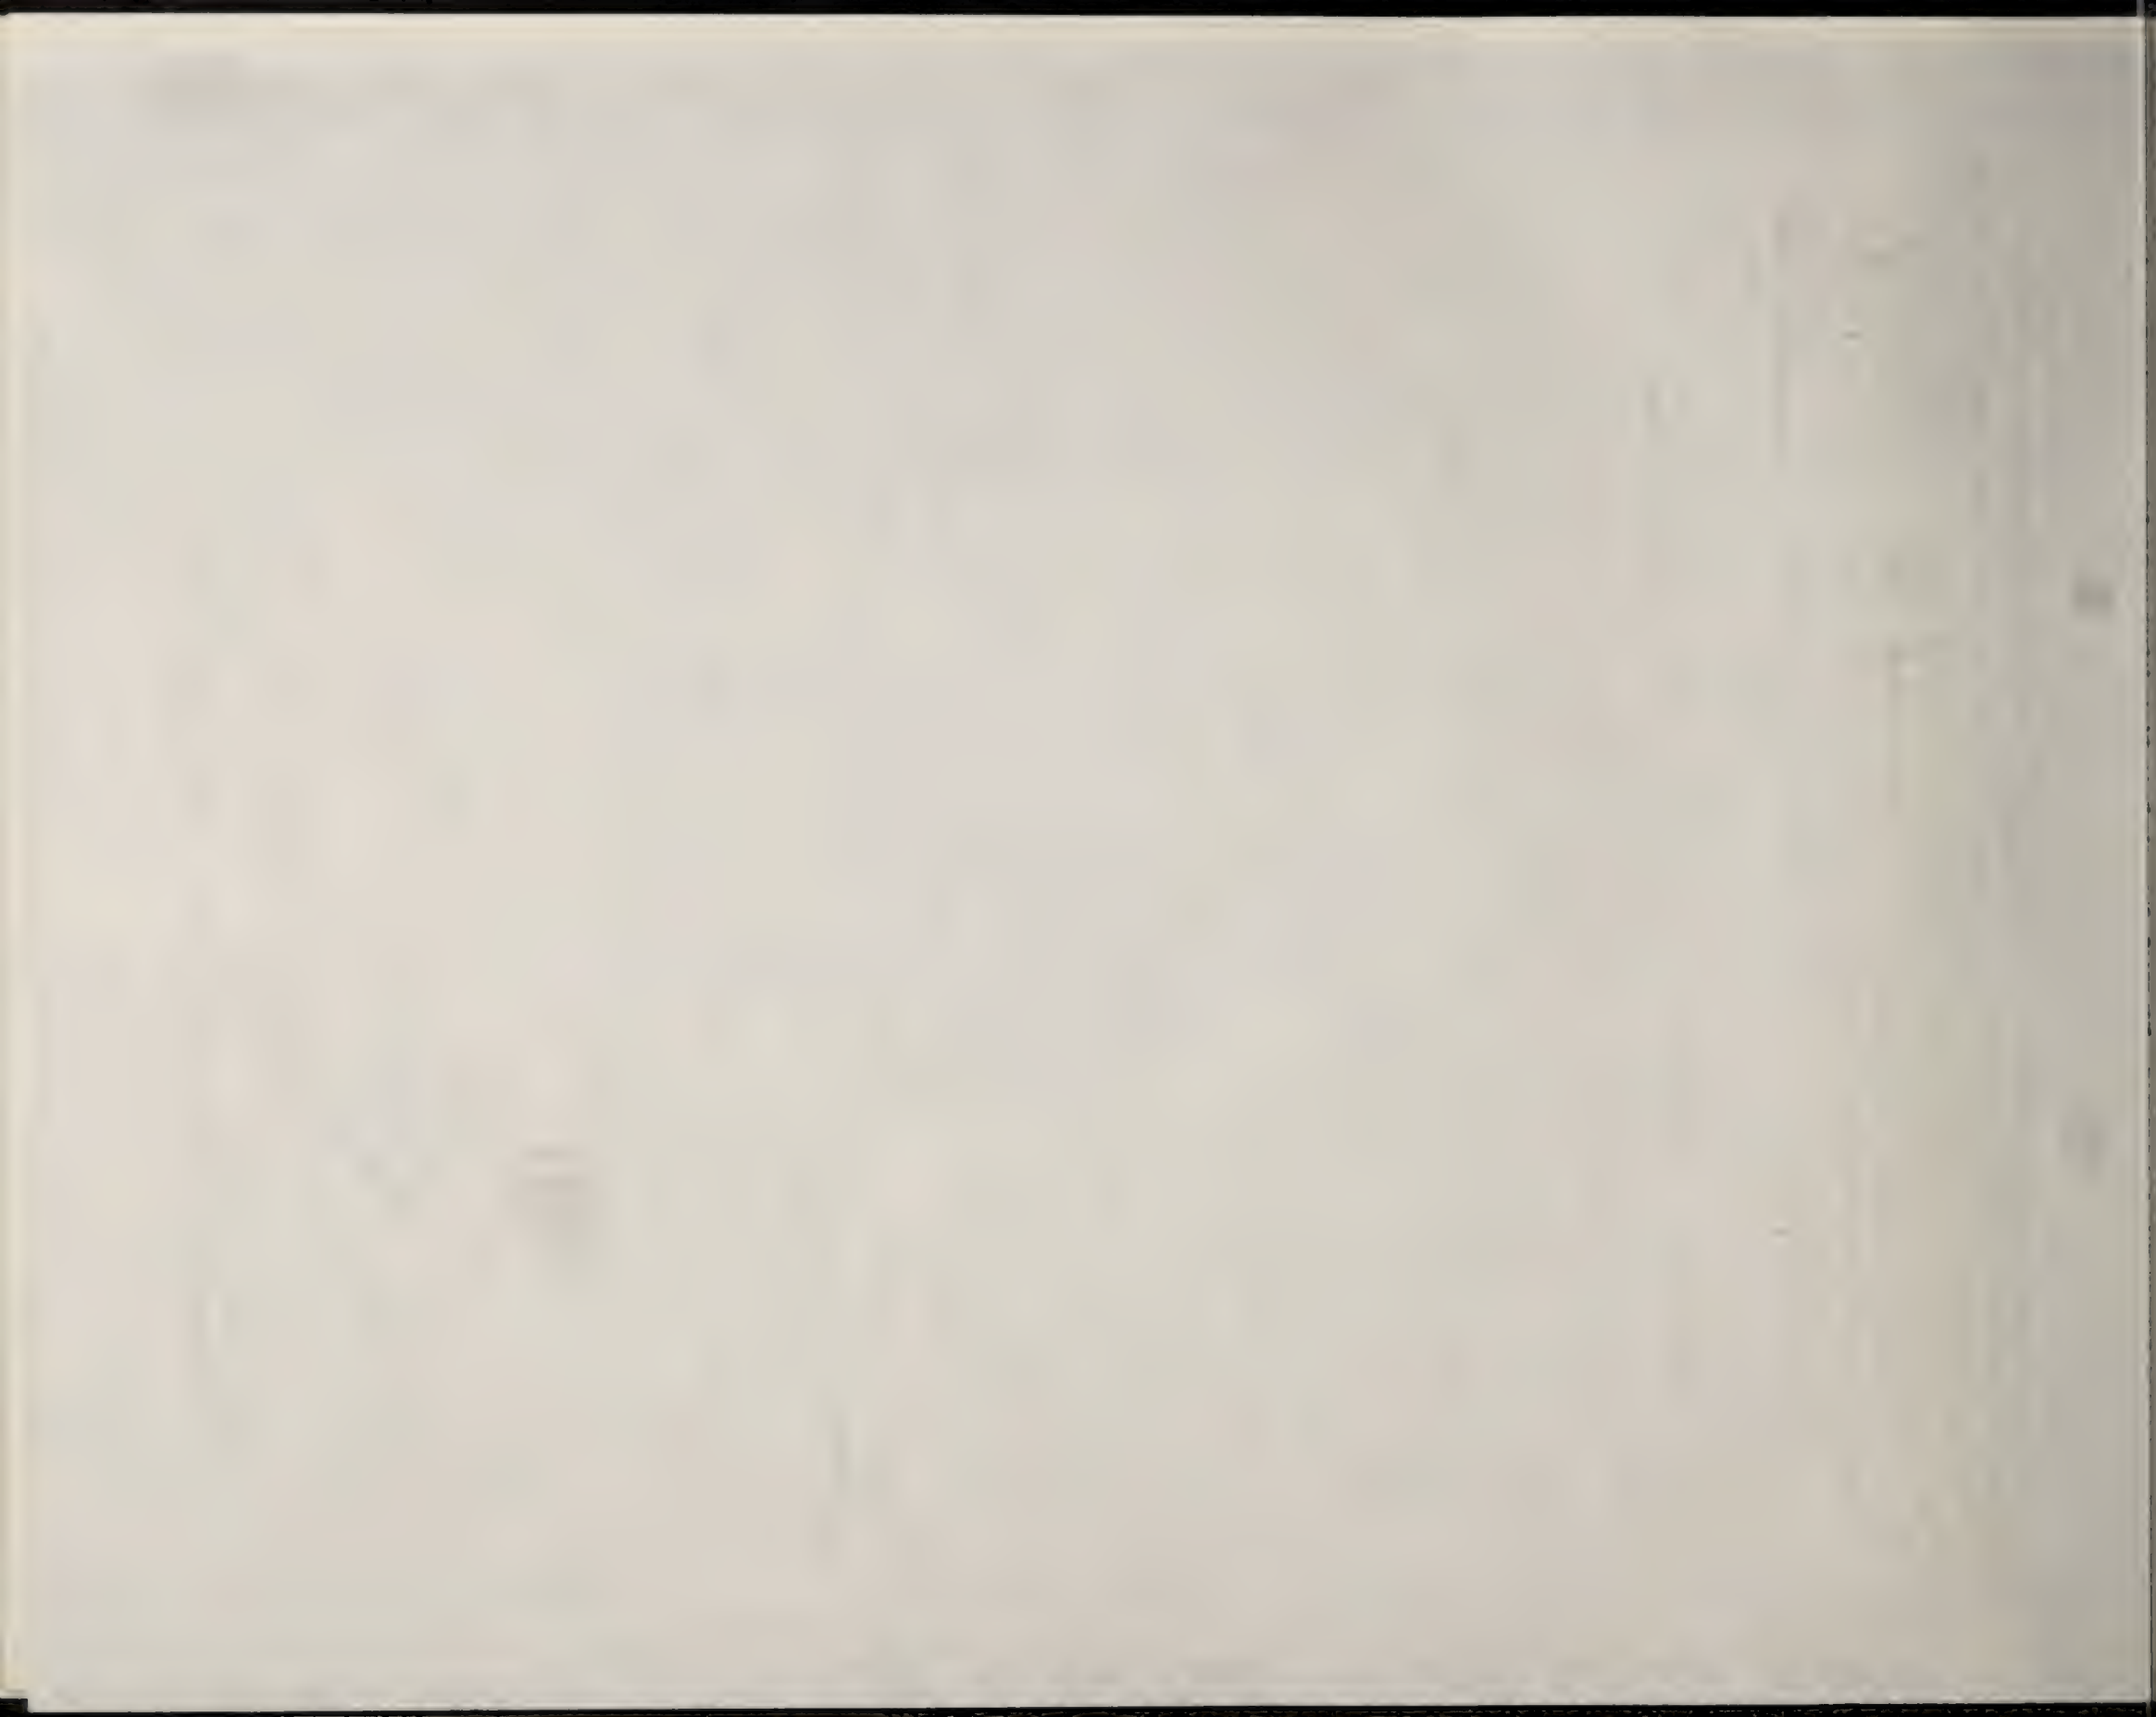

Vol. I p 375 Jan'y 9, 1768. "Our old mother Frey died suddenly and peacefully. She had been spinning industriously, then she rose from her chair, lay down on the bed and passed away a couple of hours later. She was visiting her daughter Sr. Hege at the time. The funeral was held by Br. Graff" (Her daughter Jul-Hege whom she was visiting at her death, was their daughter Juliana, c Feb'y 1735 in Pennsylvania). She married Baltasar Hege, and they had the following children; Juliana and Lazarus. WNC)

Vol. I p 386 Jan'y 4, 1769. "Br. Utley went to South Fork to conduct a funeral service for a child of Geb. Frey. The child was buried beside its grandfather in the grave yard near the new school house.

There is no memoir of Peter Frey Sr. on file, but the following extended notice is taken from the first Church Registrar of Friedberg N.C. Peter Frey was the first person interred in the Friedberg Grave Yard.

Peter Frey
He was born Sept. 27, 1789 at Wingen in Alsace; married in 1710, the widow whom he leaves behind, and during his married life, which lasted more than fifty years, he had twelve children by whom he has sixty nine grandchildren and twenty great-grandchildren. In 1734 he and his wife and seven children moved to Pennsylvania.

In 1745 he was awakened by the testimony of the Brethren concerning the atonement of Jesus, and was received into the little congregation of Muddy Creek, Pa. and was admitted to the Holy Communion. When this congregation was disbanded he and his family moved to Heidelberg Pa., and there enjoyed the care of the Brethren.

In May 1765, he moved to North Carolina, and built a little house near his son Peter. As long as he was able, he and his wife went to Esthonia, and partook of the Lord's Supper with the congregation there.

Since last Christmas 1765 he has been confined to his bed, had serious trouble in his chest, and longed greatly for release. Three weeks before that came, he and his wife shared in a blessed communion for the sick; and on the 4th. of May, 1766, the Saviour took him to Himself. His age was 77 years, 7 months, and some days.

On the 6th of May, after a sermon by Br. Graff on the text "except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, his body was interred, and thereby the burial place, already laid out on the Wachovia Line, near the South Fork, was consecrated.

There is no separate memoir filed for Anna

Barbara Frey, widow of Peter Frey Sr., but the following rather full notice is given in the Death Record of Esthonia N.C.

Anna Barbara Frey, was born on April 5, 1696, in Wingen Alsace. In her twentieth year she married Peter Frey, their union lasting something over fifty years. They had twelve children and more than one hundred grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

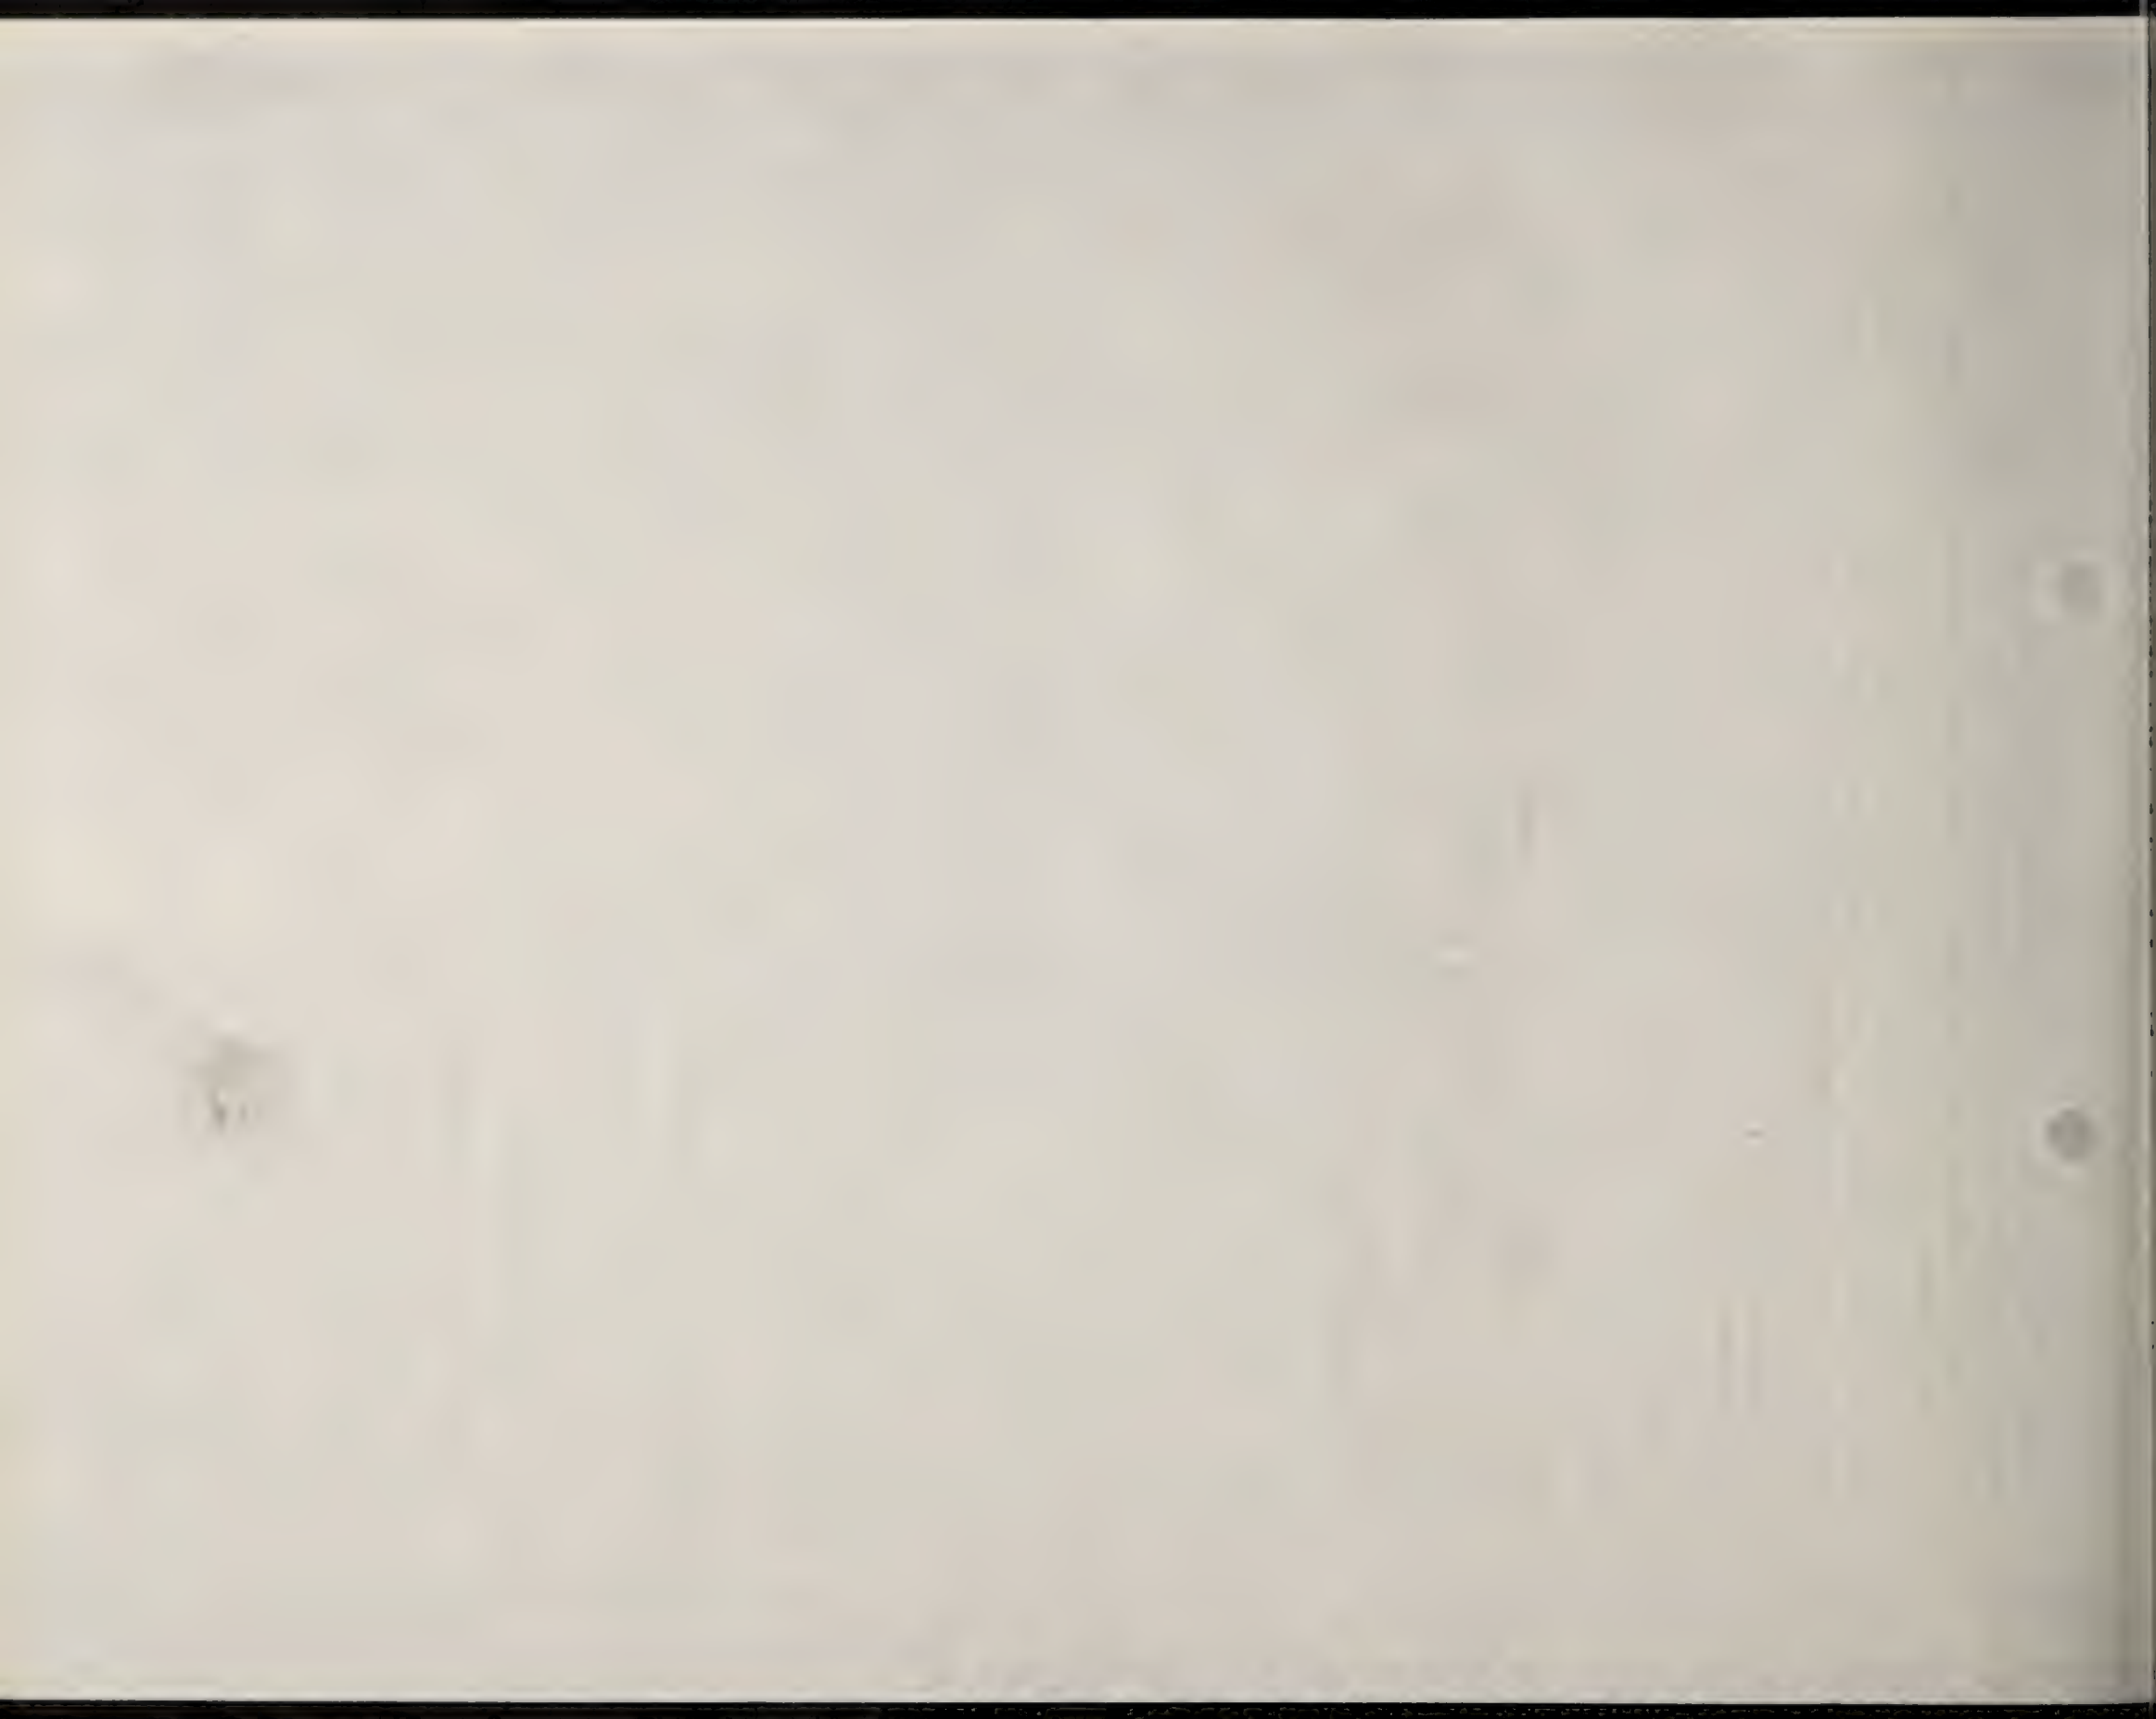

In 1734 she and her husband and seven children moved to Pennsylvania, and settled onuddy Creek. There she was awakened by the witness of the Brethren concerning the death of Jesus, and when a small congregation was organized she was received and was admitted to the Holy Communion. Then this little congregation disbanded, she and her husband moved to Heidelberg Pa.; and from there for love of their children they moved to North Carolina in the spring of 1765. In May 1766 she was left a widow. Before Christmas 1767, she came here on her last visit, and received much good through the festal and regular services of the congregation. The Saviour granted her desire that she might be spared a long and painful illness, and might be taken quickly, which happened on January 3th. of this year (1768) in the forenoon. Only a couple of hours previously she had been spinning; when she was taken with a severe chill and great pain the chest. The last verse she had been singing was

I am melted into tears
When I sing of Jesus' death.

Her age was 71 years, 9 months and 4 days.

The children of Peter Frey and Anna Barbara Schmid Frey were.

Binckele, who was born at Whitsuntide 1722 d Jan'y 6, 1791.
The following quotations from "Record of Moravians in North Carolina will be of interest in connection with the record of Valentine Frey. The first mention of him in North Carolina is his arrival at South Fork on June 10th 1765 with his brothers and father and mother, from Pennsylvania.

Vol. I p 352. Feb'y 6, 1767. Six of the settlers of the Ens.,

Adam Spach, Peter, Christian, George and Valentine Frey and Frederick Buckel, received all property rights to the house to be erected on the lot between their settlement and the South Line of Wachovia and staked off the site for the log house 34 by 28 feet. The object of this building was the preaching of the gospel and a school house for the children. A prayer commended the building and all those who should work on it to the care of the Lord and then the sills were laid.

Vol. I p 376. Christian Frey's house below the Ens. and Valentine Frey's house in the Muddy Creek settlement, near Douthits were used as preaching places once a month in 1768.

Vol. I p 386. Jan'y 14, 1769. Br. Utley preached in Valentine Frey's house in English, and on the 15th. to the Company beyond the Ens.

Vol. I p 404. In 1770 Valentine Frey had joined the South Fork Society.

Vol. I p 411. Feb'y 27 1770. John Douthed and Valentine Frey have run a new road from their settlement toward Salem as far as the Salisbury road.

Vol. II pp 792 and 793. In September 1771 Fev. Geo. Soille starts on an itinery of preaching to various congregations. He mentions visiting Valentine Frey who lives West of Muddy Creek, and whose location can be found on the map of Wachovia of that time, Vol. I p 310. Soille remarks in his diary that he knew the Freys fourteen years earlier in Pennsylvania; also notes that so many people stop at Freys that he feels sorry for the two old people.

Vol. III p 1026. It was contrary to the Moravian calling to mix in plitical affairs or to bear arms.

Vol. III p 1030. The Provincial Congress that met in Halifax N.C. in 1770 passed an act concerning the Brethren " That as they did not bear arms, their guns should be taken, but politely and at an appraised value, and that they themselves should not be forced to serve.

Vol. III p 1110 Feb'y 23rd 1776. Valentine Frey with others signed the test of allegiance to the Colonies, gave his arms and refreshed Capt. Forbes his Company with food and drink.

From the History of Wachovia - By J.H. Clewell, pp 153 - 153 - 154, records the affirmation of Allegiance and Fidelity to be taken by the by the Unitas Fratrum or Moravians and granting them indulgences there in and other purposes.

Oath of Allegiance.

I, B. do solemnly and sincerely declare and affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I will truly and faithfully demean myself as a peaceful subject of the Independent State of North Carolina and will be subject to the Powers and Authorities that are or may be established for the good Government thereof, and not inconsistent with the Constitution, by yielding either an active or passive Obedience thereto; and that I will not abet or join the Subjects or forces of the King of Great Britain or other enemies of this state, by any Means, or the United States of America; and that I will make known to the Governor or some member of the Council of State, Judge of Supreme Court, or Justice of the Peace, ALL Treason, Conspiracy or attempts, Committed or Intended against the same which shall come to my knowledge.

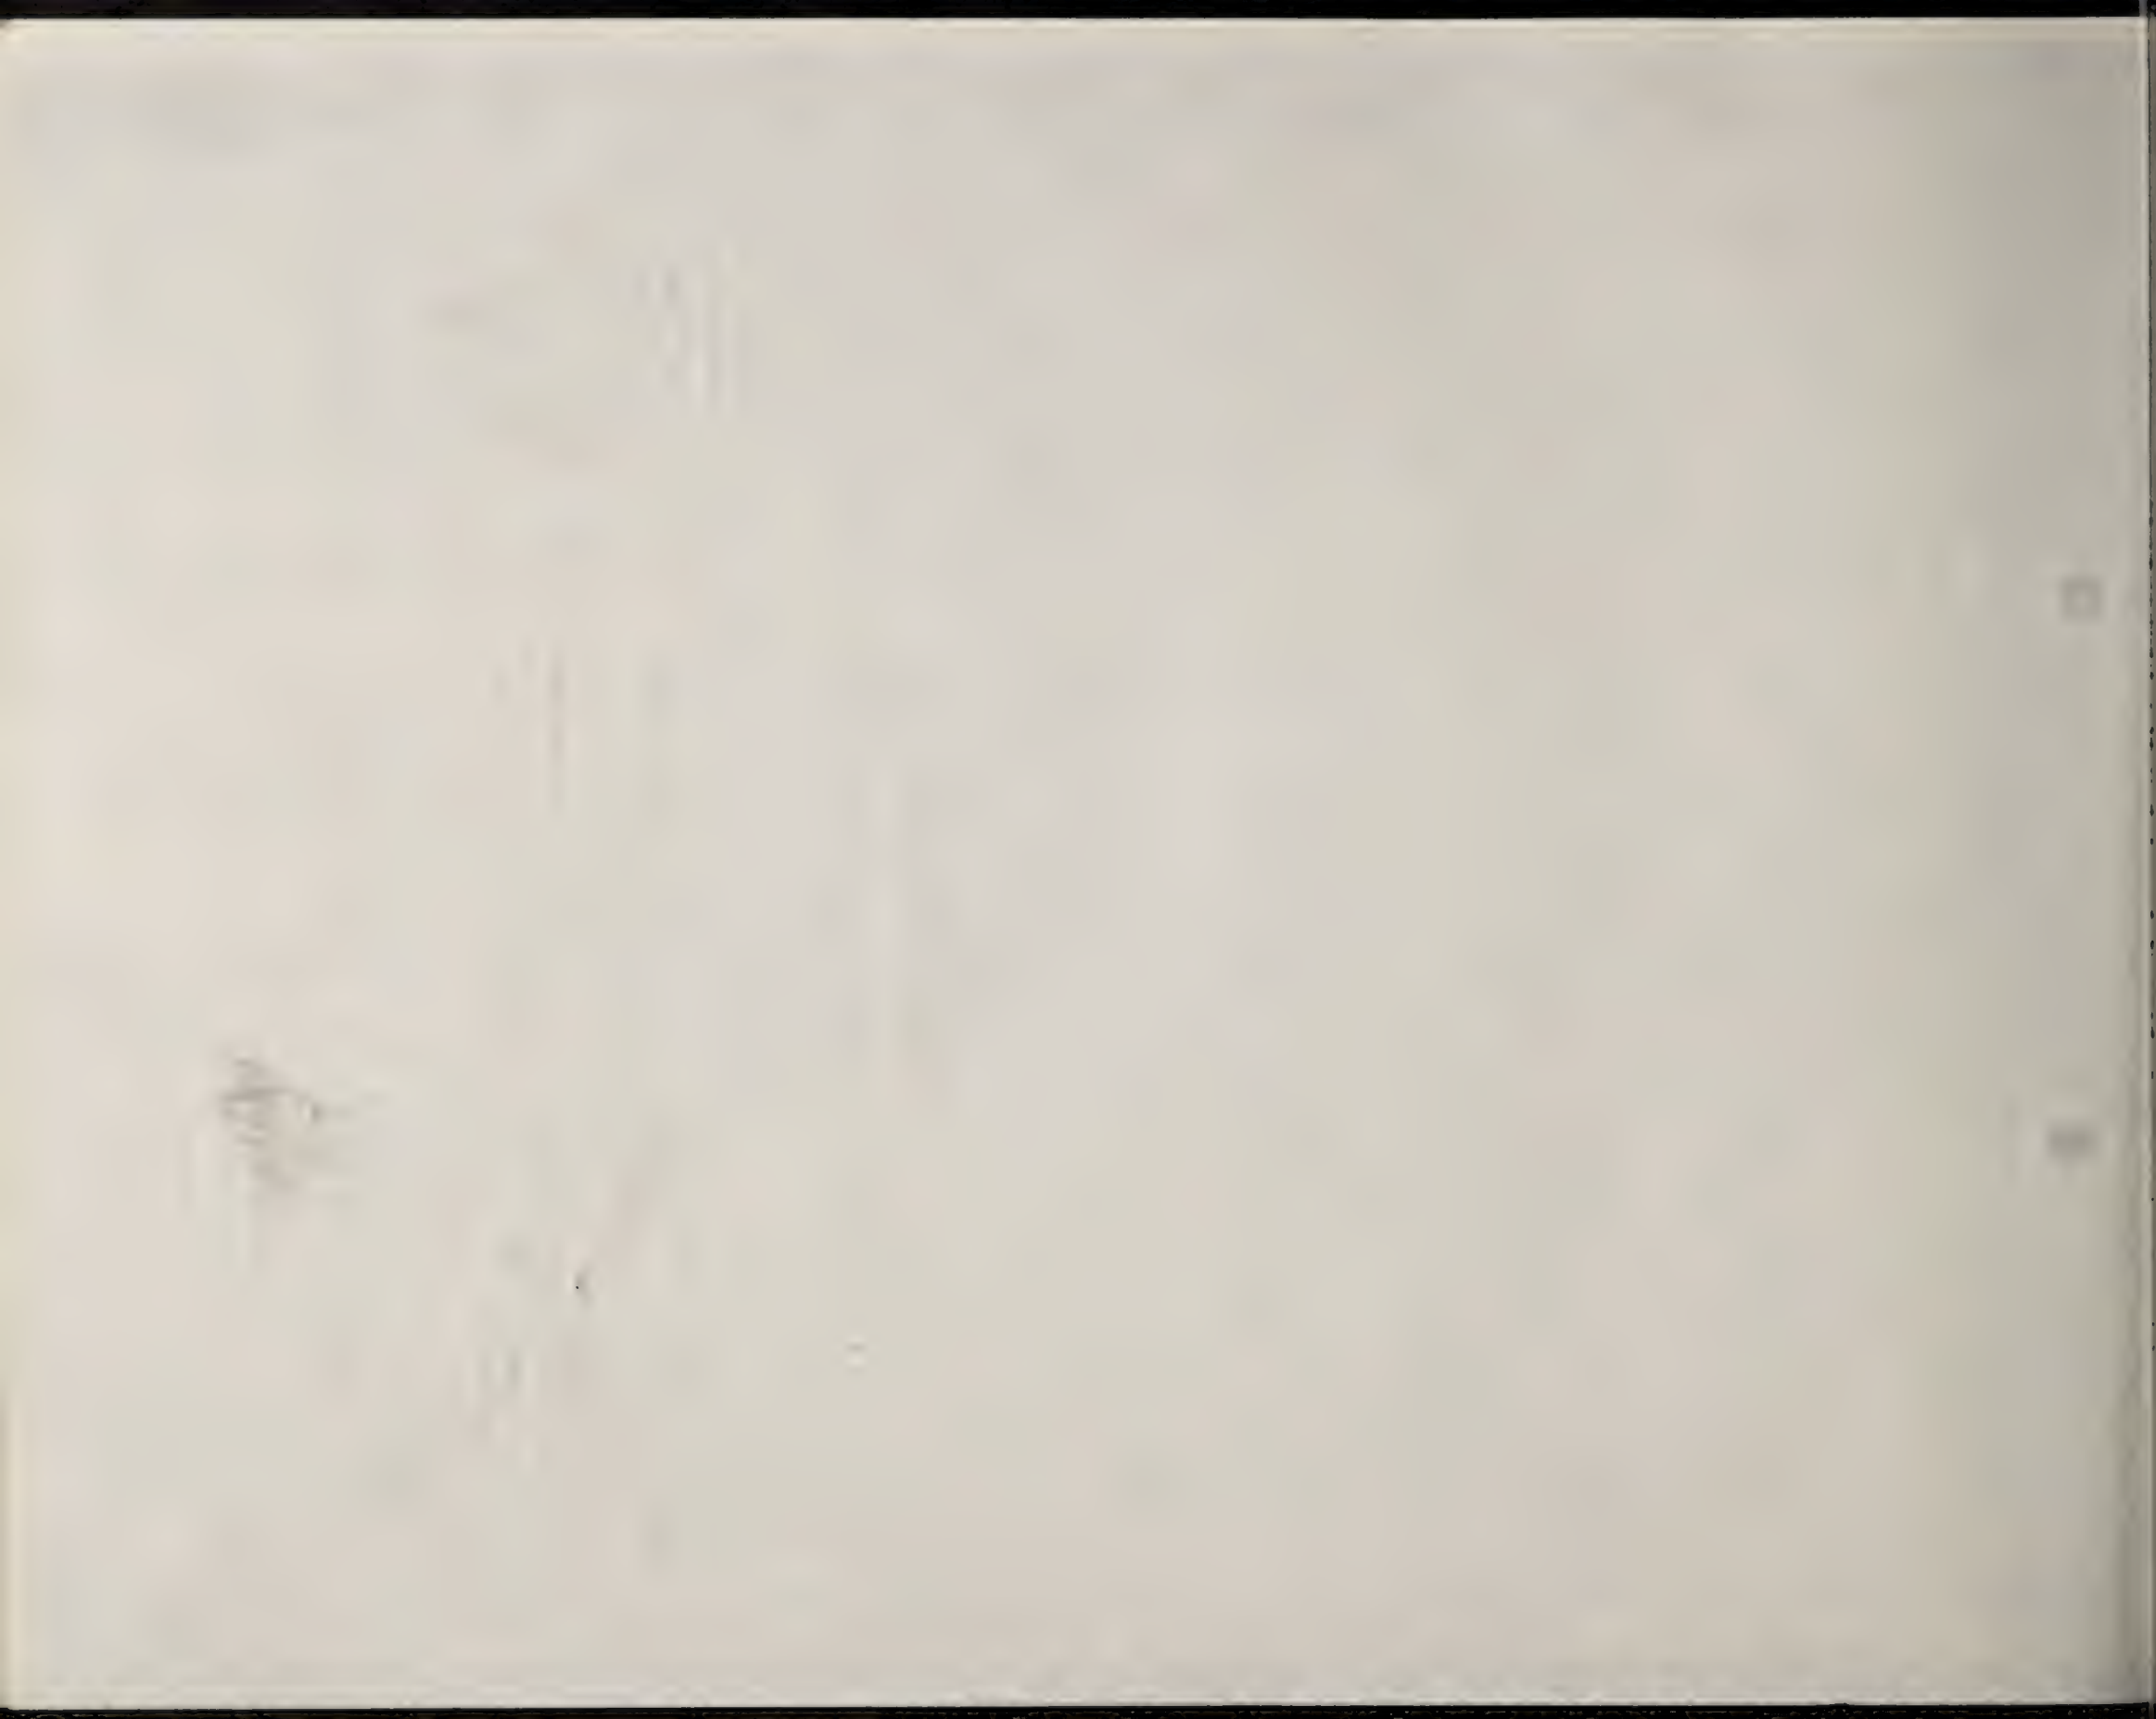

The following records do not refer particularly to Valentine Frey but comments made by Dr. Clewell in his History of Wachovia on the pages quoted above seem appropriate at this point to give an insight to the lives and habits of those old Moravians during the period covered by these records.

In February 1779 Justice Dodson met the men of the several towns and they gathered in the Church, forming a half circle about the Magistrate, the latter read the form of Affirmation, the men repeated it after him. At the end of the Formula, Dodson said "So help me God". He then gave each one a written certificate. This closed forever the question of liberty in the matter of Affirming. They were likewise relieved of further anxiety regarding military duty by the imposition of a triple tax. This tax was paid until 1783.

"When we study this portion of the history of Wachovia we must never doubt the patriotism of the people. They would not become soldiers, but they supported the Government by equally valuable methods. A strong example of their loyalty is shown by the action taken in August 1776. Previous to that time the Church Litany was the same used by the Moravian Church in England. On Aug. 6 they received news in Philadelphia of Declaration of Independence had been made. Three days later they sent notices to each Church in the Province that they should discontinue the prayer prior his Majesty King George III., and replace this petition with the one for the Authorities of our Land who have rule over us."

To fully appreciate the situation, we should understand who were their enemies and who were their friends.

Their enemies were divided into four classes. First the deserters who always flourish in a time of confusion. Second, a class of anxious, shiftless people who felt that if by some political tangle the Moravians were banished, the traders, the homes, the well cultivated farms could be claimed by them. Therefore, animosity was based upon the prospect of material gain. Third, a number of "hot heads" who laid stress on some fancied personal wrong, for example, the refusal of store or hotel to receive a couple piece of money. Fourth, honest men who misunderstood them because of lack of information. This class of enemies frequently became their warmest friends.

Those who were friendly to the Moravians were divided into three classes.

First:- those who represented them in the Legislature and in Congress or in the Courts. Such men as Armstrong, Williams and others. Their friendship and support never wavered for an hour. Second:- the officials who studied them and their actions. Among them we mention the Committee of Safety and the Legislature. After its meeting in Salem. Third:- the Army officers. We have the record of friendly visits from Washington, Cornwallis, Tryon, Waddell, Rutherford and others.

Then we contemplate the situation of Bathabra, surrounded by large bands of hostile Indians in 1759, we recognise the Divine protection, the only power that could save them from destruction (Bathabra was the first Moravian settlement in North Carolina, WNC)

The study of the time of the Revolution calls forth the same acknowledged sentiment of Divine guidance, for during these years they were threatened with every form of danger from the vicious prowl to the great armies of Green and Cornwallis, from the petty envy of County Magistrates, to the animosity of the full meeting of the Legislature in 1775.

In the end they were successful in carrying out their honest plans. They had a pure religion, they cared for education, they were honest and thrifty, they lived in the midst of the world but were not of the world. They understood men and things but were themselves not understood. They had burdens placed upon them that would have crushed almost any other Colony. They were beset with dangers which often made them feel that sudden destruction was sweeping down upon them, yet they were always mercifully preserved."

Dr. J.H.Clewell the author of the History of Wachovia from which the above quotations are taken was a Moravian preacher of more recent times and was for many years President of the Salem Female Academy and was personally known to this writer of the Frey family record, two of the writer's sisters having been students in this school many years ago, under Dr. Clewell.

These accounts are copied here because of their bearing on the various companies and officers mentioned in Moravian Diaries in connection with the expedition against the Tories which ended with the Battle of Moore's Creek Bridge, Feb'y 27, 1776 and to show that the concordants of Valentine Frey and his father-in-law Peter Binkley (sometimes spelled (Pinkley) are entitled to membership in the D.A.R., or S.A.R., as the above paragraphs show that while exempted from bearing arms by the laws of the Colony, because of their religious faith, yet not only were they friendly to the cause of the patriots, but gave aid and assistance.

Some further records from the Moravian Diaries are copied below, not because they refer to Valentine Frey, but on account of their connection with John Wolfesberger, who married Christina a daughter of Valentine Frey.

Vol. III p 1080

Dec. 9, 1776

A man by the name of Wolfesberger who formerly lived near Lititz Pa. but is now in Virginia, made an agreement with Br. Graff to buy 300 acres on Spark's Creek. His son will settle there.

(the man named Wolfesberger has been definitely identified as John Wolfesberger of Woodstock, Shenandoah Co. Va. who died there in 1788, and his son who was to settle on Spark's Creek was John Wolfesberger, frequently referred to as Wolfenbarger who married Christina Frey, and about 1800 changed his name to John W. Sparger. WVO)

Vol. IV

1777 April 23, 1777.

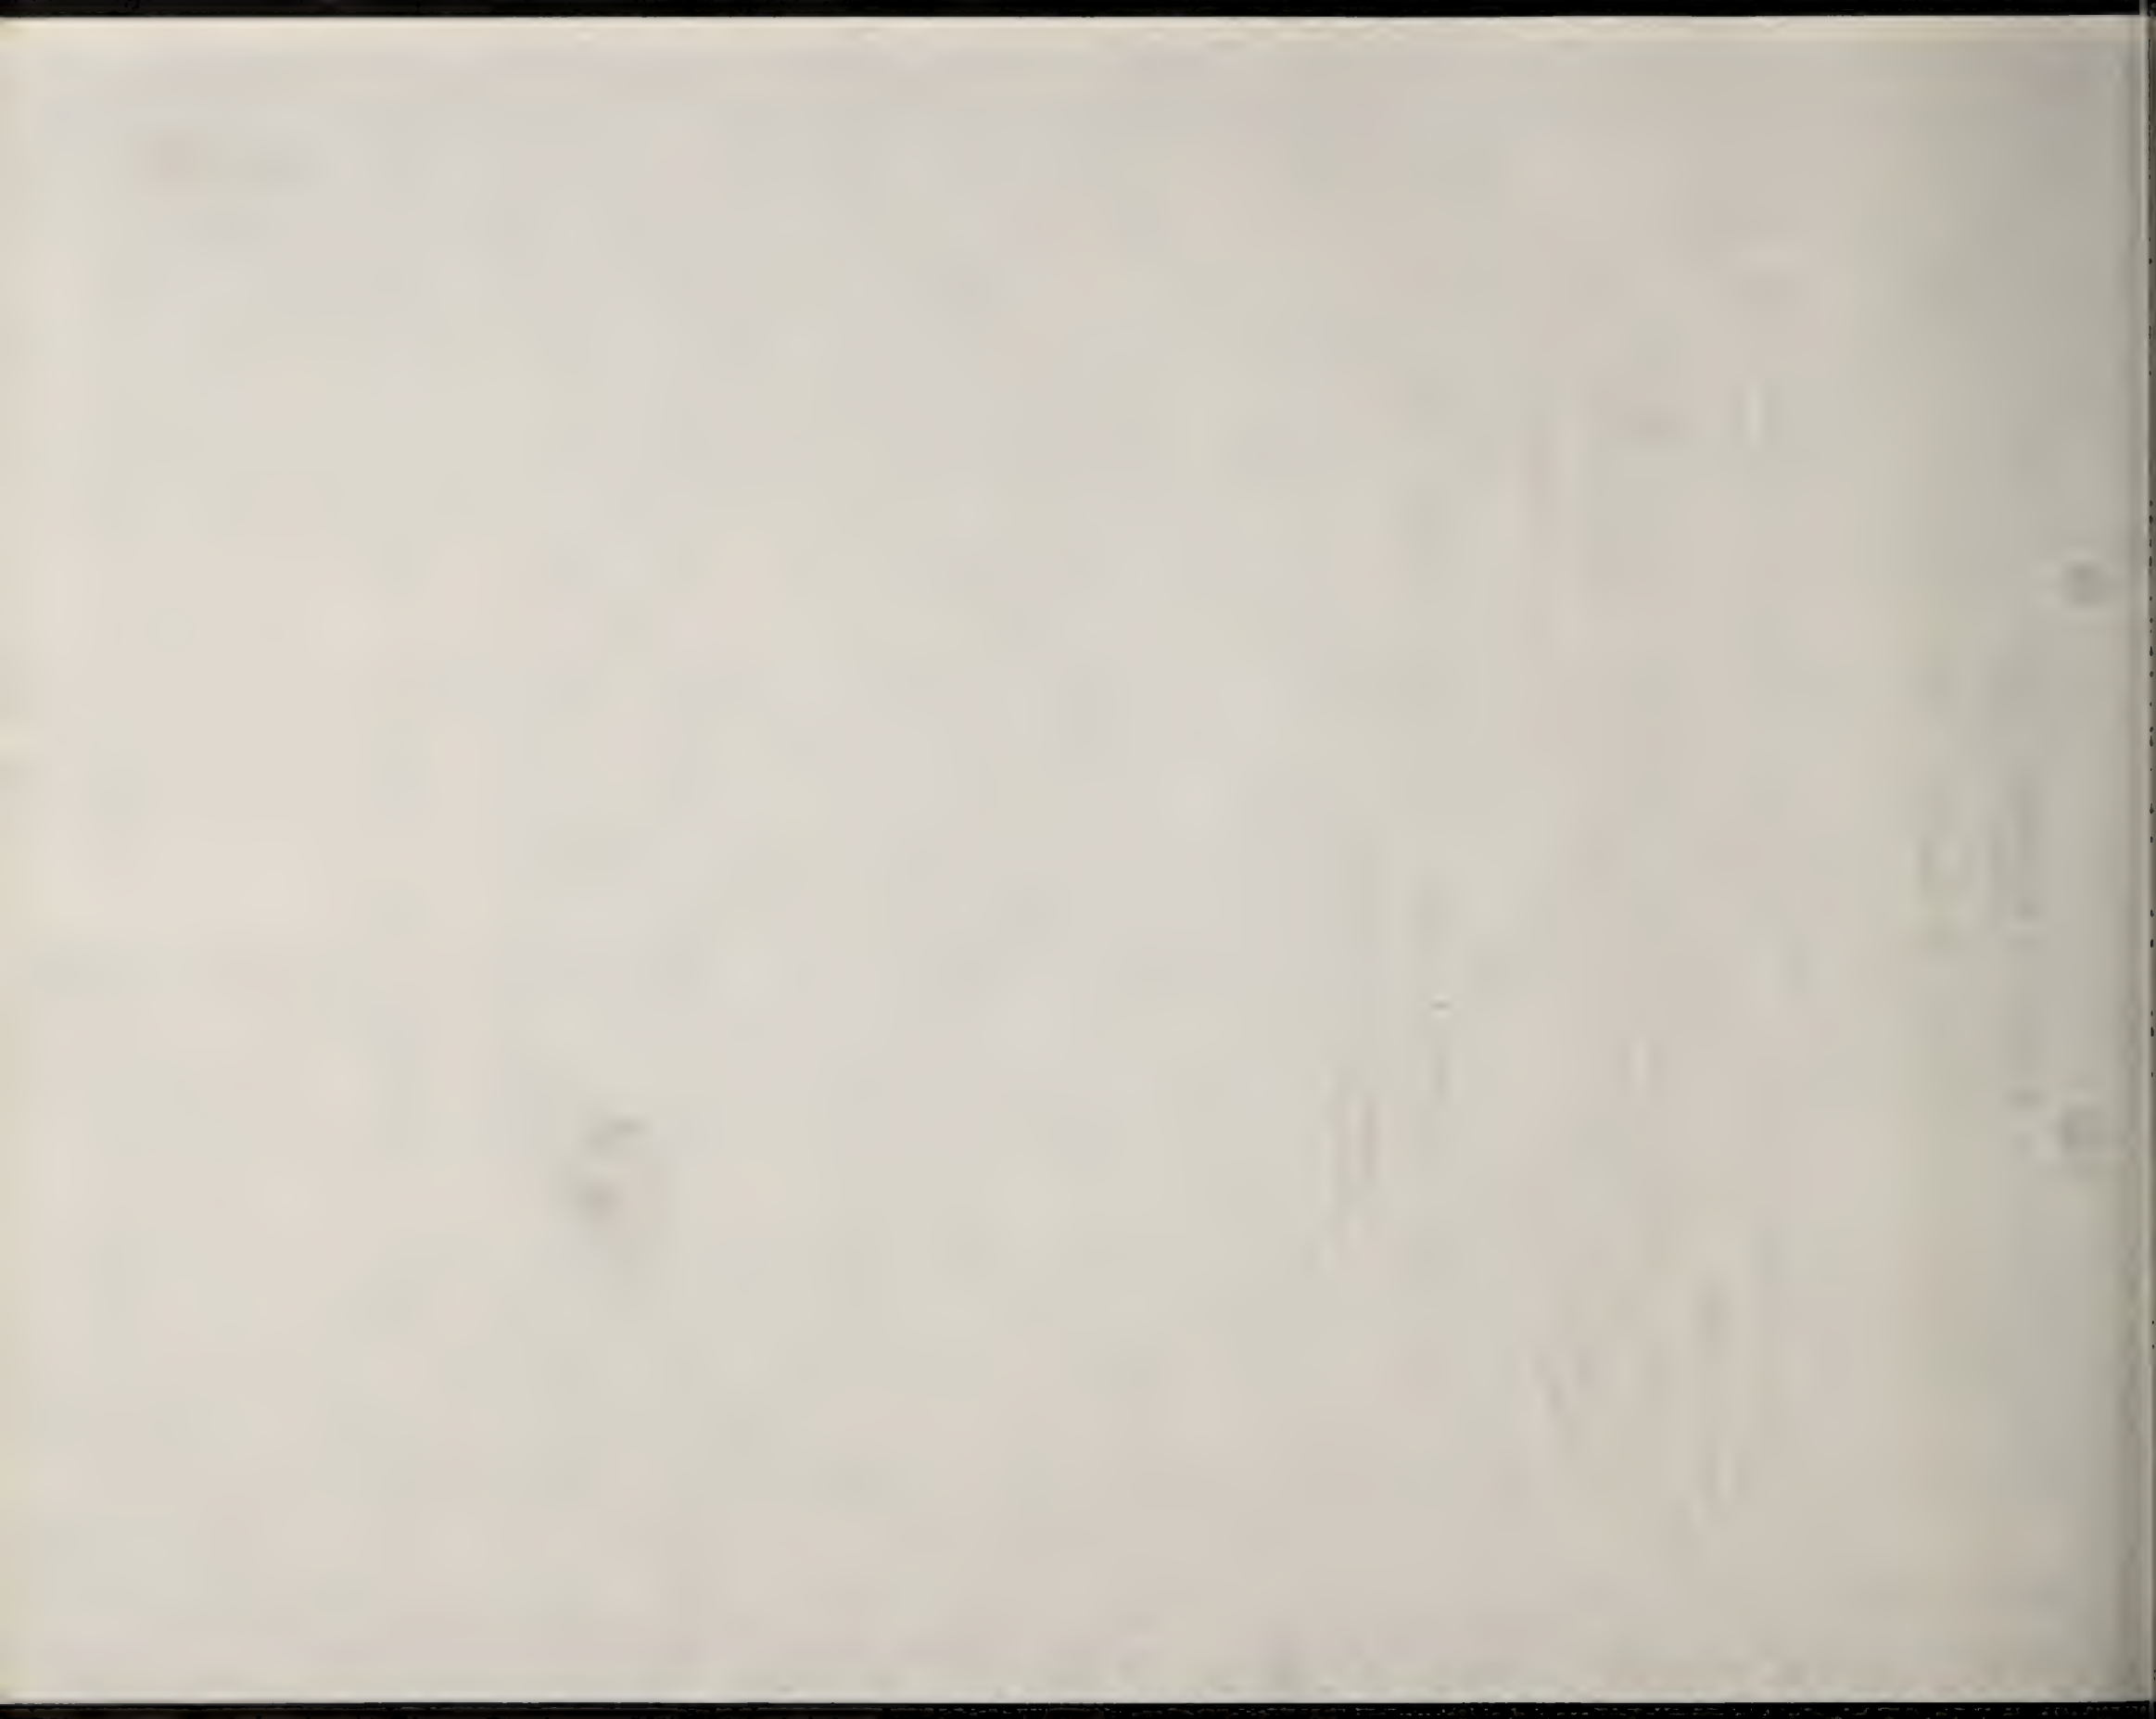

At nine o'clock in the evening my wife heard a shot toward Christian Frey's. I did not notice and while it frightened me we heard no more so we went to bed, commending ourselves to the care of God.

April 28, 1777

We went to Christian Frey's and they told us what danger they had been in. Four rascals had broken into their house, and behaved in a murderous fashion, and if their dear Saviour had not protected them their lives would not have been safe. The man had called at the door, and when John Wolfesberger went out to them they asked if strangers were there. When he said no, they seized him but he jerked loose and went into the house. When Christian spoke to them gently one of them hit him on the head, another struck Sarah across the shoulder with the flat of his sword. With a large stone they broke the paneling out of the cupboard, and with a sword cut the wood around three locks, taking all the money and whatever else they wished. After Christian had received another cut on the head he tried to get out of the house, but was given a blow on the chest with a gun by the guard at the door, so that he became faint. Finally he escaped from them and raised an alarm, when they fired after him, but God so ordered it that he was not hit. Poor Sarah who had hidden behind the door sank on her knees when she heard the shot, and when the rascals had left, she was very happy to find her husband still living. (it would be interesting to know where John Wolfesberger was all this time. W.M.C.)

MEMOIR OF VALENTINE FREY.

This Memoir is filed with the Salem North Carolina Diary of 1798 and is translated from the original by William Price (For J. L. Graff)

(7)

The widowed brother, Valentine Frey who fell blessedly asleep, in Hope M.C. on Sept. 13, 1798, was born on May 9, 1721 at Winston in the Palatinate, and was brought up in the Lutheran faith.

His childhood passed, according to his own confession, without much thought about himself or the salvation of his soul.

In his thirteenth year his parents and their children moved to America, settling first on the Canage in the State of Pennsylvania. About this time the spirit of God began to work mightily in his heart; he did not understand what was happening, yet nevertheless he lived an honorable Christian life, attended preaching frequently and once took Communion in the Lutheran Church.

Somewhat later he moved with his parents to Muddy Creek where he first learned to know the Brethren, who were beginning a Society there. The substance of the address made in their preaching and other services brought good to his disturbed heart, so he decided to unite himself with their Society.

About this time he married the widow Barbara Meyer, maiden name Binckele, with whom he had thirteen children from whom he has lived to see 102 grandchildren and 49 great-grandchildren. She died peacefully in the year 1791.

At the place of their residence, the organization of a congregation of the Brethren failed to materialize so in the course of time they moved to Friedberg, and as he had already been received into the Unity, he partook for the first time of the Holy Communion with the Friedberg congregation.

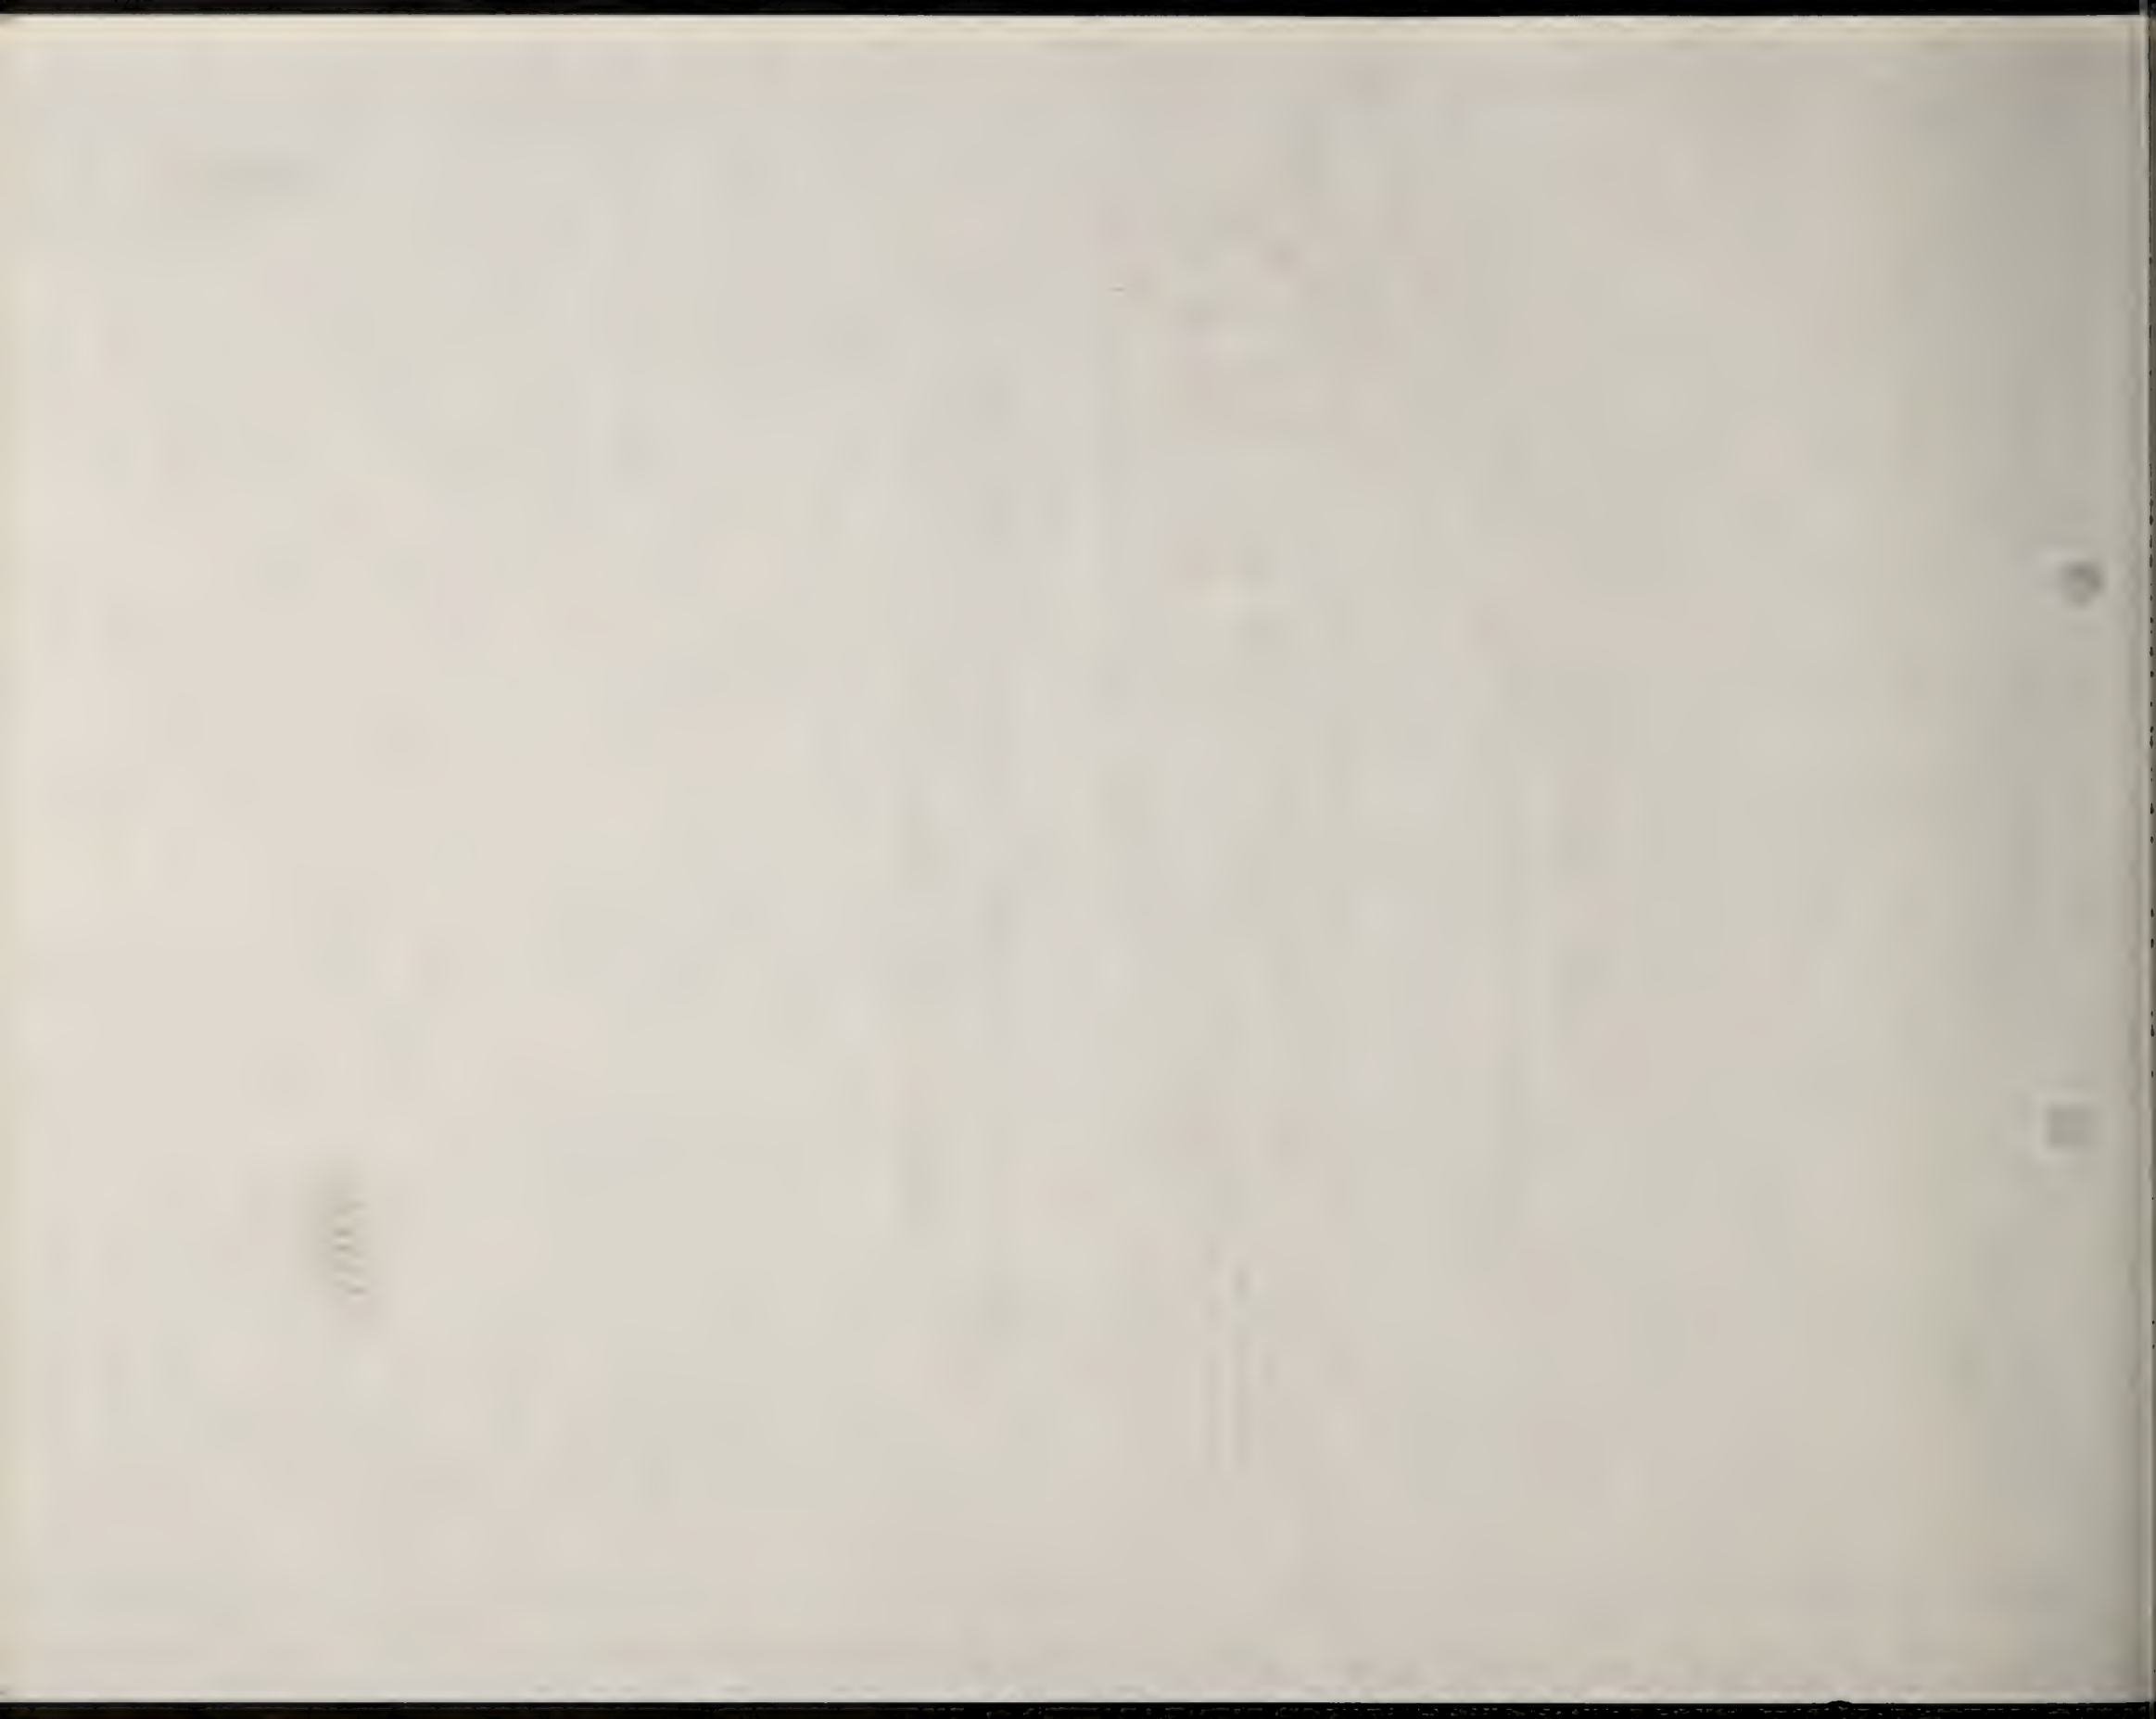

In June 1764 his parents and brothers moved to North Carolina and he came with them, attending the Holy Communion at Bethabara until the congregation at Friedberg was organized, when he became one of the first members.

In the course of some years he moved to the neighborhood of Hope. During this period he turned into various by-paths which interrupted his fellowship with us. Although under these circumstances he was often reminded of what he had formerly felt in his heart, and although he often attended our meetings, yet he did not experience the desired change of heart until finally the Saviour brought him to a knowledge of himself, melted his heart and led him to realize that he was a poor sinner. (A Methodist Backslider. M.C.). He at once related his experience, testifying that he had received grace and forgiveness of his sins, through the Saviour, and now earnestly wished again to partake of the Holy Communion with the congregation, which request was granted. When in later days he spoke of this time he wept bitter tears, saying "Oh" how faithfully the Saviour has dealt with me and how he has gone with me all the way.

In the course of time he returned to Friedberg, but in 1794 went back to Hope, to the home of one of his daughters, who cared for him faithfully to the end, of which he spoke with gratitude.

We can bear witness of him that he, especially in the later years of his life, stood in close communion with the Saviour. He was not easily prevented from attending the Sunday services, although on account of his age it was often hard for him to come. Sometimes he bemoaned his outward circumstances and regretted that there was no one near him who felt as he did, but usually ended by saying "Why should I complain? I have something that once I did not have; my Saviour is my best friend, to him I tell all my circumstances, and Oh, that I might be able to comfort me indescribably"

The salvation of his children lay close to his heart, and he affirmed that he prayed constantly for them to the Saviour. He

He often spoke with much regret, of the fact that his children did not belong to the Brethren's church, which he liked so much "Some" he said, are too far away and others who live near by have neglected it."

The Holy Communion was his firm true sustenance, and a strengthening for his soul. Each time his preceding declaration concerning his need of the grace which the Saviour showed to his heart was edifying. On one occasion as he lay upon his death-bed, he said "Oh the Holy Communion is a great thing. He who has once partaken of it with the Brethren has something which he can never lose, even if he wanders from the path, and it brings him back, I have myself experienced that."

On the 2nd. of this month (September) he was here in the meeting house for the funeral of a single woman, Sarah Taylor, but he was already so weak that he could not go to the grave yard and remarked to several Brethren "I will be the next." On reaching home he was obliged to go to bed. Each visit found him in a blessed condition of faith. "The Saviour is near me," he said "I do not know whether this is the end or not, but if it is his will I am ready and glad" and he testified that nothing hindered him from appearing joyfully before the Saviour. When verses were sung for him, he said several times that they expressed the feelings of his heart and joined in singing them.

Having brought all his material affairs into order he waited in quiet confidence for his last hour, which came in the evening of the 13th. of this month, and as softly, and blessedly fell asleep, his age being 77 years four months and four days.

Memorial of Anna Barbara Frey, Married name Binkale, wife of Valentine Frey

Translated by Adelaide Trion, for Wm. Cressy.

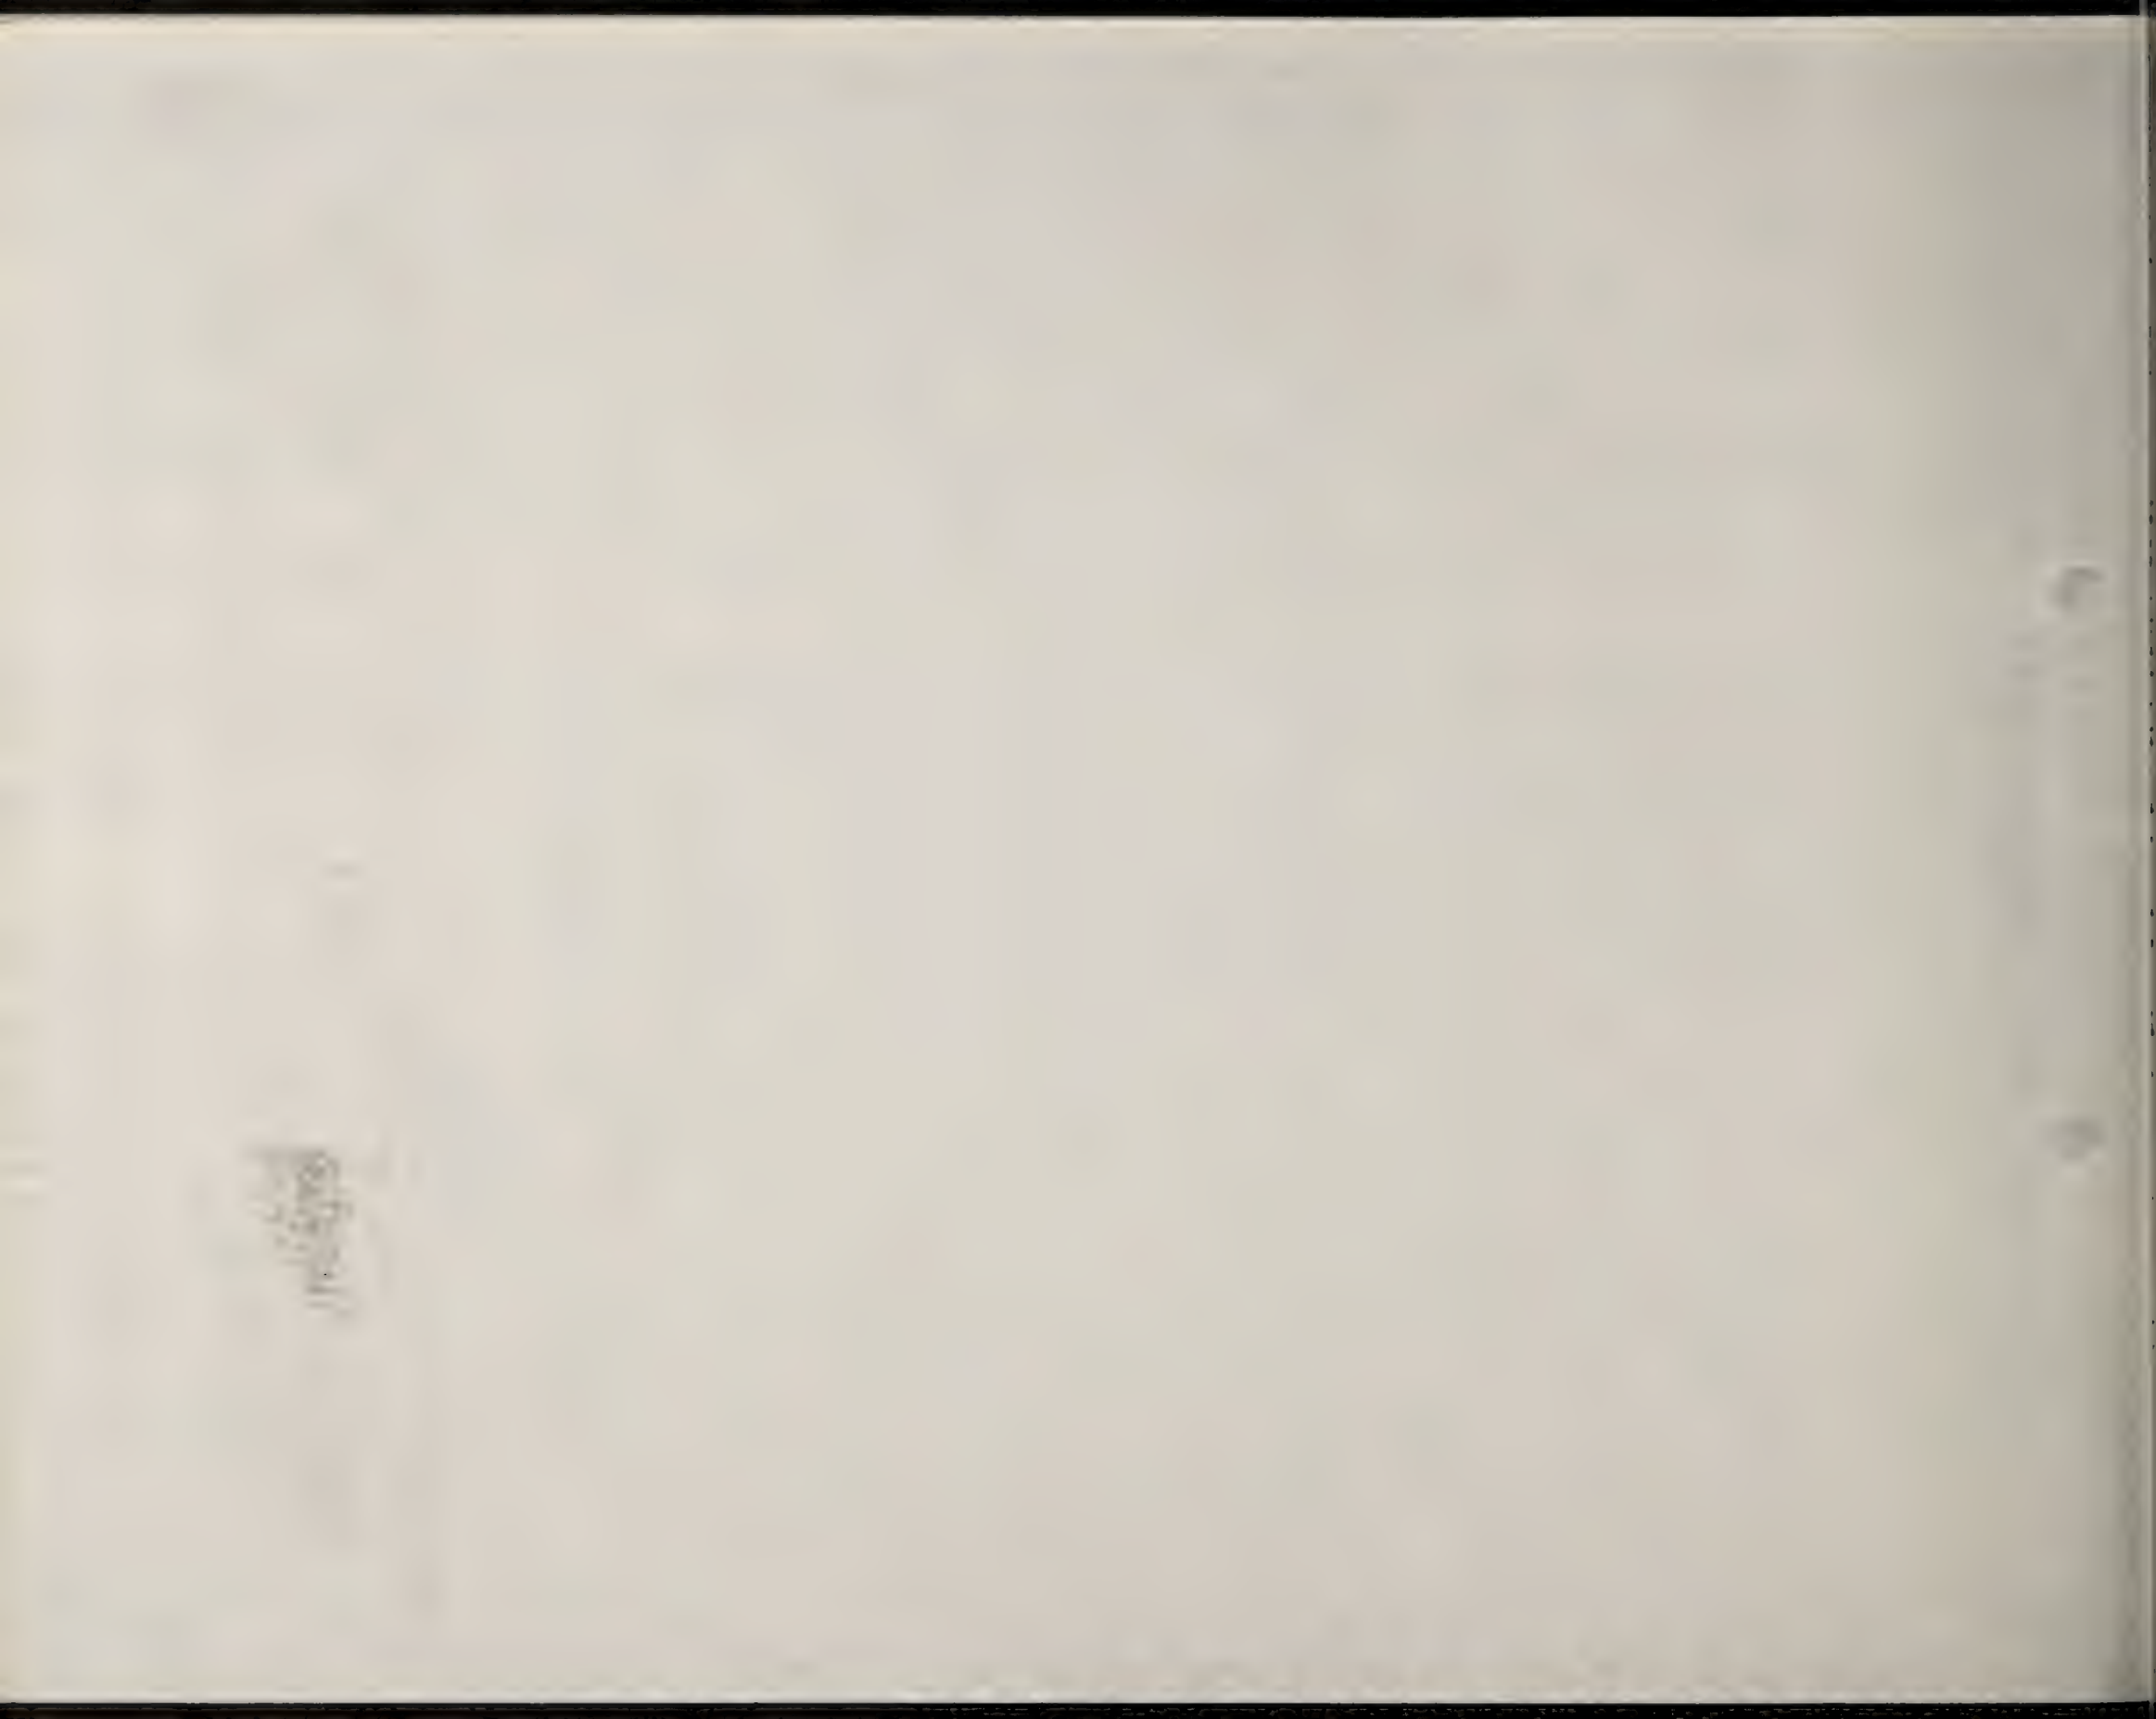

Anna Maria Barbara Frey, d Jan'y 6 1791 in the evening in the sixth hour, and was buried on the 8th. of that month in our God's acre. She was born June 1, 1722 in Alsace, and came with her parents to America. In her 17th. year she married her first husband Matthias Meyer with whom she lived Germantown Pennsylvania, and they had two daughters. In the third year of her marriage she was left a widow.

After some time she married the present widower, Valentine Frey. They were both awakened through the preaching of the Brethren and were members of the country congregation of Heidelberg, Pa. and partook for the first time of the Holy Communion in 1736.

In 1765 they moved to North Carolina and lived on the Yadkin River, belonging to the country Congregation of Friedberg. When she became very feeble they transferred their membership to Hope (Salem) in order to be better served by the doctor. At first she improved, but on the above mentioned day she fell softly asleep from a stroke.

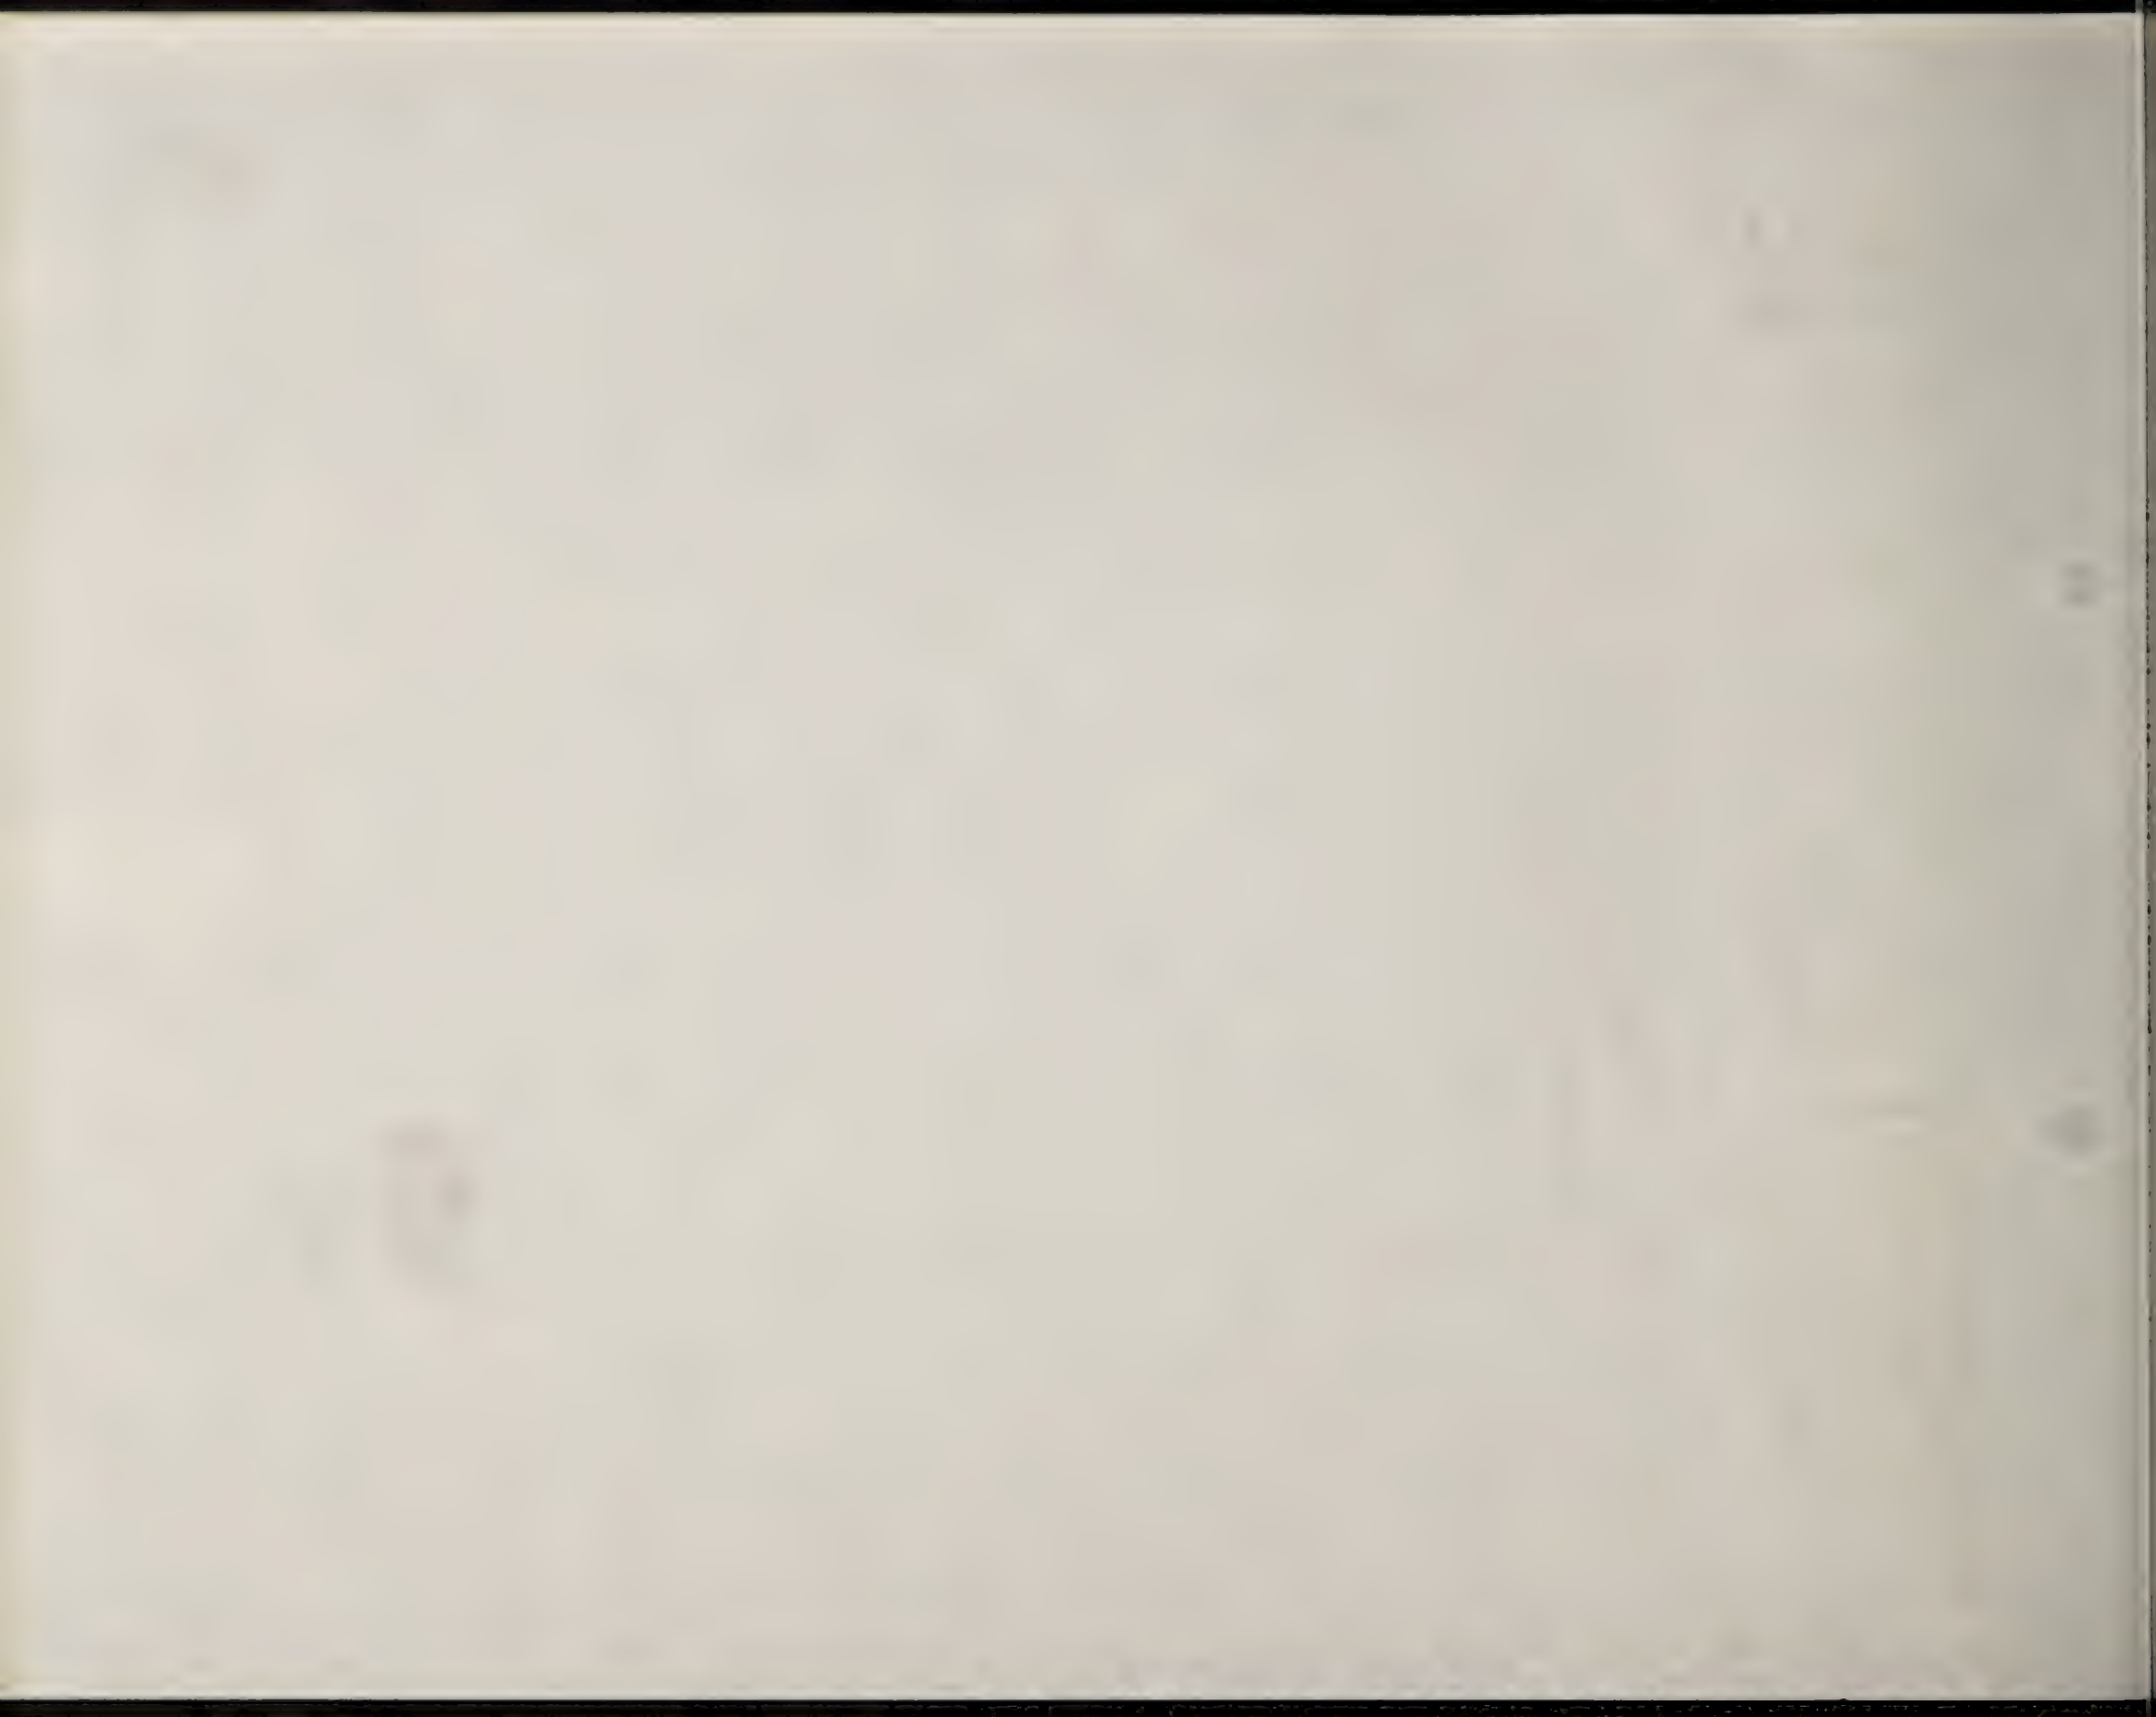

From the last marriage she was blessed with thirteen children. She lived to see about 100 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. Her age was sixty eight years and seven months. (Translated from the first burial register of Salem Church.)

He was born March 3rd 1704 in the village of Guckensberg in Canton Bern in Switzerland. His parents were Christian Binckele and Elizabeth, maiden name Berg. In his ninth year his father died one of time; on account of their poverty, our departed brother had been obliged to seek his support from outside already in his sixth year. In his thirteenth year his mother moved into Alsee, and the following year his brother came for him, and he lived with him for three years. The latter advised him to learn the trade of shoe-maker; he had been in that work only fourteen days when he engaged himself for two years to an inn-keeper as a driver. The large size of the farm and the many opportunities for doing evil led him to concern about the salvation of his soul in order to get away from that he married Anna Maria Werlyn, and remained in the neighborhood, that is in the St. Martin District for twelve years, supporting his family by cutting wood in the forest and burning charcoal. In the eighth year after his marriage he and another man with whom he was cutting grass, were struck by lightning, as they had taken shelter under a beech tree, from the rain, and he was badly burned that for several weeks he was confined to his bed. This occurrence delayed for four years his plan of going to America, but meanwhile he associated himself with the awakened people of the neighborhood. In the year 1730 he and several other awakened families migrated to America, reaching Philadelphia toward the end of September, the same year he went to Philadelphia (later Lititz) and remained there for two years. From there he moved to Catoret, nine miles above Forticon (Lancaster County). There he was associated with the Separatists, and heard for the first time of the Pious Game of Landis, who however had already returned to Europe. When he returned to Philadelphia and his brother came with him, they were witnesses to the full atonement for sin made by Jesus, which was very comforting to our departed brother who hitherto had not listened with open ears and heart to the doctrine of the suffering and death of Jesus, which alone could make man holy. He quickly sought every opportunity to attend the services of the Brethren, where he frequently heard Fr. Spangenberg preach whereby he received much blessing. In 1748 his wife died, after a married life of about twenty-four years, blessed with fourteen children, of whom six are still living. 1749 he married the widow Maria Margaretha Schall, daughter of Conrad, and in this second marriage God gave him nine children, of whom six are still living. In the year 1750 he and his wife moved to Lititz, where he attended the Holy Communion for the first time. In 1753 he moved to Hanksy Md. to be near a school-house. But as there, he could get only one hundred dollars of salary, and had no other means, he sold that year and in 1773 he moved to Wachovia, North Carolina, and established himself there, three miles from Bethania.

From his life here it can be said, according to his own testimony, that he loved the Saviour, not in spite of failings and errors, but with his intention to rejoice His heart. That his joy was in the word of God and in the services of the Church was manifest, for when he became of advanced age he could no longer ride a horse he consequently made a three miles from his home in order to attend the services.

In the midst of all the difficulties which surrounded him he permitted nothing to disturb his association with the congregation, often said that the presence of his wife and all his only comfort and support and how constantly he longed to be at home with him. All this time him honored him to the utmost and peace-keeping man. He later as the 11th of the month he came to service, and it seemed he was happy and affectionate. The same evening he had a hard fall which apparently revived an injury which he had received in a fall last spring and from which he seemed to have recovered. The same evening he must go to bed and it soon became known that he was in the danger of his release. The pain which he suffered was much increased by a severe cough, yet he was bright and content when the blessedness of being with Jesus was pointed out to him. He said to me, "I did not know that the Lord of the Universe was, but he was entirely ready to submit to his will, and that he could say any and everything that pleased his mind. On the day before his home-going he was visited by several brethren from here, he was quite cheerful and affectionate, and appeared much pleased by the verses sung to him during which he told his friends together. He remained conscious to the end and passed away quietly and peacefully some evening on the 20th of the month. His age was 39 years and five months and 10 days. He is now in peace. Of his twenty-three children by his first and second marriages eleven are still living. He left 62 grandchildren and 86 great-grandchildren, so that as far as we can learn, the entire number of his still living children's children is 124.

DIARY OF MARY FRANCES COMPTON HUNTER

Oct. 24, 1905. Laura Grace's 3rd birthday.

Every day is a little life
And life is but a day repeated.

Today it is raining hard. Received a letter from Ida telling me of a little brother, born 23rd. Wrote a long letter to Luther. Received a letter from Claude saying baby is sick.

Oct. 25th. A letter from Emma Spain tells us of her new baby girl, born the 13th.

Oct. 26th. Went to Melissa on the morning train, had a nice visit. Would have felt better if Eber had not looked so sad - He was very kind and seemed to enjoy having me stay - insisted that I stay longer. The love of my children is worth more than all the wealth of the world.

Oct. 29th. Returned from Melissa this morning - was glad to find Claude and Cora at home.

Oct. 30th. Met with aid society at S. F. Cook's.

Nov. 11th. This morning we were surprised by a visit from Luther and were so glad to have him with us. He returned Sunday the 12th.

Nov. 15th. Went to see Minnie married and spent the night at J. W. McKinney's. Bascomb died at 12 o'clock the night Minnie was married.

Dec. 1st. Barn burned about 2 o'clock and oh how sad it seemed for the faithful animals to be burned to death.

Dec. 2nd. Claud came and spent the night and we are always glad to have him with us.

Sunday the 3rd. Henry and Eber came down and planned a new barn, and oh how much we appreciate the sympathy and help of children and friends in this our loss by fire. We had a loss by fire that once took from us our dear little Clarence. Our recent loss is not to be compared to that heart-rending sorrow. We felt then that we would never live over it, but twenty years have come and gone since that sad day and now we feel that our loss was his eternal gain. Our little boy waits for us over there.

Dec. 4th. My 54th birthday. I feel that I am growing old. Eber sent me the little grey as a birthday gift. He is a generous boy - I fear too much so for his own good.

Dec. 9th. Mr. Osburn and sons are building the new barn.

Dec. 12th. Herschel and little boys started to school and it is raining. Rained 13th. 14th the men are covering the barn.

Dec. 17th. A gloomy Sunday - carpenters have gone - barn not yet finished. Oran gone to Allen to church. Wylie Smith came in and gave Mr. H. a shave. This afternoon Mr. Cobb and Jerome came.

Dec. 21st. This has been a rainy week, but the sun shone bright today and our carpenters finished the new barn and went home.

Dec. 23rd. The roads are very muddy but Oran has gone for Maud this Friday evening. We are always so glad to have her at home, and it is a pleasure to us to know that she does not dislike her work at school.

Dec. 24th. New Year's Eve and the children all here except Eber and the boys in the West. We would be glad to have them all with us. We will thank the Dear Father for the blessings he has given them and pray that he will give them health and strength to do life's work.

Dec. 25th. The children have remembered us with little Christmas gifts and we know that ours are good children and oh how thankful we should be. It makes our daily tasks lighter to know that our efforts are appreciated. Maud, Lee, Boone, Eula and Walter ate Christmas dinner at Mrs. Sneed's.

Dec. 26th. A very busy day. Mr. Brooks helped Claud and the boys kill hogs. Eber came for a few hour's stay, brought Ida with him. We are always glad to see him but feel that we ought not to call him from his work.

Dec. 29th. Maud went home with Hunter and Virgie and Boone went to Melissa. This is the thirty-fifth anniversary of our marriage. These 35 years have had their joys and their sorrows and we have always tried to make life pleasant for the little ones that God has given us, and have ever prayed the Dear Father to shield them from temptation and give them health and strength to do life's work.

Dec. 30th. A gloomy day with rain and snow. Hunter and Oran hauled two loads of corn to the new barn and Frank Robbins brought corn and hay.

Dec. 31st. Maud came home and Boone returned from Melissa. (Afternoon) Maud and Boone went to Allen to spend the night and Lee will not go till morning. We would be glad to keep our boys with us but know that it is best for them to go away to school.

Jan 1st. Virgie is here. Hunter and Herschel went to town to get boots. The roads are muddy.

Jan 2nd. It is cold and rainy.

Jan 3rd. Just thirty-four years ago today my first boy was born near Bonham. How we all did love that boy and especially his dear old grand-mother. And her love for him never wavered till her dying day. We have just cause to be proud of our thoughtful, generous boy.

Jan 5th. The sun is shining brightly and this is a beautiful morning. Mr. Hunter is feeling better though he had rather a bad night.

Jan 13th. Another week has passed with nothing scribbled in my diary, but it has been a week of rain and snow and mud and cold. The boys at school, Oran for chore boy and Eula and I pieced three quilts while Mr. Hunter sits in his chair looking pale and weak.

Jan. 19th. Oran is sixteen today and all the care of the stock depends on him - he seems to take great interest in the work. May the Dear Father help him to do his work well.

THE CONSTITUTION

The Constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land. It is the framework of government, and it defines the powers and responsibilities of the federal government, the states, and the citizens. The Constitution is a living document, and it has been amended many times since it was first written. The amendments have helped to adapt the Constitution to the changing needs of the country. The Constitution is the foundation of our democracy, and it is the source of our rights and freedoms. It is the document that has shaped our nation, and it is the document that we all share. The Constitution is the heart of our country, and it is the heart of our people. It is the document that has made us a great nation, and it is the document that we all cherish. The Constitution is the symbol of our unity, and it is the symbol of our hope. It is the document that has given us a better life, and it is the document that we all strive to improve. The Constitution is the legacy of our forefathers, and it is the legacy that we all inherit. It is the document that has made us a great nation, and it is the document that we all share. The Constitution is the heart of our country, and it is the heart of our people. It is the document that has shaped our nation, and it is the document that we all cherish. The Constitution is the symbol of our unity, and it is the symbol of our hope. It is the document that has given us a better life, and it is the document that we all strive to improve. The Constitution is the legacy of our forefathers, and it is the legacy that we all inherit.

Jan. 20th. How the wind does blow! and the day is warm. Maud, Eula, and the boys are trying to finish the cotton picking.

Jan 21st. It rains and then comes the sleet and snow. Maud and Oran had a cold ride to Allen. Hunter came - Virgie left for Clay on the early train.

Jan. 22nd. The snow is drifted so that a horse can hardly travel. Oran and Hunter went to Parker for flour and could hardly get thru for the snow drifts.

Jan. 23rd. Cold and clear with the snow melting just a little. Had a card from Virgie telling us about Luther's new girl - born 20th. Eber moved to McKinney.

Jan 24th. Cold and clear but the snow not melting fast.

Feb. 4th. A cold rain today and then a blizzard. Mr. H. not seeming to well.

Feb. 5th. Cold but bright and still. Oran brings Eula from Allen after her visit to Princeton. Virgie wrote that she would be home tomorrow.

Feb. 6th. Hunter and Oran gone to Murphy to meet Virgie.

Feb. 10th. A bright day. Mattie, Pearl, and Bessie spent the day with us.

Feb. 11th. Another quiet Sunday at home - no Sunday School.

Feb. 12th. Oran and Hunter plowed in oats till noon then the rain poured down. Hunter and Virgie stayed with us over night. Their visits are always a pleasure and the children are glad to have them with us.

Feb. 13th. A bright day with the boys at school and Mr. H. feeling worse and so cross, but we do the best we can for him as we have ever done. May the Dear Father give us patience and forbearance and help us to bear our cross as we should.

Feb. 7th, 1906. Leo's birthday. Today he is 21. May God bless our boy with health and strength to do life's work is our earnest prayer.

Feb. 18th. Another muddy day. Jno. Ballew spent the day here and Mr. H. seems better and more cheerful.

Feb. 20th. Hunter and Oran hauled corn yesterday and today they will haul corn from Will Coffey's. Mrs. Lewis died this morning. Another good woman has gone home to rest. One by one we cross over to the other shore. Let us all try to be ready when our summons comes, that we may lie down, as it were, to pleasant dreams. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

Feb. 23rd. Had letters from the boys at Denton and one from Laura Grace. It is indeed a pleasure to know that our children are well and trying to do their duty. May the Dear Father help and bless them. Alice Harvell died today and Wes Clepper will be buried this afternoon at Forest Grove. It is ruining and how anxious we were for the weather to remain fair so that we could begin work in the field. But He who holds the winds in the hollow of his hands knoweth what is best for us.

Feb. 25th. Sunday. Went to Frank Grayums funeral and met with so many old friends. Uncle Dad Gallaher died today. He was tired and lay down to rest and it was rest indeed for his body sleeps till that first resurrection John so beautifully portrays.

Feb. 26th. The wind blows almost a storm but the boys are sowing oats. What a good thing it is to have neighbors who will lend a helping hand in time of need.

Feb. 27th. Jim McKinney came down and we reasoned whether or not we must move to town. Wish we thought best to do as Eber wishes. May the Lord watch over and bless my dear generous boy.

Feb. 28th. Cold and clear. The children picking the last remnant of cotton. Mr. H. sitting by the fire feeling badly.

Mar. 1st. Went with Mrs. Clark to McKinney. Saw Eber in his new office. Patronized the dentist; came home thru such a storm of wind.

Mar. 2nd. Had a phone message from Bellevue that Bob was coming. Sent Oran to meet him. Bob reached home about two o'clock Saturday morning and oh how glad we were to see him. Cora's birthday. She and Laura Grace came to see us.

Mar. 3rd. Claude and Maud came home from the institute. Our girls all at home but Jane and Ollie; all the boys but Eber, Luther, Lee and Boone.

Mar. 4th. Sunday. Will and Seralda, Mr. Deal and Roy, Bat and Rosa, Pearl and Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Taylor Coffey, George Hortman and Jim McKinney all called to see Bob. About sunset he bade us good-bye and went with Hunter and Virgie to spend the night. It was sad to say good-bye, but we know we can't keep all our boys with us, and it is best as it is.

Mar. 5th. Helped Oran and Eula plant garden. Herschel rode Hobson to town.

June 13th, 1906. Again I take up this long neglected diary. Winter snows and spring rains have given place to warm days and June roses. Claude is helping the boys "lay their crop by." The little boys have worked cheerfully and faithfully and now their crop looks promising. Maud has been in Denton since May 28th. We wish she could have rested this summer.

July 13th. Luther and family came today and we were glad to have them with us. After a week's visiting friends and relatives they returned July 16th. We are glad they seem so well satisfied with their home in the west.

July 17th. Claude and family went to Ponder today. Claude is looking badly and we hope a change of water will do him good. We would enjoy having our children with us but it is best as it is.

July 30th. Mr. H. left for a visit west. Rode horseback to Allen. Looks pale and weak. We hope the change will be a benefit. Maud is at home again looking well after two months hard study. She accomplished more than she hoped for, having been granted a state certificate, 1st grade, for six years.

July 5th. Boone went today to Dallas on his way to Bellevue.

Sept. 10th. Since I last scribbled a line in my diary Mr. H. has returned from a month's stay with the boys in the west. He came back somewhat improved. It is raining and the bollworms are eating the cotton. ~~But~~ Eula started to school at Allen today. Cora and Laura Grace came back from Ponder two days ago looking well.

June 23, 1915. Today I picked up this old diary up-stairs. Almost nine years have slipped by since I last wrote a line here. Years that have been not all sunshine but He who "tempers the wind to the shorn lamb" has been good to us and cared for us.

Mr. H. died Jan 6, 1907. He did not suffer a great deal until the last week. He craved to live until Walter was grown. He was so anxious that his boys all live a pure life. Walter has not had a father's care but he has had a brother's love, and no father could have been more devoted than Lee has to his little brother. Walter appreciates Lee's care for him and looks to him for counsel. Eula has used time and means in trying to keep Walter in school. His last year's work in the High School has been due to her efforts.

June 23rd. This warm day finds only Oran and myself at home. Eula is in Ft. Worth, Lee in Aubrey, Doone and Hal in Kentucky, Roy and Walter in the west.

I love my little home in Allen. I enjoy the "Aid" and the church work. Everybody has been kind to me. The members of our club have shown me many favors. I am old and crippled but I do not feel in the way.

Elizabeth, the widow of Henry Fry went to Giles County Tenn. Sometime after Aug. 17, 1816 where she lived with her sons John and Henry and she married Parks Bailey in Giles County Tenn. This information given by John W. Fry of Columbia, Tenn. She died between the years of 1840 and 1850. We find her in the Census of 1840 living with her son Henry H. Fry and her age is recorded as between 70 and 80 years. She is buried in what is known as the Fry Graveyard on Fry Branch.

A William Fry, son of John ~~iii~~, Johann Heinrich 3, Valentine 2-Peter Fry Sr. the Immigrant.

Born-11/21/1800 in Germanton N.C. died 6/12/1880 at his home on Big Creek, 14th District, Giles County, Tenn. He lived a bachelor until he was forty-five years of age when he married 11/5/1845, Mary Jane daughter of William H. and Nancy (Tacker) McCreary, of Giles Co. Tenn. She was born Dec. 21, 1820 in Giles Co. Tenn, and she died on Big Creek, Sept. 28, 1899. She and her husband are buried in the McCreary family cemetery, near Lynnville Tenn. Both were members of the Christian Church. William Fry was Justice of the Peace and Deputy Sheriff of Giles Co. Tenn. for many years.

The "Early History of Giles Co. Tenn". by McCallum states that John Fry father of Captain William Fry(A) moved from north Carolina in 1805 and came to Williamson County Tenn. and lived there for two years then he came to what is now Giles Co. Tenn. March 8, 1808. Giles County was formed in 1809 hence he was one of the pioneers of that county. He is buried in the Fry Family graveyard near Lynnville Tenn. (m. 2.)

I am indebted to Mr. John William Fry who lives in Columbia Tenn. for the above record of the family of Johannes (John) Frey, also for the record of the family of his father and mother William Fry and wife Mary Jane McCreary and the record of his own family.

4) HENRY H.

Son of Heinrich and Elizabeth Fry married Dec. 31, 1811 Margaret (Peggy) Petree in Stokes County N. C. I have a copy of the Marriage Bond which also records the names of Henry Fry and William Boyles as Bondsmen..

While at the Danbury Court House, I also found recorded a Deed made April 12, 1823 to Solomon Peters and signed by Henry H. Fry and Margaret Fry his wife, and others (Deed Book 8, page 72)

Henry H. Fry is listed in the 1820 Census for Stokes County N. C. with his family consisting of:

- 2 White Males under 10 years.
- 1 White male of 26 and under 45 years (this is Henry Fry, head of the family).
- 2 females under 19 years.
- 1 female of 16 and under 26 years (this is Margaret, the wife).

My Grandmother was Mary Adeline Fry and she was the daughter of Henry and Margaret Fry. She was born March 7, 1828 in Germantown, N. C. Her birth coming after the Census record of 1822 above quoted, shows that she had two brothers and two sisters older than she.

The deed previously mentioned as signed by Henry Fry and Margaret Fry, April 12, 1823 in Stokes Co. N. C. very probably was given about the time they sold their land and moved to Giles County, Tenn.

On November 29th I visited the Court House at Pulaski which is the County Seat of Giles County, Tenn. I found recorded a Deed made by Henry H. Fry to Hardy Willford on Jan. 15, 1827 in Deed Book G-page 196 for 270 acres of land. This proves that Henry and Margaret Fry arrived in Giles County Tenn. between April 1823 and 1826.

The Census record of 1830 for Giles County Tenn. shows the family of Henry Fry with the following children living at home:

- 1 male under 5 years.
- 1 male of 5 to 10 years.
- 1 male of 20 to 30 years.
(who is Henry Fry head of the family)

- 1 female under 5 years
- 2 females of 5 and under 10 years (one of these is my grandmother born 1822)
- 1 female of 15 and under 20 years
- 1 female of 20 to 30 years.
(who is Margaret, wife).

Henry H. Fry and his first wife Margaret Petree Fry had several children as shown by the Census records of Stokes County N.C. of 1820 and Giles County Tenn of 1830 but I am unable to establish identity of only three (3) children:

According to the Statement made by my Aunt Julia in 1825 which I have already mentioned in this record, her mother Mary Adeline Fry had a brother named Martin and I visited Mr. Tom Fry near Columbia Tenn. Nov. 30, 1830 and he told me that his father who was John Fry had a sister named Addie, that he remembered hearing his father often talk of this Sister. The name Addie is short for Adeline, and Aunt Julia said her Mother was always called Addie by everyone.

The 1850 Census of Giles County gives the age of Martin Fry as 35 years, born in North Carolina with his family which will be mentioned later in this record. Since Martin Fry was 35 years old in 1850, he was born in 1815.

The 1830 Census of Giles County Tenn. lists the age of the wife of Henry H. Fry as between 30 and 40 years of age, while the Census of 1840 of Giles County Tenn. lists the age of his wife as of 30 to 40 years of age. This proves that the first wife Margaret had died and Henry H. Fry had married a second time, and to a much younger woman than was Margaret his first wife. The 1850 Census of Giles County Tenn. records the family as follows:

|--------------|--------|-------------|
| Henry H. Fry | age 58 | b. in N. C. |
| Mary A. | Age 43 | b. in N. C. |
| William | age 21 | b. in Tenn. |
| Nimrod P. | age 16 | b. in Tenn. |
| Loretta | age 12 | b. in Tenn. |
| Lewis | age 10 | b. in Tenn. |
| Ellen | age 8 | b. in Tenn. |

The children of Henry H. Fry will be (according to Census Records) recorded as follows:

Children by his first wife Margaret Petree Fry:

- 1-a daughter born in 1812 (name unknown) Census 1820 Stokes Co. N. C.
- 2-Martin Fry b.-1815-N. C.
- 3-a daughter b.-1817-N. C.
- 4-John b.-1819-N. C.
- 5-Mary Adeline B. Mar. 7th 1822-N. C. (1850 Census Giles Co. Tenn. Gives her age as 28 years.)
- 6-a daughter b. 1825-Tenn.
- 7-William Fry b. 1829 Tenn. (1850 Giles Co. Census gives his age as 21 years)

Children by second wife Mary A. Binum Fry.

- 8-Nimrod P. b-1834--Tenn. (1850 Census gives his age as 16)
- 9-Loretta b-1838--Tenn. (1850 Census)
- 10-Lewis b-1840--Tenn. (1850 Census)
- 11-Ellen b-1842--Tenn. (1850 Census)

Correspondence with John W. Fry Follows:

Columbia, Tenn.
March 27, 1925.

Dear Mrs. Brandle:

Mr. J. T. (Tom) Fry, brought a letter into my office that you wrote him February 10, making inquiry concerning the Fry and Compton kin, and, as long as he has been such a long time replying, I told him that I would write you a short letter, but I have never been able to run our kinship beyond my great grandfather, who would also be Tom's Great Grandfather. My grandfather was named John Fry, and Tom's grandfather was named Henry Fry. My father was born in Stokes County, N. C. in 1800, and came to Giles County, Tenn., in 1808, and I think Tom's grandfather soon followed John Fry, my grandfather to Tennessee.

My father was 60 years old when I was born, and died before I was 21, and I was not old enough to be interested in family history. It seems that none of us ever get interested until the old ones die off. Tom hardly knows who his grandfather was. His father, John P. Fry, died when Tom was a little boy, a few years old. At that time, they lived in Missouri.

Columbia, Tennessee
April 2, 1925.

My Dear Mrs. Grandle:

I thank you so much for your letter of the 31st ult., It is my understanding our great grandfather was named Henry Fry. He was the father of my grandfather, John Fry, and Tom Fry's grandfather, Henry Fry, who was evidently named for his father. John and Henry located in Giles County, Tennessee. They had two brothers that I have heard mentioned, named Lewis and Jesse. Their father, Henry, was married twice, and these brothers named were children of the second marriage. It has come to me, that a son of the first marriage was not congenial with the step-mother and soon wandered away, and all track of him was lost. My father, William Fry was born in 1800 in Germantown, Stokes County, N. C., and his father moved to Giles County, in 1808, and was later followed by Henry.

Columbis, Tennessee,
July 14, 1923

My Dear Mrs. Grandle,

Replying to your letter of the 6th inst., up to this writing, I have been unable to get in touch with any of the Comptons other than Homer Compton, who is bookkeeper and treasurer for Fry Bros., who are my cons. He does not really remember the names of his uncles, his fathers brothers. I knew his father, Albert S. Compton, who was a son of Isaac Compton, but I am not familiar with the other Comptons, to know who married Adeline Fry, whom I suppose was a sister of Martin Fry, and he was a son of Henry Fry by his first wife, and Henry Fry was a brother of John Fry, who was my grandfather, and I have always understood their father's name was Henry. My grandfather, John Fry, came from Germantown, Stokes County, North Carolina to Giles County, Tenn., in 1808. My Father was born in Germantown, so were two of his sisters, and probably three, viz: Patsy, Elizabeth, called Betsy, and Angie. My uncle, Jessop, and the following children were born after they came to Tennessee: Sallie, Margaret, and Minerva. There was a boy named John who died before reaching manhood. When my father was 40 years old he married Mary Jane McCreary, and I was born in 1859, and my sister, Angie in 1861. My father's sister, Patsy, married Robert Abernathy. They moved to Missouri before I was born, afterwards moved to Texas, and Jack Abernathy, U. S. Marshall under Roosevelt, was a grandson of Robert and Patsy Abernathy, and, as his father, Van Abernathy, when last heard from was living in Oklahoma.

Henry Fry, your ancestor, must be your great-grandfather. He was a brother of my grandfather, and was evidently married twice. Tom Fry's father was named John P. Fry, and there was another one named Lewis Fry, another Nimrod Fry, children of Henry Fry, and half-brothers to Martin Fry. I do not know the names of Henry Fry's wives. My grandfather, John Fry, married Mary Evans. She was a sister to Hampton Evans. Hampton Evans married Nancy Laird, and they left a great number of boys, none of whom are living now.

STATEMENT

On June 8th 1925 my two daughters, Nina and Josephine and I drove in our automobile to Springfield Mo. (a distance of about 98 mi. from our home in Pittsburg, Kans.) to visit my aunt Mrs. Julia Compton Holman who was the sister of my Mother, Amanda Elizabeth Gallagher. Aunt Julia had the old family Bible and I copied the following record from it:

"Francis Marion Compton b. Apr. 23, 1821 in Giles County Tenn. and died Mar. 29, 1890 in Steeleville Mo.
Mary Adaline Compton b. Mar. 8, 1822 in Stokes County North Carolina and died Feb. 14, 1872 in Dadeville Mo.
Francis Marion Compton married to Mary Adaline Fry May 10th 1841 in Lynnville Tenn., Giles County".

"Children of Francis M. Compton and Mary Adaline Fry"

Isaac Henry, John Martin, Marshall Fry, Margaret Adaline, Eliza Jane,

Amanda Elizabeth (my Mother) b. July 28, 1857 in Dadeville Mo. and died Aug. 1st 1879 in Dadeville Mo.

Julia Francis b. Mar. 15, 1861 in Dadeville Mo.
Susan Catharine" (the date of births for all these children will be quoted later on in this record)

Aunt Julia was in very bad health and I feared she would not live very long. I urged her to talk to me about our family. My mother having died when I was a little girl 3 1/2 years old my knowledge concerning the family history was limited to information given me by my father, Edward Gallagher. Aunt Julia died Dec. 27, 1926. She made the following Statement in substance and I signed the statement and my daughters, Nina and Josephine and Theo Holman, Aunt Julia's daughter, also signed it. Her statement is as follows: "Your Grandmother Compton was Mary Adaline Fry and her father's name was Henry Fry. Your Grandfather was Francis Marion Compton and his father's name was Isaac Compton and his Mother's name was Barbara. Your Grandmother Compton had a brother named Martin---her father was married twice. Her, Mother died when she was a child.

"On a visit with Grandma Fry, who was my mother's step-mother, while in Lynnville Tenn. about 43 years ago, Grandma lived in the Country out of Lynnville with her two sons and I remember their names were Jessie and Lewis"

Then follows another statement--"Cousin Peggy White was Turner White's Mother and she was a cousin to my mother. This closes her statement which was signed as I have previously stated by her and her daughter and my two daughters. Aunt Julia refers to Turner White and he is, Judge Turner White now retired as Judge from his Judicial District and now living in Jefferson City, Mo.

Interview with Dr. J. H. Fender, Mosquito, Texas
Dec. 23, 1924.

Dear Brothers, Sisters, and children:

On Dec. 20, 1924 I went to Mosquito, twelve miles east of Dallas and had a brief interview with Dr. J. H. Fender who lives at Mosquito. He was 60 years old the 17th of last May. His mind is clear but his body is beginning to wear out. As you know, he was with our father during the Civil War, and the object of my visit was to learn a few facts first hand regarding our father and his experiences during the Civil War. The interview which I am sending you is poorly arranged, but it may have some interest for each of you anyway.

Dr. Fender lives at Mosquito with his second wife, who was a Miss Reed and once lived near Kallieca, Texas. I will give you in brief the questions and answers.

(1) When did you first meet my father?

I first met Deb Sneed (he called him Deb) just east of Kearsce, La. over east of the river was where I first met him. I want to tell you in the first place that your father was a civil engineer, and had been transferred there from the Stephens Regiment or the Alexander Regiment to the company of engineers made up of two brigades from La. and Texas. There were about 75 men in the company and they went ahead of the army to keep the way open. The captain of this company was Mr. Willard, and your father came had worked with him in building the Mississippi Central Railway before the war, and it was for this reason that he asked your father to be the Quartermaster Sergeant in the company of engineers. Captain Williams was originally from Georgia. The real duty of your father was to provide food and quarters for men and beasts.

(2) What was your relation to this company?

I had been prior to the time of meeting your father an assistant surgeon of the regiment raised at Dallas called Humph's Regiment, or the 31st Texas cavalry. At the time I met your father I had just returned from a leave of absence home where I had been on account of sickness. When I returned to the army they were making up this company of engineers and I was assigned to it as surgeon. I had been for a short time with Alexander's Regiment, but the regiment had become so depleted that only one surgeon was allotted to a regiment. So in the company of engineers to which your father and I were assigned, he looked after food and shelter for men and beasts and I looked after the health of the officers and men. The men of this company were chosen from the depleted ranks of Alexanders and Stephens' regiments. It was at the time that I was assigned to this company that I first met your father. This was about August 1864 and we continued until the break of the war.

We separated near Graceland as we came toward Kaufman on our way home. Toward the close of the war we had three teams, a six mule team, a four mule team, and a two mule team. Your father had charge of the teams, and had a good saddle horse to ride and hunt feed stuff.

(3) Where did you go from Monroe, La.?

We moved as the command moved and soon separated from the two regiments from which our company was formed and never met again. As the command moved they sent us ahead to build pontoon bridges over the Washita River. When we left this region we went to Shreveport, La. and stayed there making pontoon bridges just south of Texas Street. About the first of May we were ordered from there to Houston. It was squally times then. We had 73 men and 36 deserted on the night before we left Shreveport. We had one man who stayed with us by the name of Redfield. He was a mechanic but did not like to work. He was an Orderly Sergeant and he reported to the captain that Redfield was not working and claimed to be sick. I examined and found nothing wrong with him. The captain told Horro to buck and gag him. He did so and Redfield went to work.

Dezire Wilson from Houston the captain said to me "Why did old Red come along with us?" I replied, "I do not know" "Do you think he intends to kill some one before he leaves our company?" He sent out a number of men to get word. Redfield was in the company; he did not come back and we never heard from him again.

(4) Who were the members of your mess, Dr.?

The members of my mess were Captain Williams, Lt. Ferguson, Lt. Reynolds, myself and a negro. Your father and I frequently messed together, but absolutely speaking he did not belong to our mess, because he was not a commissioned officer. Your father and I were more friendly than any other members of the company because the other men were wicked, but all the officers and men treated your father and I very kindly (I am sure they respected us) There was never a day or night passed that I did not pray. I believe I tried to have a religious life as hard as I ever tried in my life. Your father and I were practically the only Christian men in the company, and we lived our religion more than we talked it.

(5) When did you and my father separate, Doctor?

Your father and I separated in May 1865, on the east side of the Neches River. There we met a disbanded cavalry company who took practically everything we had except one mule each. Each man took a mule and the rest were left in the road or turned over to the cavalry officers. I had my own horse and was allowed to keep it. Jim Waller, your father and I came on together toward Kaufman, but my horse got sick and I insisted that your father and Waller should go on. Your father got a very fine mule which had been a wheel mule in the six mule team. My horse was foundered and I was delayed for a short time.

(6) When did you meet my father again?

I met him off and on as long as he lived, most often at the meeting of Presbytery. I always considered him to be one of my very best friends.

(7) Have you any message, Doctor, which I may send to my brothers and sisters regarding my father?

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the transparency and accountability of any organization. The author argues that without reliable records, it is impossible to track the flow of funds or identify potential areas of misuse.

2. The second part of the paper focuses on the role of internal controls in preventing fraud. It outlines several key principles, such as the separation of duties and the implementation of a robust approval process. The author suggests that these measures can significantly reduce the risk of fraudulent activities by creating a system of checks and balances.

3. The third part of the paper addresses the challenges of managing financial data in a complex environment. It highlights the need for standardized reporting formats and the use of technology to streamline data collection and analysis. The author also discusses the importance of regular audits to ensure the integrity of the financial information.

4. The fourth part of the paper explores the impact of external factors on financial reporting. It examines how changes in accounting standards and regulatory requirements can affect the way organizations present their financial data. The author stresses the need for organizations to stay up-to-date with these changes to ensure compliance and maintain the trust of their stakeholders.

5. The fifth part of the paper discusses the role of the board of directors in overseeing financial reporting. It outlines the board's responsibilities, including the approval of financial statements and the appointment of independent auditors. The author argues that an active and engaged board is crucial for ensuring the accuracy and reliability of the financial information provided to investors and other stakeholders.

I believe you know my disposition well enough to know that your father and I would naturally form a close friendship. He was the only man in the company that I could form a close friendship with. We had like sympathies. I always regarded him as one of my very best friends as long as he lived. He came to my house a number of times. My impressions always were that he was a religious man. I do not know whether he knew or not to what church I belonged, but we regarded each other as Christians. I was reared in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, but there was no Cumberland Presbyterian Church in the community where I lived just prior to the war so I united with the Methodist Church.

After the war closed Nov. Blount organized a Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Seyona, Texas near Mesquite. This was in 1866 I think. I became a charter member and was made an elder in 1867 and have served as an elder ever since. This church later disbanded and the membership moved to Mesquite. There were three elders in the Seyona Church: Captain J. W. Tondor, Martin Riggs (grandfather to Edwin Riggs) and myself.

(8) I forget to ask you Deeter if you were in the fighting zone. Your father's regiment got it hard before I met him. They were in the fight at Mansfield and Pleasantfield. They were both bad.

(9) Did you have much sickness, Deeter?

Between Monroe and Milled four or five negroes died with pneumonia. It hurt me very much to lose these men. The captain saw that I was worried so he said "Don't worry, you have done the best you could." The third night out on our way to Houston the mules got sick but soon recovered. We were always uneasy for fear the disbanded cavalry would steal the stock. As a rule the officers had been standing guard, but about this time Captain Williams, Hemo, your father and I stood guard at night. Lieut. Ferguson was a dangerous man. He had killed a man from Green's Regiment, and was a son of a Methodist Minister, and his name was Jim Ferguson. A man by the name of Austin died and Lieut. Reynolds asked me to conduct the funeral at Camden, Ark. I refused and so Reynolds conducted it himself although he did not claim to be a Christian.

Glenn L. Sneed.

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the success of any business or organization. The author provides a detailed overview of the various methods used to collect and analyze data, highlighting the strengths and weaknesses of each approach. The discussion is supported by numerous examples and case studies, which illustrate the practical application of these techniques in real-world scenarios.

2. The second part of the paper focuses on the challenges faced by researchers in this field. It identifies several key areas where further research is needed, including the development of more sophisticated data analysis tools and the improvement of data collection methods. The author also discusses the importance of interdisciplinary collaboration in addressing these challenges, as well as the need for ongoing education and training in this field. The paper concludes with a call to action, urging researchers to continue their efforts to advance the state of the art in this important area of study.

3. The third part of the paper provides a summary of the findings and conclusions. It reiterates the importance of accurate record-keeping and the need for ongoing research and development in this field. The author also provides a list of references for further reading, including books, articles, and online resources. The paper is well-organized and easy to read, making it a valuable resource for anyone interested in this topic. The author's clear and concise writing style, combined with the wealth of information provided, makes this a highly recommended read for all those who are serious about understanding the complexities of data collection and analysis.

Miss Laura Grace Hunter
Mela Park, Cleveland, Ohio

My Dear Cousin Laura:

Cousin Ruth was mistaken about me writing a history of the Sneeds. I only wrote a chapter to be put into a history of prominent families in Williamson Co. who had land grants.

In this I traced my father's line back to Samuel and Alice. I couldn't find the date of Zachariah's birth or death. I was told that more than likely the records were destroyed when the Richmond Court House was burned. This Zachariah Sneed, son of William, lived in Henrico County, Virginia, and was killed in the Revolutionary War. His wife died soon after his death, leaving seven children. They were Elizabeth, James, Alexander, John, William, Zachariah and Sallie. These children were brought to North Carolina by their maternal grandmother. One went to Texas in early life, one to Georgia, two, William and James, coming to Tennessee. You see from this there are two generations with the name of Zachariah which makes it somewhat confusing. The last Zachariah was Martha Nance's husband.

The Sneeds, Sneed, Sneyd, and Sneyde are all one and the same family. They came from England and are descendants of Alfred the Great, King of England. This information was gotten from Mr. Worsley, Genealogist of London, England.

The Hardemans and Sneeds when traced back several generations come from the same line. I was tracing back through the Sneed-Perkins line and someone else traced back through the Hardeman line, both came from the same family of Perkins.

Thomas Hardeman was born in Albemarle County, Virginia, 1-6-1750, and died in Davidson County, Tenn., 6-14-1833. He lived near Nashville during the Revolution. Constant Hardeman was the son of Thomas Hardeman and Mary Perkins. Susan Perkins Hardeman was the daughter of Constant Hardeman and Sallie Marr. Susan Perkins Hardeman was the wife of Constantine Perkins Sneed and the mother of Robert Scales Sneed.

I have quite a bit of material on the Perkins line also some dates you might like to get. I will be glad to help you all I can this summer. I shall look forward to seeing you later on.

Sincerely yours,

(Mrs. J.H.) Mary Sneed Jones

"The following document is a very interesting one and concerns a highly respected Middlesboro citizen, B.H. Perkins, as the original was made by his great, great, great grandfather who was born in 1640. The copy was made a week ago from the original now in the possession of a descendant on the maternal side, Dr. Wyatt Letcher, of Danville, Ky., who is a nephew of Robert Perkins Letcher, Governor of Kentucky from 1840-44:

SNEED FAMILY

(The following is copied verbatim from "TENNESSEE - A HISTORY, 1673-1932" Vol. III, pp. 69 and 70, published by The American Historical Society, Inc., New York City, in 1933. Cleveland Public Library Book No. q.985.8-H173t2. This William L. Sneed is the son of William L. Sneed who was a brother of Robert Scales Sneed.)

WILLIAM L. SNEED, M.D., now of New York City is a Tennessean who has made notable contributions to medical and surgical science. He is a worthy scion of an old Cavalier American family, pioneers of the South. They fought to maintain the supremacy of the whites and Anglo-Saxon race in the Colonies, and in times of peace, by precept and example, contributed to those ideals and institutions whose peculiar color and qualities have brought this country to the forefront among the nations of the world. Among the old Southern families which, through marriage, appear in Dr. Sneed's lineage may be mentioned the following: Nance, Perkins, Hardeman, Tate, Harding, Pollard, Gyles, Childress, and Knowles, to mention only a few.

Sneed is a very old family name in England. Like nearly all names capable of variation, this one has been spelled in different ways - Sneyd, Snyder, Sneed and Sneed. Harrison, a leading authority on the meaning of British surnames, says that Sneed signifies a cut-off piece of land, or clearing.

Sneyd (Sneed) Arms - Argent, a scythe, the blade in chief, the sned or handle in bend sinister; sable on the fesse point a fleur-de-lis of the second.

Crest - A lion of England passant guardant sable.

Motto - Nec Opprimere nec opprimi. (Neither to oppress nor endure oppression.)

The Sneed coat-of-arms is susceptible of several interpretations. The pun is in the scythe - the handle meaning snead or sneyd. The lion is taken to represent military prowess, the Sneeds having been in the Crusades and other wars. The fleur-de-lis was given for service in the battle of Poitiers. Clement F. Worsley, a well-known genealogist of London, England, himself a descendant of the Sneydes of Keel Hall, the oldest branch of the family, whose coat-of-arms is described above, has traced the English family of Sneeds back to Eadwulf, or Eadulf, son of Ordgar, ealdorman of the Defensoetas (Devon and Cornwall). Eadwulf married Aelfwyn, daughter and heiress of Aethelred, last King and first Earl of Mercia by Aethelfloed, daughter of Alfred the Great, who died in 901 A.D. Thence he traced the line through nine generations to Richard de Aldithley, who took the name of Sned, or Snede, from the lands of Sned, which he held under his cousin, Henry de Aldithley. He gave a hide of land called Sithfield, near the wood of Sned to the Abbey of Hulton in 1233.

There can be little, if any, doubt that the Sneed family to which Dr. Sneed belongs sprang from the English family just referred to; but destruction of records during the Revolutionary and Civil wars wiped out for all time the evidence in this country necessary to link the American Sneeds with their English forebears.

(1) The first Sneed to arrive in Virginia was Samuel Sneed, who came with his wife, son William, and a servant in 1635. The elder Sneed was granted two hundred acres of land in James Country "for transportation at his own expense and charges, of four persons into this colony, whose names are mentioned under this patent, to hold the 28th day of March, 1639." This was located on Keth's Creek. The patent was renewed March 19, 1643, in the name of Alice Sneed.

[The text on this page is extremely faint and illegible. It appears to be a multi-column document, possibly a ledger or a list, with several columns of text separated by vertical lines. The content is too blurry to transcribe accurately.]

(II) William Sneed, son of Samuel Sneed, was born in England and came to this country with his father. He was a resident of Henrico County in 1740.

(III) Zachariah Sneed is the next ancestor in this line of descent, according to Miss Catherine Sneed of Diamond Springs, Kentucky, who has worked out the lineage of this branch of the family, which is also her own. He was born in Virginia where he married Martha Nance, daughter of ⁵⁰⁸ Daniel Nance. Zachariah Sneed and his wife had the following children: James, of whom further; Alexander, Zachariah, John, and William.

(IV) James Sneed, son of Zachariah and Martha (Nance) Sneed, was born in Virginia December 29, 1764 and died in Williamson County, Tennessee, September 20, 1853. He owned two tenyards, one in Tennessee and the other in Alabama. His main business, however, was that of planter. He was, of course, a Democrat. He married, December 6, 1789, ~~Elizabeth~~ ^{Bethenia} Harding Perkins, born in Virginia August 1, 1770, and died in Williamson County, this State, July 17, 1812. She was the daughter of Charles and Mary (Tate) Perkins.

(PERKINS FAMILY)

The first ancestor in this line to whom the lineage can be definitely traced was Nicholas Perkins, whose name appears on record in Henrico County in 1640, and whose will was probated in 1711. He is supposed to have been the son of Richard Perkins, who was the son of Aden Perkins. Nicholas Perkins married Sarah Childress, daughter of Philemon Childress. Their son, Constantine Perkins, married Ann Pollard, daughter of Joseph Pollard. Their son, Nicholas Perkins, was born in 1718 in Henrico County, Virginia. He married Bethenia Harding, daughter of Thomas and Mary (Gyles) Harding. Their son, Charles Perkins, married Mary Tate, and they were the parents of ~~Sarah~~ ^{Bethenia} Harding Perkins, born August 1, 1770, died in 1812, who married James Sneed, as above stated. They were the parents of twelve children. Mr. and Mrs. Sneed were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

(HARDING FAMILY)

Bethenia Harding, who married Nicholas Perkins, was the grand-daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Harding, who came to America in 1650 and settled in Norfolk County, Virginia. In a deed he describes himself as of "Lynhaven river, Lower Norfolk." This name seems to have been spelled indiscriminately Harden and Harding. William Gyles, the maternal grandfather of Bethenia Harding, married Bethenia Knowles, daughter of Captain John Knowles. The wills of William Gyles and his wife, and deeds by them are recorded in Deed Book I, Henrico Courthouse, Richmond, Virginia.

(V) Constantine Perkins Sneed, son of James and ~~Bethenia~~ ^{Bethenia} Harding (Perkins) Sneed, was born in Pittsylvania County, Virginia, November 29, 1790 and died August 12, 1864 near Brentwood, Williamson County, about ten miles from Nashville. His main occupation during his active years was farming. He served with General Jackson in New Orleans. He married Susan Hardeman, born in Rutherford County, Tennessee, and died near Brentwood, daughter of Thomas Constant Hardeman (whose first name was often omitted from his signature and by others). They were the parents of the following children, some of whose names are not complete: Sallie, James, Bethenia, Agatha, Robert, Cernelia, Susanna, Mary, Constantine, William L., of whom further, Elizabeth, and Thomas. They were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS

(Excerpts from a letter which I received from Miss Catharine H. Sneed, Diamond Springs, Route 4, Lewisburg, Ky., Feb. 8, 1938.)

Dear Miss Hunter:

I am more than glad to have your letter for I am always glad to find another Sneed genealogist. I am the grand-daughter of William Temple Sneed who was a younger brother of Constantine Perkins Sneed.

From the outline you sent me I think you must have about the same material that I have. I have never heard the story of our Sneeds having fought in the British army in the Revolution. There is a tradition that Zachariah Sneed was a Revolutionary soldier but I have never been able to establish that. I have some old family letters, one or two written by James Sneed, one written by Constantine Sneed, your great grandfather, to his father James Sneed who was your gr-gr-grandfather, and several others. These letters are great treasures. One was written by Robert Sneed to his brother James who had moved to Tennessee in 1800. The wife of James Sneed was named Bethenia H. Perkins. I have a few stray items anent household matters from Bethenia's account book. I mean the original.

I suppose you know that Constantine Perkins Sneed was a major in the War of 1812.

You mention that James Sneed was a member of M.E. Church South. Did you know that he did not join the church until late in life? My father remembered seeing his grandfather join the church. He had three sons who were ministers of M.E. Church South, namely Geo. W., Joseph P., and Nicholas Tate who died a young man.

James Sneed was a tanner, had two tanyards, one in Alabama and one at his home in Williamson County. His old home still standing and in the possession of his descendants.

I believe the father of Zachariah was named William. Our tradition says so at any rate, but I do not think he could have been the William who came over in 1635. No Sneed genealogist that I have ever compared notes with has had positive proof of his line back to emigrant Samuel, wife Alice, and son William. Have you this proof?

Interview with Dr. J. H. Fender, Mesquite, Texas,
Dec. 23, 1924.

Dear Brothers, Sisters, and children:

On Dec. 10, 1924 I went to Mesquite, twelve miles east of Dallas and had a brief interview with Dr. J. H. Fender who lives at Mesquite. He was 89 years old the 10th of last May. His mind is clear but his body is beginning to wear out. As you know, he was with our father during the Civil War, and the object of my visit was to learn a few facts first hand regarding our father and his experiences during the Civil War. The interview which I am sending you is poorly arranged, but it may have some interest for each of you anyway.

Dr. Fender lives at Mesquite with his second wife, who was a Miss Reed and once lived near Melissa, Texas. I will give you in brief the questions and answers.

(1) When did you first meet my father?

I first met Bob Sneed (We called him Bob) just east of Monroe, La. over east of the river was where I first met him. I want to tell you in the first place that your father was a civil engineer, and had been transferred there from the Stephens Regiment or the Alexander Regiment to the company of engineers made up of two brigades from La. and Texas. There were about 75 men in the company and they went ahead of the army to keep the way open. The captain of this company was Mr. Williams, and your father amix had worked with him in building the Mississippi Central Railway before the war, and it was for this reason that he asked your father to be the Commissary Quartermaster Sergeant in the company of engineers. Captain Williams was originally from Georgia. The real duty of your father was to provide food and quarters for men and beasts.

(2) What was your relation to this company?

I had been prior to the time of meeting your father an assistant surgeon of the regiment raised at Dallas called Haup's Regiment, or the 31st Texas cavalry. At the time I met your father I had just returned from a leave of absence home where I had been on account of sickness. When I returned to the army they were making up this company of engineers and I was assigned to it as surgeon. I had been for a short time with Alexander's Regiment, but the regiment had become so depleted that only one surgeon was allowed to a regiment. So in the company of engineers to which your father and I were assigned, he looked after food and shelter for man and beast and I looked after the health of the officers and men. The men of this company were chosen from the depleted ranks of Alexanders and Stephens' regiments. It was at the time that I was assigned to this company that I first met your father. This was about August 1864 and we continued until the break of the war.

We separated near Crockett as we came toward Kaufman on our way home. Toward the close of the war we had three teams, a six mule team, a four mule team, and a two mule team. Your father had charge of the teams, and had a good saddle horse to ride and hunt feed stuff.

(3) Where did you go from Monroe, La.?

We moved as the command moved and soon separated from the two regiments from which our company was formed and never met again. As the command moved they sent us ahead to build pontoon bridges over the Washita River. When we left this region we went to Shreveport, La. and stayed there making pontoon bridges just south of Texas Street. About the first of May we were ordered from there to Houston. It was squally times then. We had 73 men and 36 deserted on the night before we left Shreveport. We had one man who stayed with us by the name of Redfield. He was a mechanic but did not like to work. Horne was Orderly Sergeant and he reported to the captain that Redfield was not working and claimed to be sick. I examined and found nothing wrong with him. The captain told Horne to buck and gag him. He did so and Redfield went to work.

Twelve miles from Houston the captain said to me "Why did old Red come along with us?" I replied, "I do not know" "Do you think he intends to kill some one before he leaves our company?" We sent out a number of men to get wood. Redfield was in the company; he did not come back and we never heard from him again.

(4) Who were the members of your mess, Dr.?

The members of my mess were Captain Williams, Lt. Ferguson, Lt. Reynolds, myself and a nigger. Your father and I frequently messed together, but strictly speaking he did not belong to our mess, because he was not a commissioned officer. Your father and I were more friendly than any other members of the company because the other men were wicked, but all the officers and men treated your father and I very kindly (I am sure they respected us) There was never a day or night passed that I did not pray. I believe I tried to live a religious life as hard as I ever tried in my life. Your father and I were practically the only Christian men in the company, and we lived our religion more than we talked it.

(5) When did you and my father separate, Doctor?

Your father and I separated in May 1865, on the east side of the Neches River. Here we met a disbanded cavalry company who took practically everything we had except one mule each. Each man took a mule and the rest were left in the road or turned over to the cavalry officers. I had my own horse and was allowed to keep it. Jim Waller, your father and I came on together toward Kaufman, but my horse got sick and I insisted that your father and Waller should go on. Your father got a very fine mule which had been a wheel mule in the six mule team. My horse was foundered and I was delayed for a short time.

(6) When did you meet my father again?

I met him off and on as long as he lived, most often at the meeting of Presbytery. I always considered him to be one of my very best friends.

(7) Have you any message, Doctor, which I may send to my brothers and sisters regarding my father?

I believe you know my disposition well enough to know that your father and I would naturally form a close friendship. He was the only man in the company that I could form a close friendship with. We had like sympathies. I always regarded him as one of my very best friends as long as he lived. He came to my house a number of times. My impressions always were that he was a religious man. I do not know whether he knew or not to what church I belonged, but we regarded each other as Christians. I was reared in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, but there was no Cumberland Presbyterian Church in the community where I lived just prior to the war so I united with the Methodist Church.

After the war closed Rev. Blevett organized a Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Scyene, Texas near Mesquite. This was in 1866 I think. I became a charter member and was made an elder in 1867 and have served as an elder ever since. This church later disbanded and the membership moved to Mesquite. There were three elders in the Scyene Church: Captain J. W. Tender, Martin Riggs (grandfather to Edwin Riggs) and myself.

(8) I forgot to ask you Doctor if you were in the fighting zone. Your father's regiment got it hard before I met him. They were in the fight at Mansfield and Pleasantfield. They were both bad.

(9) Did you have much sickness, Doctor?

Between Monroe and Minden four or five negroes died with pneumonia. It hurt me very much to lose these men. The captain saw that I was worried so he said "Don't worry, you have done the best you could." The third night out on our way to Houston the mules got sick but soon recovered. We were always uneasy for fear the disbanded cavalry would steal the stock. As a rule the officers had been standing guard, but about this time Captain Williams, Horne, your father and I stood guard at night. Lieut. Ferguson was a dangerous man. He had killed a man from Green's Regiment, and was a son of a Methodist Minister, and his name was Jim Ferguson. A man by the name of Austin died and Lieut. Reynolds asked me to conduct the funeral at Camden, Ark. I refused and so Reynolds conducted it himself although he did not claim to be a Christian.

Miss Laura Grace Hunter
Cleveland Ohio.
Dear Niece :

Was Gladly surprised to receive your letter of the 16th, Inst. I fully intended to answer it at once but numerous call have prevented.

Will give you what little I know of the Sneed family :
Some where in the latter part of the 18th, Century, my Great Grand father, William Sneed, came with his family ~~to~~ from Virginia and settled in Tennessee near the line of Williamson and Davidson Counties about two miles from where the town of Brentwood is located. He had a family of five boys who were reared and settled in that community or at least in that section. Most of them reared large families. Cannot give their given names. One of them was Constantine Perkins Sneed, your mother's ~~xxxxx~~ Grand father. The names of his children you will find in the copy of the family record. Another son was Rev. Joe Sneed who left Tenn. in an early day and moved to Talladega Alabama. From there her came to Texas and located in middle South Texas. He was a Methodist "Circuit Rider" and covered a very large territory. He received but little money for his services but was paid in live stock. He would accumulate a nice little bunch of horses and cattle and trade them for a Texas Soldiers land certificate. In his rounds he would locate a fine section of land and when he could purchase a certificate he would place it on that section of 640 acres. In that way he became the owner of much land that afterward became valuable.
He was the Grand father of the noted Beal Sneed of which you know.

Your Grand father was a Civil engineer . . . He joined a Company at Boulton, Tenn. but was changed to some other Engineering Co. His duty was to go before the Army and cut out roads and build bridges etc. In other words "He dared to lead where others ~~xx~~ dared to follow". However he was never in a regular pitched battle but was exposed to so much bad weather and had to make such strenuous trips that he incurred Rheumatism that carried him to a premature grave.
There is a legend attached to the Sneed family as follows .
During the Revolutionary war two brothers named Sneed came over in the British Army. In some battle in which the Americans were victorious but in the terms of surrender the soldiers were not to be taken as prisoners of war but if any of them desired to stay and become citizens of the United States they were permitted to do so, and the two Sneed brothers remained ; one spelling his name Sneed and the other Snead and from them sprang the Sneeds of America.

On a visit to Nashville last Summer Mary Ruth met up with Mary Jones, a daughter of uncle James Hardeman Sneed for whom I was named, who gave her considerable light on the relatives there. I will leave that for her to write and close promising that as I learn more I will write to you again.

Your loving uncle

Jerome.

J. H. Sneed

Excerpt from letter received from Mary Ruth Sneed, McKinney, Texas, Dec. 15, 1937:

"Mrs. Mary Jones, Papa's first cousin, lives at Brentwood, Tennessee, near the Sneed home. She is a member of D.A.R. at Columbia and it was through Thomas Hardeman's war record that she established eligibility. She is writing a history of the Sneed family for a book that is being written by various people there. She has possession of the Bible that belonged to our great grandfather. She also has her father's account of the fighting (Civil War) in that section. In fact, you can get a great deal of information from her, but you may have to make a trip to see her. She is very family conscious and prides her relics so much that I imagine you would have to go to them rather than have them sent to you.

For the first time I saw a Sneed Coat of Arms. Mary Jones, Cousin Mary's daughter about our age, had had it made and she said she could have a duplicate made for six dollars. The coloring is pretty and the design interesting. The name is spelled Sneyde and the design indicates courage and agrarian interests.

My suggestion is that you write to Cousin Mary before you go far into the Sneed history, for I'm sure she can save you much time and perhaps money."

Mrs. Jones is the daughter of James Hardeman Sneed.

Ancestors Services

My ancestors services in assisting in the establishment of American Independence during the War of the Revolution were as follows. He was a member of Capt. Beans Company which was engaged at Kings Mountain. Military Record - Vol. P. See Nat. No.114868 Vol. P. Desc. Thomas Hardeman of Va. and Tenn. D.A.R. Library.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) under the conditions (2). It is shown that the system (1) has a solution if and only if the conditions (2) are satisfied.

2. In the second part of the paper, the problem of the uniqueness of the solution of the system (1) is considered. It is shown that the system (1) has a unique solution if and only if the conditions (2) are satisfied.

3. In the third part of the paper, the problem of the stability of the solution of the system (1) is considered. It is shown that the system (1) has a stable solution if and only if the conditions (2) are satisfied.

4. In the fourth part of the paper, the problem of the asymptotic stability of the solution of the system (1) is considered. It is shown that the system (1) has an asymptotically stable solution if and only if the conditions (2) are satisfied.

5. In the fifth part of the paper, the problem of the boundedness of the solution of the system (1) is considered. It is shown that the system (1) has a bounded solution if and only if the conditions (2) are satisfied.

THE PERKINS FAMILY RECORD

Of

Mrs. Mary Adaline Sneed Jones,
Brentwood, Tenn.

The Perkins family are said, by history, to have been Russians, who went to Wales and later emigrated to Virginia, America. From the oft recurring names of Peter, Nicholas and Constantine in every generation, one can readily believe it; yet another Genealogist gives this elucidation of the name, as of French origin. "The Perkins family is known to have been in France prior to 1066. About the year 1550 Arthur Perkins married Elizabeth Kymbal, daughter of Nicolas Kymbal, of Bedfordshire, England. Constantine was a name in Christian usage in all countries of ancient times. Peter came from Pierre de Mosley, a Norman of Morlaix, France; through which the names "Pierre-kyn", "Per-kyn" "Par-kyn", "Peter-kyn" "Per-kins" meaning the "cadet" form, or near kin to Peter."

(1)
Nicholas Perkins of Bedfordshire, England, born 1624, married Mary Parker, daughter of Colonel Richard Parker of Virginia.

(2)
Their son, Nicholas Perkins born in Bermuda Hundred, Virginia, in 1640, married Sarah Childress.

Their son, Constantine, married Ann Pollard, daughter of Joseph Pollard. Constantine Perkins was of Goochland, Virginia.
(3)
Their son, Nicholas Perkins married Bethenia Harden, daughter of Thomas Harden, of Henrico County, Virginia; they were cousins. Thomas Harden's wife was Mary Gyles, written also Giles, daughter of Thomas Gyles.

Nicholas Perkins and wife, Bethenia Harden lived in Pittsylvania County, Virginia. "A General Continental Hospital was established in the home of Peter Perkins on the Dan River. So many wounded came pouring in that accommodations could not be made for all, so their nearby neighbors, William Harrison, Constantine and Nicholas Perkins received the overflow." Nicholas Perkins was Major Perkins of Pittsylvania County, Virginia. Served in the Indian and Colonial War, his home and that of his son, Constantine, were used as a hospital during the Revolutionary War. (Two sources of information). Nicholas Perkins was an early settler of this (Williamson, Tennessee) county. His cousin, Nicholas Pryor Perkins at one time was Chief Justice of Tennessee and law partner of John Bell. Colonel Nicholas Tate Perkins, born in North Carolina, lived in Virginia, but died in this county, August 18, 1843; was a Colonel of the First Regiment.

The children of Nicholas Perkins and Bethenia Harden, his wife, are:

1. Price Perkins who married Agnes Wilson.
2. Charles Perkins, born March 26, 1742, married Mary Tate.
3. Bethenia Perkins who married Harden Bostick.
4. Nicholas Perkins, born July 7, 1745, married Leah Pryor.
5. Constantino Perkins who married Agatha Marr.
6. Susannah Perkins, born 1750, married John Marr.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is equivalent to the problem of finding the minimum of a certain function. This function is then expressed in terms of the eigenvalues of a certain matrix. The matrix is then shown to be positive definite. This implies that the function has a unique minimum. The minimum is then found by solving a system of linear equations. The solution is then substituted back into the function to find the minimum value.
The minimum value is then shown to be the solution of the original problem. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed analysis of the problem. It is shown that the problem is equivalent to the problem of finding the minimum of a certain function. This function is then expressed in terms of the eigenvalues of a certain matrix. The matrix is then shown to be positive definite. This implies that the function has a unique minimum. The minimum is then found by solving a system of linear equations. The solution is then substituted
back into the function to find the minimum value.
The minimum value is then shown to be the solution of the original problem.

Miss Laura Grace Hunter,

My Dear Meies: The data about my mother's parents was taken from their tombstones at "Reveries Cemetery" about ten or twelve miles S W of Bullumbia Texas about a year ago.

My father's father, John Kerr data was also taken from his tombstone by my wife your Aunt Lena, two or three years ago.

So I am sure it is correct so far.

My father's mother was probably born in Manning, Williamson or Marshall County. I am inclined to think in the latter as I know some of the Kerrs lived at Knoxville in that County. Some twenty miles S E of Bullumbia. So far as I know no one of the Kerrs have been able to get any more information about grand mother Kerr than about what I have given you.

Brother John undertook a family tree but I don't think he found much about grandmother Kerr. After grand father died he came to Tex settling about 1865-60 and lived with family. It has the same name as the Kerrs of Tenn. & Va.

My dear Niece:

Your letter dated Oct. 25, 1938 should have been answered sooner. Since Brother Doak died nearly two years ago, I have almost quit writing letters. I am so nervous I have to write with pencil altogether.

I will try to answer some of your questions. The party from whom I got the information you returned to me was R. L. Kerr who married a first cousin of mine, a daughter of J.O. Kerr, my father's brother. They have all passed away now. I think they got the beginning of their work near Columbia, Maury Co., Tenn., where R. L. Kerr and a sister of his were born and reared. The sister I think married a merchant in Columbia. His name was Foster or Shepherd, I have forgotten which. I think they afterwards moved to Colorado. The merchandising in Columbia was probably 50 years ago. So I presume unless you were in that county and town it will be uphill work to trace them.

This folio you returned to me states that my father, Green Williamson Kerr was born in Maury County, Tennessee. The fact that my father's middle name is Williamson leads me to think he was born in Williamson County, Tennessee. Further, this leads me to think my father's grandfather, James Kerr who married Nancy Mitchell, the father of John of Fountain Creek in Maury County was buried in Williamson County, Tenn. If you ever are in Columbia, Tenn., you might get his birth and death dates. This folio states he was buried in the Old Brick church cemetery two or three miles southeast of Spring Hill, Tenn. The latter place is not far from Columbia, however; ten or 12 miles east or N.E.

The writer of the card from Selkirk, Scotland, is Glen Sneed McDaniel, son of Judge (Ohter?) McDaniel and wife Mary, Brother Doak's oldest daughter. Glen is now connected with a law firm at 320 East 72nd St., New York, and no doubt is over there looking after the business of the firm. I would like to write more but my eyes are troubling me some. Did I send you corrected birth and death dates of my father's family from my own records? The folder is badly mixed. I could give you a more correct one taken from my own record. If you would like to have it I will draw it off and send to you later.

Hoping to hear from you soon.

Very truly your uncle,

Will M. Kerr

Clerk of the Probate Court Marshall County
Lewisburg, Tennessee

Dear Sir:

In connection with a genealogical research, I am attempting to find some information concerning a Mary Orr who was born in Marshall County in 1795. Will you please tell me whether you have a record of such a person and, if so, what information is given about her? If there is a fee for this service, I shall be glad to pay it.

The only additional information I have about her is that in 1810 she was married to John Kerr. However, she may have moved to Maury County by that time.

I enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your reply.

Very truly yours,

Laura Grace Hunter

THE KERR FAMILY

The Kerr family back so far as at present is known, originated in Scotland. The family name at this present date, March 20th, 1936, has been traced back to the year 1350. However, this following work has only to do with James Kerr who emigrated to America from Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1734.

* * * * *

James Kerr, the subject of this work, was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1710, and in the year 1730 married - his wife's maiden name is not known to us. To this union was born one child, a daughter. She was named Elizabeth. The wife and mother died leaving this little baby girl of a few days old motherless. In the year 1733, the father, James Kerr, married his second wife. She was a widow and her maiden name was Rowen Spear, a daughter of John Spear, a native of Ireland. John Spear came to America and settled in Pennsylvania during the year 1734, and James Kerr, his wife and little daughter came to America along with them, and settled in Pennsylvania. After about 14 years, James Kerr and his family moved to North Carolina and located on what is known as the head of Eno River in Orange County. However, while in Pennsylvania there were born to James Kerr and Rowen Spear Kerr three sons and three daughters: James, William, and John, the three sons, all served under George Washington in the War for liberty and independence against England. William and John Kerr gave their lives for America's liberty in this war.

Elizabeth Kerr, the only daughter of James Kerr and his first wife, married Andrew Smith on the head of Eno River, Orange County, North Carolina. His oldest daughter by his second wife, Jane, married Eli Lindsay on the head of Eno River, Orange County, North Carolina. His next daughter, Ann, married James Clark, and his next and youngest daughter, Sarah, married Joseph Motherel. All four daughters were married at the head of Eno River, Orange County, North Carolina.

James Kerr of the second generation lived twelve years in Pennsylvania, where he was born, sixty-one years in North Carolina, and nine years near Spring Hill, Tennessee, where he died, being 82 years old at his death.

James Kerr of the second generation was born in Pennsylvania in 1734 and came with his father's family at the age of twelve and located on the head of Eno River, Orange County, North Carolina, this being in the year 1750. (?) In the year 1780, James Kerr married Miss Nancy Mitchell. To this union was born six sons and two daughters, all born on the head of Eno River, Orange County, North Carolina. All these sons and daughters raised large families. Their descendants are today in almost every state of the Union. These sons and daughters and the years of their birth are as follows:

William - 1782
John - 1784
Andrew - 1786
James - 1788

Samuel - 1790
David - 1792
Polly - 1794
Nancy - 1796

John Kerr of the third generation in America was born in Orange County, North Carolina, on the head of Eno River, in the year 1784. He went with his father's family in the year 1807 to the new country of Tennessee which was at that time a wilderness and cane brake. We will now herein chronicle a short description regarding this Kerr family's journey from their old home in North Carolina to their new home in the new country of Tennessee in Maury County, near where the town of Spring Hill is now located. This bit of our family history was related by John Whitfield Kerr of the fourth generation who was a son of John Kerr of the third generation.

"My father, John, often told this narrative relating to the Kerr family's journey through the wilderness to the thin, new country of Tennessee. I remember his saying, 'Our family made this journey in two wagons; these wagons were of the old time make of that day. They had wood axles, the wheels were about 6 feet high and they had what was called lynch pins to hold the wheels on. On this occasion there were six mules attached to each wagon. The wagon bodies were long, deep, extending far out behind and in front, sloping over the rear mules. They were of a canoso shape. These two wagon bodies were loaded to their capacity on this occasion. My father, John, had previously made the trip to the new country in the year 1805, he having gone there with his brother, William, who had married Kate Ross and were going to Tennessee to locate. My father went to Tennessee with them and remained there nearly two years, then came home, and in the year 1807, assisted his father and the rest of the family to load their all on these two wagons and start on their journey to the new home in Tennessee. None of the six boys and two daughters were at this time married except William who, as stated, had located in Tennessee two years previous in the year 1805.'

"In my father's narrative to his family gathered around our fire-side, he said, 'I considered myself to be in those days something of an export mule team driver; which many young men of old North Carolina in my boyhood days took much honest pride in claiming. On this memorable journey it fell to my lot to drive the team leading the way. On this journey we had many perils, privations, and hardships, and yet at the same time we had pleasures and enjoyments which will be long remembered by us all. There were wild animals in plenty, as also the no less dangerous red men in the forests ever lurking near, waiting a favorable chance to scalp and slay. The roads were bad where there were any, and often there were no roads, and roads had to be cut through the forests."

We will give only one incident relating to the journey, as narrated by Uncle John Whitfield Kerr who died at Celina, Collin County, Texas, on Feb. 28th, 1925 at the age of 90 years, 8 months, and 26 days. Uncle Whit's quotation from his father, John Kerr, is as follows:

"My father, John, drove one of the teams on this journey and a negro man drove the other; my father always led the way. They had on a certain day just as the sun was nearly down, come to a river, its waters were much swollen from recent rains far up to its source. When they came to it there were steep banks. They thought they had found a place that they could safely risk crossing and all things being ready started to drive in when the negro man driver began to get nervous and shaky and called out to my father, "Mars John, we can't cross dat ribber, she sho wash us all off de face ob de arth." Father goes back to him and said, "See here, we got to cross this river and cross it now. The sun is nearly down and there is no place on this side to camp and there is

Don't you let them turn down the stream." "Yas, Mars John." They crossed this river as well as many other streams without any mishap.

In fact, the whole journey was made without any serious trouble or damage. They didn't have a pillar of Cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night or the ancient Moses to interpret, direct, and encourage them, but they undoubtedly did have a youthful leader and guide through this wilderness to their new home, and we dare say that the eye of the One who doeth all things well was watching over this family journeying through their wanderings just as He watched over the ancient twelve tribes of Israel in their journey through life."

James Kerr of the first generation, born in Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1710, came to Pennsylvania in 1734 and went to North Carolina in the year 1750. He and his wife, Rowen, who was a widow, both died on the head of Eno River, Orange County, North Carolina, and were buried at that place. The dates of their deaths are not known.

* * * * *

James Kerr of the second generation, born in America (Pennsylvania) in the year 1734. He married Nancy Mitchell in North Carolina in the year 1780 and died in Maury County, Tennessee, in the year 1816, and was buried in the old brick Church cemetery located about two or three miles southeast of Spring Hill and lying between the old homes of his sons, David and John, on Fountain Creek, northeast of Columbia, Tennessee. His wife Nancy Mitchell Kerr died on the _____ day of _____, _____ yr., near Spring Hill, Tennessee. She was buried beside her husband.

John Kerr of the third generation was born on the head of Eno River, Orange County, North Carolina, in the year 1784. He moved with his father's family to Maury County, Tennessee, in the year 1807. About the year 1810 he was married to Miss Mary Orr in Maury County, Tennessee. They were the parents of the following children:

Greene Williamson
James Orr
Samuel
Malinda Katherine

Nancy Jane
William Brown
Mitchell
John Whitfield

(There were two other children which we have no date of)

After his marriage, John Kerr lived in his home which was located on Fountain Creek, near Columbia, Maury County, Tennessee, and there all his children were born and most of them grew to manhood and womanhood in the old home, married and raised families. (Some of them, we do not know the number, died before reaching maturity.) John Kerr was a prominent citizen in his County and in church affairs; was a leading elder in the Presbyterian faith. He died in his home in the Fountain Creek community in August 1865. He was buried near his home. Soon after his death, his widow, Mary Orr Kerr, accompanied by Marshall Kerr, came to Texas to spend the remainder of her life with her sons. G.W. and J.O. Kerr had come to Texas in 1859 and 1860, respectively. J. W. Kerr located in Texas several years later than his brothers, G.W. and J.O.

Mary Orr Kerr died June 9, 1881, in peace at the residence of her son J. W. Kerr, Collin County, Texas, age 86 years and 4 months. She was the widow of the late John Kerr of Maury County, Tennessee. Her maiden name was Orr. She made a profession of religion in early life and united with the Presbyterian Church, and lived an honored member until death. In her character were blended the graces and virtues that constitute the true christian woman. As such she was faithful in all the relations of life. She was the mother of twelve children, five of whom (four sons and one daughter) survive her. She lived to see her children's children to the third and fourth generation. She bore her last illness with Christian fortitude, relying upon that Savior whom she had served so long. The "earthly tabernacle" was consigned to its last resting place in the cemetery in hope of the resurrection and eternal life, and while there are aching voids and sorrows in the hearts of the bereaved upon the earth, there is joy and gladness among the redeemed of heaven, as they welcome Mother Kerr to the paradise of God. This obituary was written by Rev. W. P. Cloyd, McKinney, Texas. Mary Orr Kerr was buried in the Scott Cemetery seven miles northwest of McKinney, Collin County, Texas.

Greene Williamson Kerr of the fourth generation, first born of John of the third generation, was born in Maury County, Tennessee, in the Fountain Creek Community near Columbia, Tennessee. He was born on the 14th day of November, 1811. Miss Maria Eliza Henderson was born on December 19th, 1812, in Maury County, Tennessee. They were married on June 8, 1835, in Maury County, Tennessee. mercial Nursery Company of which he was president and manager until 1906 when the company was consolidated with the Texas Nursery Company, the new company taking over the name of the Texas Nursery Company. He assumed the management of the new company as active vice-president. He continued at the head of the corporation until 1920 when he withdrew from active work in the Texas Nursery Company and established the John S. Kerr Company, with which he was actively connected as president and general manager at the time of his death. John S. Kerr was most active in looking after the exhibits of the horticultural products of the southwest at the World's Fair in St. Louis in 1903, and was awarded two medals for his display and appreciation of his services. Kerr's Addition located in the northern part of Sherman was the site of the old Commercial Nursery and Orchards Company. It was brought into the city when that company was discontinued. He was one of the founders and a trustee of the Presbyterian home and school at Itasca, Hill County, Texas. He was a life long member of the Southern Presbyterian Church, and has been an elder in the First Presbyterian Church at McKinney and Sherman for forty four years. John S. Kerr died at his home in Sherman on Sunday, Sept. 27, 1925. His burial took place Monday afternoon in Sherman. John S. Kerr planned and planted San Jacinto Park, destined to be one of the show places as well as one of the recreational points in Texas. In the year 1900, each school child in Sherman was given a tree from the Nursery under John S. Kerr's directions if he would plant it before his home. The many trees which line the streets of Sherman today, Sept. 27, 1925, stand as a perpetual monument to his memory.

THE KERR FAMILY.

INTRODUCTION.

The Kerr family back so far as at present is known originated in Scotland, now a part of Europe. The family name at this present date March 20th, 1933, has been traced back to the year 1350, however, this following work has only to do with James Kerr, who emigrated to America from Glasgow, Scotland in the year 1734.

James Kerr, the subject of this work, was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1710, and in the year 1730 married - his wife's maiden name is not known to us - to this union was born one child, a daughter, she was named Elizabeth, the wife and mother died leaving this little baby girl of a few days old motherless. In the year 1733, the Father, James Kerr, married his second wife. She was a widow and her maiden name was Rowen Spear, a daughter of John Spear, a native of Ireland. John Spear came to America and settled in Pennsylvania during the year 1734, and James Kerr, his son and daughter came to America along with them, and settled in Pennsylvania. After about 10 years James Kerr and his family moved to North Carolina and located in what is known as the head of Ano River in Orange County, however while in Pennsylvania there were born to James Kerr and Rowen Spear Kerr three sons and three daughters, James Kerr, William Kerr, John Kerr, the three sons, all served under General Washington in the war for liberty and independence against the British. James Kerr, William Kerr, and John Kerr, all lived for

Linsey on the head of the river, Orange County, North Carolina; his next daughter, Ann, married James Clark on the head of Ano River, Orange County, North Carolina, his next and youngest daughter, Sarah, married Joseph Motherel, on the head of the river, Orange County, North Carolina.

James Kerr of the Second generation lived twelve years in Pennsylvania, where he was born, sixty one years in North Carolina, and nine years near Spring Hill, Tennessee, where he died, being 82 years old at his death.

James Kerr of the Second generation was born in Pennsylvania, in 1734, and he came with his father's family at the age of twelve and located on the head of Eno River, North Carolina, this being in the year 1730. In the year 1730, James Kerr, married Miss Nancy Mitchell, to this union was born six sons and two daughters, all born on the head of Eno River, Orange County, North Carolina, all these sons and daughters raised large families, their descendants are today in almost every state of the union. The sons and daughters of James Kerr and Nancy Mitchell

William Kerr, born in year 1732, on head of Eno River, Orange Co. N.C.
 John Kerr, born in year 1734, on head of Eno River, Orange Co. N.C.
 Andrew Kerr, born in year 1736, on head of Eno River, Orange Co. N.C.
 James Kerr, born in year 1738, on head of Eno River, Orange Co. N.C.
 Samuel Kerr, born in year 1790, on head of Eno River, Orange Co. N.C.
 David Kerr born in year 1792 on head of Eno River, Orange Co. N.C.
 Polly Kerr, born in year 1794, on head of Eno River, Orange Co. N.C.
 Nancy Kerr, born in year 1796 on head of Eno River, Orange Co. N.C.

John Kerr of the third generation in America was born in Orange County, North Carolina, on the head of Eno River, in the year 1784, He went with his father's family in the year 1807 to the new County of Tennessee which was at that time a wilderness and cane brake, we will now herein chronical a short description regarding this Kerr family's journey from their old home on Eno River, Orange County, N.C. to their new home in the new country of Tenn. in Maury County, near where the town of Spring Hill now is located. This bit of family history was related by John Whitfield Kerr of the fourth generation, who was a son of John Kerr of the third generation, who was the son of James of the Second generation, and he was the son of James of the first generation in America.

My father, John, often told this narrative relating the Kerr families journey from the wilderness to the thin, new country of Tennessee, I remember him saying, 'Our Family made this journey in two wagons, these wagons were of the old time make of that day, they had wood sholes, the sholes were about 6 ft. high and they had what was called lynch pins to hold the wheels on. On this occasion there were six mules attached to each wagon. The wagon bodies were long, deep, extending far out behind and in front, sloping over the rear mules. They were of a cane shape, and these two wagon bodies were loaded to their capacity on this occasion, my father, John, had previously made the trip to the new country in the year 1805, he having gone there with his brother, William, who had married Kate Kerr and were going to Tennessee to locate, my father went to Tennessee with them and remained there nearly two years, then came home, and in the year 1807, assisted his father and the rest of the family to load their all on these two wagons and start on their journey to the new home in Tennessee, none of the six boys and two daughters were at this time married except William, who as stated had located in Tennessee two years previous in the year 1805."

In my Father's narrative to his family gathered around our fire side he said "I considered myself to be in those days something of an expert mule team driver; which many young men of old North Carolina in my boyhood days took much honest pride in claiming. On this memorable journey it fell to my lot to drive the team leading the way. On this journey we had many perils, privations, and hardships, and yet at the same time we had pleasures and enjoyments which will be long remembered by us all. There were wild animals in plenty, as also the no less dangerous red men in the forests ever lurking near waiting a favorable chance to scalp and slay. The roads were bad where there were any, and often there were no roads, and roads had to be cut through the forests." We will only give one incident relating to the journey, as narrated by uncle John Whitfield Kerr, who died at Celina, Collin County, Texas, on February 28th, 1925 at the age of 90 years, 8 months and 26 days. Uncle Whits quotation from his Father, John Kerr is as follows:

"My Father, John drove one of the teams on this journey and a negro man drove the other; my Father always led the way. They had on a certain day just as the sun was nearly down, come to a river, its waters were much swollen from recent rains far up to its source, when they came to it there were steep banks, they thought they had found a place that they could safely risk crossing and all things being ready started to drive in, when the negro man driver began to get nervous and shaky, and called out to my Father, "Mars, John, we can't do dat ribber, she sho wash us all off de face on de arth." Father said back to him and said, "See here, we got to cross this river and pass on, now, the sun is nearly down and there is no place on this side to camp, and there is a good camping place on the other side. Now listen, see that whip in your hand?" "Yas Sir", said he, when my team gets well away from the bank they you drive in, keep your mules heads turned angling up the stream and you lay that whip on the leaders, good and hard, don't you let them turn down the stream. "Yas, Mars, John." They crossed this river as well as many other streams without any mishap. In fact the whole journey was made without any serious trouble or danger. They didn't have a pillar of cloud, and pillar of fire by day and by night or the angelic voices to interpret, direct and encourage them but they undoubtedly did have a youthful leader and guide through this wilderness to their new home, and we dare say that the eye of the One who doeth all things well was watching over this family journeying through their wanderings just as he watched over the ancient twelve tribes of Israel in their journey through life.

James Kerr of the first deg. gen. born in Glasgow, Scotland in the year 1710, came to Pennsylvania in 1734 and went to North Carolina in the year 1750. He and his wife, who was a widow, Roen, both died on the head of Eno River, Orange County, North Carolina, and were buried at that place, the date of their deaths is not known.

His wife Nancy Mitchell Kerr died on the day 13 yr, near Spring Hill, Tennessee, she was buried beside her husband.

She was the mother of twelve children, five of whom (4 sons and 1 daughter) survive her. She lived to see her children's children to the third and fourth generation. She bore her last illness with Christian fortitude, relying upon that Savior whom she had served so long. The "earthly tabernacle" was consigned to its last resting place in the cemetery in hope of the resurrection and eternal life, and while there are aching voids and sorrows in the hearts of the bereaved upon the earth, there is joy and gladness among the redeemed of heaven, as they welcome Mother Kerr to the paradise of God. This obituary was written by Rev. W.P. Cloyd, McKinney, Texas. - Mary Orr Kerr was buried in the Scott Cemetery seven miles North West of McKinney, Collin County, Texas.

BERG, Elizabeth (9). From records and memoirs on file in the archives of the Moravian Church at Winston Salem, N.C., which have been translated from the German by W. M. Creasy, comes my only information on Elizabeth Berg. (See Fry History). This states that Peter Binckele was born March 2, 1704, in the village of Guckensberg in Centon Bern in Switzerland. His parents were Christian Binckele and Elizabeth, maiden name Berg. In his thirteenth year (1717) his mother moved into Alsace. The following year he went to live with his brother; later came to America. No further mention is made of Elizabeth Berg.
